The In-Between World of Vikram Lall M.G. Vassanji, 2009-02-24 Giller Prize winner M G Vassanji's The In Between World of Vikram Lall is a haunting novel of corruption and regret that brings to life the complexity and turbulence of Kenyan society in the last five decades Rich in sensuous detail and historical insight this is a powerful story of passionate betrayals and political violence racial tension and the strictures of tradition told in elegant assured prose The novel begins in 1953 with eight year old Vikram Lall a witness to the celebrations around the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II just as the Mau Mau guerilla war for independence from Britain begins to gain strength In a land torn apart by idealism doubt political upheaval and terrible acts of violence Vic and his sister Deepa must find their place among a new generation Neither colonists nor African neither white nor black the Indian brother and sister find themselves somewhere in between in their band of playmates Bill and Annie British children and Njoroge an African boy These are the relationships that will shape the rest of their lives We follow Vikram through the changes in East African society the immense promise of the fifties and sixties But when that hope is betrayed by the corruption and violence of the following decades Vic is drawn into the Kenyatta government's orbit of graft and power broking Njoroge his childhood friend can abandon neither the idealism of his youth nor his love for Vic's sister Deepa But neither the idealism of the one nor the passive cynicism of the other can avert the tragedies that await them The In Between World of Vikram Lall is a profound and careful examination of one man's search for his place in the world with themes that have run through Vassanji's work the nature of community in a volatile society the relations between colony and colonizer and the inescapable presence of the past It is also finally a deeply personal book speaking to the people who are in the in between

A Corresponding Renaissance Lisa Kaborycha, 2016 Women's vibrant presence in the Italian Renaissance has long been overlooked with attention focused mainly on the artistic and intellectual achievements of their male counterparts During this period however Italian women excelled especially as writers and nowhere were they more expressive than in their letters In A Corresponding Renaissance Letters Written by Italian Women 1375-1650 Lisa Kaborycha considers the lives and cultural contributions revealed by these women in their own words through their correspondence By turns highly personal didactic or devotional these letters expose the daily realities of women's lives and their feelings ideas and reactions to the complex world in which they lived Through their letters women emerge not merely as bystanders but as true cultural protagonists in the Italian Renaissance A Corresponding Renaissance is divided into eight thematic chapters featuring fifty-five letters that are newly translated into English many for the first time ever Each of the letters is annotated and includes a brief biographical introduction and bibliographic references The women come from all walks of life saints poets courtesans and countesses and from every geographic area of Italy chronologically they span the entire Renaissance with the majority representing the sixteenth century Approximately one third of the selections are well known letters such as those of Catherine of Siena Veronica Franco and Isabella d'Este the rest are lesser known previously untranslated or otherwise inaccessible
