German Cinema and National History Mary-Elizabeth O'Brien, 2014 German history films that focus on utopianism and political dissent and their effect on German identity since 1989 Since unification a radical shift has taken place in Germans view of their country s immediate past with 1989 replacing 1945 as the primary caesura The cold war division the failed socialist state the 68 student movement and the Red Army Faction historical flashpoints involving political oppression civil disobedience and the longing for utopian solutions to social injustice have come to be seen as decisive moments in a collective history that unites East and West even as it divides them Telling stories about a shared past establishing foundational myths and finding commonalities of experience are pivotal steps in the construction of national identity Such nation building is always incomplete but the cinema provides an important forum in which notions of German history and national identity can be consumed negotiated and contested This book looks at history films made since 1989 exploring how utopianism and political dissent have shaped German identity It studies the genre including popular successes critical successes and perceived failures as a set of texts and a discursive network gauging which conventions and storylines are resilient At issue is the overriding question to what extent do these films contribute to a narrative that legitimizes the German nation state Mary Elizabeth O'Brien is Professor of German and The Courtney and Steven Ross Chair in Interdisciplinary Studies at Skidmore College You'll Be Fine Jen Michalski, 2021-08-02 After her mother dies of an accidental overdose Alex takes leave from her job as a writer for a Washington DC lifestyle magazine to return home to Maryland s Eastern Shore There she joins her brother Owen a study in failure to launch in sorting out their mother s whimsical and often self destructive life Alex has proposed to her editor that while she is home she profile Juliette Sprigg her former high school fling owner of a wildly popular local restaurant and celebrity chef in the making While working on the story and trying for a second chance with Juliette Alex meets Carolyn Massey editor of the town newspaper and wonders if there s more to life than reheating leftovers Enter Alex and Owen s Aunt Johanna who arrives from Seattle to help with arrangements When Johanna reveals a family secret Alex may have to accept her family for who they are rather than who she hoped they would be And just maybe apply the same philosophy to her heart and herself Emotions Susie Martin Bowie, 2013-07-12 Emotions was written by a mother who was compelled to write by the unexpected death of her son She tried that morning to bring him back but it was too late Joey had such a presence in the lives of all who knew him that she wanted to give back to them through the compilation of preserved memories shared with her by his family and friends She shared these memories through poetry and short stories bringing laughter and tears love and grief dreams and aspirations and together these feelings the book Emotions was born Souls of Pier 35 Rajah E. Smart,2014-05-01 When perplexed or depressed there is a place where human beings go to escape Many have chosen to escape to the infamous Pier 35 or what is commonly known as death row The pier is used by storytellers as a symbol of sadness depression fear bad omens and often associated with the resting place for souls of the desolate heartbroken and fool hearty thrill seekers Those who believe in the legend stay far away or venture there to join those who are known as the Souls of Pier 35 Its the Fall of 2014 in Seattle Washington a middle aged man sits on the edge of the aged Pier 35 staring at a small branch floating in the Puget Sound Hes there to take in the beauty of it all while waiting for the right moment to take his life The mans life is turned upside down when the loss and pain of a loved one finally sends him into despair The journey of this character is similar to Janies journey from Their Eyes were Watching God by Zora Neale Hurston with similarities to The Runaways by V C Andrews A Kid Like Jake Daniel Pearle,2014-08-25 On the eve of the admissions cycle for Manhattan s most exclusive private schools Alex and Greg have high hopes for their son Jake a precocious four year old who happens to prefer Cinderella to G I Joe But as the process continues Jake s behavior becomes erratic and perplexing and other adults in his life start to wonder whether his fondness for dress up might be cause for concern The story of a husband and wife struggling to do right by their son A KID LIKE JAKE is a study of intimacy and parenthood and the fantasies that accompany both Fate and Freedom in the Novels of David Adams Richards Sara MacDonald,Barry Craig,2017-05-04 This book explores the understanding of freedom developed in the later novels of celebrated Canadian author David Adams Richards Many reviewers highlight two interconnected features in Richards novels a seemingly rigid determinism of setting and sociodemographics and a resulting hopelessness In contrast Richards describes the quest of human life and the purpose of his novels as a search for freedom This book explores the account of freedom that is developed through the course of four of Richards s works The Friends of Meager Fortune Mercy Among the Children The Lost Highway and Crimes Against My Brother Following the Augustinian thread that informs Richards s writing we argue that rather than presenting an understanding of human life that is bleak or hopeless Richards instead reveals an argument wherein one s happiness and freedom is found in the midst of love The British Film Industry in the 1970s S. Barber,2013-01-22 Is there more to 1970s British cinema than sex horror and James Bond This lively account argues that this is definitely the case and explores the cultural landscape of this much maligned decade to uncover hidden gems and to explode many of the well established myths about 1970s British film and cinema
