

- Alexander Pope The Rape of the Lock
  - Alexander Pope
    - Pope is a Catholic, and because of this he is not allowed to attend university.
    - He is one of the first writers to make a living solely from writing and publishing.
  - The Rape of the Lock
    - The ironic satire conflates the practical joke of a man cutting off a lock of Belinda's hair with the serious crime of sexual assault.
    - Heroic couplet: Iambic pentameter in rhymed pairs. Most favored verse form of the 18th century. Helps create a sense of difference in magnitude.
      - what dire offence from am'rous causes springs, what mighty contests rise from trivial things...
    - Pope tries to make the idea of consumerism a bad thing by contrasting the order-less of Belinda's commodities which is demonstrated by the Empire being what dresses Belinda's beauty instead of her natural wit.
  - Keywords
    - Zeugma
      - A single word that governs or modifies two or more words in different ways to create surprise or humor.
      - Ex. he lost his coat and his temper, she broke her car and her heart
    - Commodity fetish
      - refers to the mystification of commodities in a capitalist system, where the value of a product is seen as inherent to the object itself rather than reflecting the labor and social relations involved in its production
      - Helps to add satire and ridiculousness to an epic poem.
    - Public sphere - Coffee House
      - A place where people of all classes can identify social issues in order to debate them, and thereby influence political events. The concept was invented by Jürgen Habermas, who placed its origins in the 18th century – Pope's century.
