Alfred North Whitehead Essays On His Phi:

The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought. The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism/atheism. It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry, its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience, its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life, and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people. Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E. Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Horace Bushnell, Henry Ward Beecher, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Charles Briggs. Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions, its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom. Reenchantment without Supernaturalism David Ray Griffin, 2018-08-06 The process philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne has made many distinctive contributions to the philosophy of religion. David Ray Griffin now offers the first full scale philosophy of religion written from this perspective, discussing such topics as the relationship between science and religion, the validity of religious experience, the nature and existence of God, religious pluralism, creation and evolution, and the problem of evil. Griffin's clear and comprehensive book also serves as a valuable introduction to process philosophy itself. In his vigorous defense of a worldview that is fully naturalistic and fully religious, Griffin shows not only how this position reconciles naturalism with freedom, genuine religious experience, and even life after death, but also how its naturalistic theism reenchants the world in the sense of providing cosmic support for moral values. Highly original and sometimes controversial, Griffin's book develops its stance in conversation with influential proponents of other philosophical positions, including William P. Alston, Jürgen Habermas, John Hick, Colin McGinn, Alvin Plantinga, Hilary Putnam, Willard Quine, Ninian Smart, Jeffrey Stout, and Bernard Williams. The Algebra of Metaphysics Ronny Desmet, Michel Weber, 2010-06 Drawing upon the major Harvard works Science and the Modern World (1925), Process and Reality (1929), and Adventures of Ideas (1933), the essays gathered here on the occasion of the creation of the Applied Process Metaphysics Series. Alfred North Whitehead George Louis Kline, 1989 This volume's aim is to clarify, criticize, and theoretically develop some of Whitehead's major philosophic ideas and insights. Eighteen distinguished contributors follow Whitehead in his unique attempt to integrate the often disparate concerns of science, including mathematics and mathematical logic, art, religion, social life, and common sense. They manage to avoid the twin pitfalls of uncritical acceptance and impatient rejection of Whitehead's thought. They delineate Whitehead's indebtedness to, and divergence from, the philosophic traditions of Plato, Leibniz, Hume, Hegel, Bergson, and others. Some of the distinguished philosophers contributing to this volume are Charles Hartshorne, William Ernest Hocking, Richard M. Rorty, Gregory Vlastos, William A. Christian Sr., Nathaniel Lawrence, Ivor Leclerc, Victor Lowe, Robert M. Palter, and Donald W.

Sherburne Originally published in 1963 by Prentice Hall this edition contains a new preface by the editor The Ethics of Creativity Brian G. Henning, 2011-12-09 Foreword by Daniel A Dombrowski A central concern of nearly every environmental ethic is its desire to extend the scope of direct moral concern beyond human beings to plants nonhuman animals and the systems of which they are a part Although nearly all environmental philosophies have long since rejected modernity's conception of individuals as isolated and independent substances few have replaced this worldview with an alternative that is adequate to the organic processive world in which we find ourselves In this context Brian G Henning argues that the often overlooked work of Alfred North Whitehead has the potential to make a significant contribution to environmental ethics Additionally inspired by classical American philosophers such as William James John Dewey and Charles Sanders Pierce and environmental philosophers such as Aldo Leopold Peter Singer Albert Schweitzer and Arne Naess Henning develops an ethical theory of which the seminal insight is called The Ethics of Creativity By systematically examining and developing a conception of individuality that is equally at home with the microscopic world of subatomic events and the macroscopic world of ecosystems The Ethics of Creativity correctly emphasizes the well being of wholes while not losing sight of the importance of the unique centers of value that constitute these wholes In this way The Ethics of Creativity has the potential to be a unique voice in contemporary moral philosophy Alfred North Whitehead. Essays on His Philosophy. Edited and with an Introduction by George L. Kline. [By Various Authors.].
