critical examination of intellectual property theory and practice focused on China's compliance with the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS). The author's critical review of contemporary intellectual property philosophy suggests that justifying intellectual property protection through Locke or Hegel's property theories internalizes a theoretical paradox. Professor Wenwei Guan's treatment of intellectual property law and practice in the PRC offers new perspectives that enrich an already active field of study. This book will be a useful contribution to academic and policy discourses examining conceptual and operational dimensions of China's intellectual property protection system and the broader process of China's international engagement. Dr. Pitman B. Potter, Professor of Law, University of British Columbia, Canada. Dr. Guan reminds us of the daunting challenge of the public-private divide in forming and reforming the TRIPS regime, how this regime has failed to address development needs and public concerns in developing countries like China, and how TRIPS's birth defect can be overcome and its evolution can be put back on the right track. Dr. Yahong Li, Associate Professor at Faculty of Law, Hong Kong University.

Pacifism's Appeal Jorg Kustermans, Tom Sauer, Dominiek Lootens, Barbara Segaert, 2019-03-13. This volume examines the possibility or need of a revitalization of pacifism as a world political practice. It takes as its point of departure the observation that although just war thinking has long been dominant in Western debates about war and peace, recent events have served to temper enthusiasm about the doctrine. Pacifism has been much less prominent a stance in recent decades, but there is the impression that it may be staging a return. Just war thinking has to a large extent failed. Outright bellicism remains as undesirable as ever. Pacifism presents itself again as a possible alternative. Once upon a time the peace movement was popular and pacifism with it. Pacifism appealed to people. It stirred hearts and minds. It inspired political action and institutional designs. This volume examines whether pacifism can claim its ground again and how it should be redefined in light of today's world political circumstances.

Marx's Ethics of Freedom George G Brenkert, 2013-10-17. This book reveals Marx's moral philosophy and analyzes its nature. The author shows that there is an underlying system of ethics which runs the length and breadth of Marx's thought. The book begins by discussing the methodological side of Marx's ethics, showing how Marx's criticism of conventional morality and his views on historical materialism, determinism, and ideology are compatible with having an ideological system of his own. In the light of contemporary social, moral, and political philosophy, the insights and defects of Marx's major ethical themes are discussed.

Parental Alienation and Family Reunification Pearl S. Berman, Ethan M. Weisinger, 2024-02-01. This book on parental alienation and family reunification provides family court professionals with critical background in child development, dynamics present in violent families, and how to evaluate the testimony of experts to ensure it values children's views, best interests of the children, and follows evidence-based practice. As laid out in the Child Welfare Information Gateway report 2020, family court judges should make decisions per the best interests of the child standard. High-conflict custody cases make this complicated, especially when reunification services are requested. In the middle of contentious proceedings, judges oftentimes receive conflicting information from parents Judges and family law professionals can be lead astray relying on unproven constructs and instruments not meeting the criteria of reliability and validity Mandating victimized children into reunification programs that are neither evidence based nor trauma informed can cause further harm to the children This book will be of interest to those working in the family courts particularly expert witnesses clinical psychologists therapists children s services workers including social workers child protection court workers mental health professionals involved in child custody decisions and researchers with an interest in parental alienation The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Journal of Family Trauma Child Custody Child Development      Alienation and Violence in the North American Community Alex J. ed Murray,1972
