Seafood Sustainability - Series I Naresh C. Pradhan,Junning Cai,Stephen M. Stohs,2020-11-06 This special edition Seafood Sustainability Series I includes two articles on seafood consumption four on sustainable capture fisheries and four on sustainable aquaculture The articles on consumption explore an alternative perspective on sustainable seafood movement governance to consumer or retail brand driven logic and analyze fish tissues for human consumption to detect contaminants like flame retardant chemicals hazardous to human health sourced from microplastic pollutants Articles on capture fisheries include A study of harvest strategies to achieve ecological economic and social sustainability objectives An examination of the economic leverages and resources needed to sustain coastal artisanal fishing communities in Africa A review of sustainability planning efforts to combat fishing community threats like declining participation aging infrastructure and fleets gentrification reduced resource access market competition and environmental stresses An analysis of responsible fish consumption through a life promoting sustainable food system for school age children Three of the articles on aquaculture focus on studying consumer preferences related to sustainable aquaculture based on the estimation of how the attributes of aquaculture products including product labeling and perception affect consumers purchase decisions The other article questions the widely held assumption of sustainable substitutability of plant protein sources e g soymeal for fishmeal in aquaculture production

Consumption and Its Consequences Daniel Miller,2013-04-18 This is a book for those looking for different answers to some of today s most fundamental questions What is a consumer society Does being a consumer make us less authentic or more materialistic How and why do we shop How should we understand the economy Is our seemingly insatiable desire for goods destroying the planet Can we reconcile curbs on consumption with goals such as reducing poverty and social inequality Miller responds to these questions by proposing feasible and where possible currently available alternatives drawn mainly from his own original ethnographic research Here you will find shopping analysed as a technology of love clothing that sidesteps politics in tackling issues of immigration There is an alternative theory of value that does not assume the economy is intelligent scientific moral or immoral We see Coca Cola as an example of localization not globalization We learn why the response to climate change will work only when we reverse our assumptions about the impact of consumption on citizens Given the evidence that consumption is now central to the way we create and maintain our core values and relationships the conclusions differ dramatically from conventional and accepted views as to its consequences for humanity and the planet Human Rights and Capitalism Janet Dine,A. Fagan,2006-01-01 Human Rights and Capitalism brings together two important facets of the globalization debate and examines the complex relationship between human rights property rights and capitalist economies Human rights issues have become increasingly important in this debate and their place as harbingers of justice or as an instrument of oppression is fiercely contended Both sides of this issue are considered in the contributions to this book and the complex relationships between human rights human dignity and capitalist economies are the themes running throughout the work Appearing at a time when these issues are a subject of extreme controversy this book is distinguished by its balanced and academic approach
