Alien Zone Cultural Theory And Contemporary Science Fiction Cinema:

Alien Zone Annette Kuhn, 1990 This is especially true of the science fiction film a genre as old as cinema itself which has rarely received the serious attention devoted to such genres as the western the film noir and recently under the aegis of feminist film theory the so called woman s film Alien Zone aims to bring science fiction cinema fully into the ambit of cultural theory in general and of film theory in particular The essays in this book some newly written others gathered from scattered sources look at the ways in which contemporary science fiction films draw on rework and transform established themes and conventions of the genre the mise en scene of future worlds the myth of masculine mastery of nature power and authority and their relation to technology This material is ordered and contextualized by the editor with a view to exploring how science fiction cinema has been approached critically and theoretically by commentators on the genre as a mirror of society as bearing or producing ideology as caught up in an intertext of media productions or as expressing unconscious desires Contributors include Giuliana Bruno Scott Bukatman Thomas B Byers Barbara Creed Anne Cranny Francis Daniel Dervin H Bruce Franklin James H Kavanagh Douglas Kelner Steve Neale Judith Newton Constance Penley Hugh Ruppersberg Michael Ryan Vivian Sobchack Michael Stern J P Telotte and Paul Virilio Alien Zone II Annette Kuhn, 1999-12-17 Alien Zone II presents some of the exciting new voices in the current debates It continues to pursue the critical and theoretical issues opened up in the earlier book and energetically explores fresh territory Alien Zone Annette Kuhn, 1990 Alien zone Annette Kuhn, Alien Zone Annette Kuhn, 1990-05-17 A collection of essays bringing science fiction cinema into the ambit of film and cultural theory Science Fiction Cinema Geoff King, Tanya Krzywinska, 2000 This book charts the dimensions of one of the most popular genres in the cinema From lurid comic book blockbusters to dark dystopian visions science fiction is seen as both a powerful cultural barometer of our times and the product of particular industrial and commercial frameworks The authors outline the major themes of the genre from representations of the mad scientist and computer hacker to the relationship between science fiction and postmodernism exploring issues such as the meaning of special effects and the influence of science fiction cinema on the entertainment media of the digital age Over one hundred films are discussed and the book concludes with an extensive case study of Star Wars I The Phantom Menace Cyborg Cinema and Contemporary Subjectivity S. Short, 2004-11-10 This book breaks new ground in providing an in depth critical assessment of cyborg cinema arguing that it remains one of the most intriguing and provocative cycles to have emerged in contemporary screen culture Tracing the cinematic cyborg s transition over the last two decades and evaluating the theoretical significance attributed to this figure it asks what relevance the cyborg continues to have in terms of understanding human identity our relationship to technology and to one another British Science Fiction Cinema I.Q. Hunter, 2002-01-04 British Science Fiction Cinema is the first substantial study of a genre which despite a sometimes troubled history has produced some of the best British films from the prewar classic Things to Come to Alien made in Britain by a British director The contributors to this rich and provocative collection explore the diverse strangeness of British science fiction from literary adoptions like Nineteen Eighty Four and A Clockwork Orange to pulp fantasies and creature features far removed from the acceptable face of British cinema Through case studies of key films like The Day the Earth Caught Fire contributors explore the unique themes and concerns of British science fiction from the postwar boom years to more recent productions like Hardware and examine how science fiction cinema drew on a variety of sources from TV adaptations like Doctor Who and the Daleks to the horror sf crossovers produced from John Wyndham's cult novels The Day of the Triffids and The Midwich Cuckoos filmed as Village of the Damned How did budget restrictions encourage the use of the invasion narrative in the 1950s films And how did films such as Unearthly Stranger and Invasion reflect fears about the decline of Britain's economic and colonial power and the threat of female sexuality British Science Fiction Cinema celebrates the breadth and continuing vitality of British sf film making in both big budget productions such as Brazil and Event Horizon and cult exploitation movies like Inseminoid and Lifeforce

Identity Politics in George Lucas' Star Wars John C. McDowell, 2016-03-18 George Lucas spoke about the didactic role of cinema and about his own work being presented through the moral megaphone of the film industry A considerable body of scholarship on the six part Star Wars series argues unconvincingly that the franchise promoted neo conservatism in American culture from the late 1970s onward But there is much in Lucas grand space opera to suggest something more ideologically complex is going on This book challenges the view of the saga as an unambiguously violent text exemplifying reactionary politics and discusses the film's identity politics with regard to race and gender

Science Fiction Brian Baker, 2017-07-05 This Guide summarises the main critical trends and developments surrounding the popular genre of science fiction Brian Baker reviews the attempts to formulate a critical history connects the major developments with the rise of theoretical paradigms such as feminism and postmodernism and introduces key critical texts and major critics
