Beauty and the Brain RENTSCHLER,EPSTEIN,PÖPPEL,2013-11-11 Beauty and the Brain
RENTSCHLER,EPSTEIN,PÖPPEL,2014-03-12 The Oxford Handbook of Empirical Aesthetics Marcos Nadal,Oshin Vartanian,2022 The Oxford Handbook of Empirical Aesthetics provides the most comprehensive coverage of the domain of empirical aesthetics to date With sections on visual art dance music and other art forms the breadth of this volume reflects the richness and variety of topics and methods used by scientists to understand the way human beings appreciate art

Neuroaesthetics: Exploring Beauty Within And Around Us Yan Bao,Ernst Poppel,Richu Wang,Semir Zeki,2024-12-13
Neuroaesthetics has become an important new field in the sciences bringing together researchers from cognitive science as a general term including brain science psychology anthropology ethology artificial intelligence the humanities including linguistics philosophy and the arts artists from the visual arts music and poetry Thus neuroaesthetics is a prime example of successful interdisciplinarity In the book Neuroaesthetics Exploring Beauty Within and Around Us we distinguish and represent in several articles two different kinds of interdisciplinarity Horizontal interdisciplinarity brings together in a complementary way different fields like as an example psychology linguistics and poetry Vertical interdisciplinarity refers to research on data generating mechanisms like as an example neural activities in the brain being associated with subjective experiences of beauty In the book articles refer to the visual arts art in space to faces in art to poetry and music art in time and to general ideas bridging art and science This is a unique collection of articles with a broad scope Cognitive Ecology Reuven Dukas,1998-07-06 Cognitive Ecology lays the foundations for a field of study that integrates theory and data from evolutionary ecology and cognitive science to investigate how animal interactions with natural habitats shape cognitive systems and how constraints imposed on nervous systems limit or bias animal behavior Using critical literature reviews and theoretical models the contributors provide new insights and raise novel questions about the adaptive design of specific brain capacities and about optimal behavior subject to the computational capabilities of brains Evolutionary Aesthetics

Eckart Voland,Karl Grammer,2013-04-17 Evolutionary Aesthetics is the attempt to understand the aesthetic judgement of human beings and their spontaneous distinction between beauty and ugliness as a biologically adapted ability to make important decisions in life The hypothesis is both in the area of natural beauty and in sexuality with regard to landscape preferences but also in the area of artificial beauty i e in art and design that beauty opens up fitness opportunities while ugliness holds fitness risks In this book this adaptive view of aesthetics is developed theoretically presented on the basis of numerous examples and its consequences for evolutionary anthropology are illuminated The Artful Species:

Aesthetics, Art, and Evolution Stephen Davies,2012-11-29 The Artful Species explores the idea that our aesthetic responses and art behaviors are connected to our evolved human nature Our humanoid forerunners displayed aesthetic sensibilities hundreds of thousands of years ago and the art standing of prehistoric cave paintings is virtually uncontested In

Part One Stephen Davies analyses the key concepts of the aesthetic art and evolution and explores how they might be related He considers a range of issues including whether animals have aesthetic tastes and whether art is not only universal but cross culturally comprehensible Part Two examines the many aesthetic interests humans take in animals and how these reflect our biological interests and the idea that our environmental and landscape preferences are rooted in the experiences of our distant ancestors In considering the controversial subject of human beauty evolutionary psychologists have traditionally focused on female physical attractiveness in the context of mate selection but Davies presents a broader view which decouples human beauty from mate choice and explains why it goes more with social performance and self presentation Part Three asks if the arts together or singly are biological adaptations incidental byproducts of nonart adaptations or so removed from biology that they rate as purely cultural technologies Davies does not conclusively support any one of the many positions considered here but argues that there are grounds nevertheless for seeing art as part of human nature Art serves as a powerful and complex signal of human fitness and so cannot be incidental to biology Indeed aesthetic responses and art behaviors are the touchstones of our humanity

Handbook of Evolutionary Psychology Charles Crawford, Dennis L. Krebs, 2013-03-07 Evolutionary psychology is concerned with the adaptive problems early humans faced in ancestral human environments the nature of psychological mechanisms natural selection shaped to deal with those ancient problems and the ability of the resulting evolved psychological mechanisms to deal with the problems people face in the modern world Evolutionary psychology is currently advancing our understanding of altruism moral behavior family violence sexual aggression warfare aesthetics the nature of language and gender differences in mate choice and perception It is helping us understand the relationship between cognitive science developmental psychology behavior genetics personality and social psychology Foundations of Evolutionary Psychology provides an up to date review of the ideas issues and applications of contemporary evolutionary psychology It is suitable for senior undergraduates first year graduate students or professionals who wish to become conversant with the major issues currently shaping the emergence of this dynamic new field It will be interesting to psychologists cognitive scientists and anyone using new developments in the theory of evolution to gain new insights into human behavior

Architecture and Embodiment Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2013-06-26 In recent years we have seen a number of dramatic discoveries within the biological and related sciences Traditional arguments such as nature versus nurture are rapidly disappearing because of the realization that just as we are affecting our environments so too do these altered environments restructure our cognitive abilities and outlooks If the biological and technological breakthroughs are promising benefits such as extended life expectancies these same discoveries also have the potential to improve in significant ways the quality of our built environments This poses a compelling challenge to conventional architectural theory This is the first book to consider these new scientific and humanistic models in architectural terms Constructed as a series of five essays around the themes of beauty culture emotion the experience of architecture and artistic play this book draws upon a broad range of discussions taking place in philosophy psychology biology neuroscience and anthropology and in doing so questions what implications these discussions hold for architectural design Drawing upon a wealth of research Mallgrave argues that we should turn our focus away from the objectification of architecture treating design as the creation of objects and redirect it back to those for whom we design the people inhabiting our built environments

The Aesthetic Mind Elisabeth Schellekens, Peter Goldie, 2011-10-13 The Aesthetic Mind breaks new ground in bringing together empirical sciences and philosophy to enhance our understanding of art and the aesthetic An eminent international team of experts explores the roles of emotion imagination empathy and beauty in this realm of human experience discussing visual and literary art music and dance
