Bureau of Provincial Information, 1911      Francis Rattenbury and British Columbia Anthony A. Barrett, Rhodri Windsor Liscombe, 1983-01-01 Yorkshire born Francis Mawson Rattenbury 1867 1935 emigrated to British Columbia as a young architect in 1892 Within months of his arrival in Victoria he launched his brilliant if abbreviated career by winning an international competition to design the legislative buildings While his life was marred by controversy scandal and in the end tragedy Rattenbury's architecture had an enduring impact on the Canadian landscape and his commercial ventures were important to the economic development of the West Richly illustrated with over 200 drawings and photographs Francis Rattenbury and British Columbia is the first major critical study of a Canadian architect in the context of his times Using unpublished primary sources including his recently discovered private letters the authors document Rattenbury's professional career and the evolution of his architectural style Detailed descriptions are given of some of his most famous projects notably the legislative buildings and the Empress Hotel in Victoria Besides working on a number of government commissions Rattenbury became chief architect for the Canadian Pacific Railway and designed chateau like buildings for C P R hotels in the Rockies Vancouver and Victoria Other projects such as the Vancouver and Nanaimo Courthouses and Bank of Montreal branches set the pattern for institutional architecture in British Columbia His buildings not only drew attention to the growing importance of the province but also lent dignity and character to its major centres Filled with the vigour and confidence of the imperial age Rattenbury initiated a number of commercial ventures These included the founding of a transportation system to the Yukon goldfields and extensive land speculations As the authors point out these investments were perhaps not undertaken solely for monetary gain but reflected Rattenbury's firm belief in the future of British Columbia and his desire to play an active role in its growth Unfortunately his entrepreneurial adventures involved heavy financial losses among which were ruinous lawsuits involving the provincial government This pioneering work on Western Canadian architecture will serve as a valuable design source for both the specialist and lay reader It also includes an important account of the part played by major Canadian companies and government patronage in the development of British Columbia This professional biography reveals new facets of Rattenbury

Room at the Inn Glen A. Mofford, 2023-05-31 A fully illustrated social history profiling forty historic hotels spread over five regions of the southern interior of British Columbia covering the time period of the 1890s to 1950s Room at the Inn reveals the long forgotten histories of British Columbia s early hospitality industry through the riveting stories of the men and women who built ran and frequented hotels hostelries resorts and roadhouses in the southern Interior From the Similkameen town of Keremeos to Spences Bridge at the confluence of the Thompson and Nicola Rivers east to the Alberta border along the Trans Canada Highway and south to the Canada US border the history of these hotels mirrors the history of BC s mining towns and boom bust economy of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as waves of prospectors settlers and eventually tourists shaped the culture of the province that we know today Of the forty historic hotels profiled in this book all contributed to their communities in various ways They provided more than just a roof over the heads of weary travellers they were often the sites of live entertainment places where community members could meet and socialize Some even doubled as makeshift hospitals during wildfires and floods Through colourful anecdotes meticulous research and fascinating archival photography Room at the Inn transports readers to a bygone era and pays tribute to the pioneers entrepreneurs and hard work men and women who built and operated these historic accommodations

Greetings from British Columbia Fred Thirkell, Bob Scullion, 2009 Award winning popular historians Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion have assembled an all new collection of postcard views capturing different communities around British

Columbia as they appeared at the turn of the 20th century Collectively defining the state of affairs in BC a century ago each one of these images has a story to tell Once a thriving cannery town Port Essington is now long gone abandoned and then destroyed by forest fires They may have mined millions of dollars in gold at Stout s Gulch but you ll have trouble finding it on any maps today Even Kelowna s main street is unrecognizable With each passing year it becomes more difficult to find rare and unusual black and white printed postcards from this period Many of the ones Thirkell and Scullion have included in Greetings from British Columbia are themselves rare borrowed from the collection of a pre eminent postcard dealer without whose cooperation this new collection would not have been possible
