Britain's Imperial Administrators, 1858-1966 Anthony Hamilton Millard Kirk-Greene, 2000 Britain's famous overseas civil services the Colonial Administrative Services the Indian Civil Service and the Sudan Political Service no longer exist as a major and sought after opportunity for Britain's graduates In this detailed study the history of each service is presented within the framework of the need to administer an expanding empire Close attention is paid to the methods of recruitment and training and to the socio educational background of the overseas administrators as well as to the nature of their work This authoritative narrative history is enlivened by recourse to Service lore and anecdotes

Lord Dufferin, Ireland and the British Empire, c. 1820-1900 Annie Tindley, 2021-03-29 This book explores the life and career of Frederick Temple Hamilton Temple Blackwood 1st Marquess of Dufferin and Ava 1826 1902 Dufferin was a landowner in Ulster an urbane diplomat literary sensation courtier politician colonial governor collector son husband and father The book draws on episodes from Dufferin's career to link the landowning and aristocratic culture he was born into with his experience of governing across the British Empire in Canada Egypt Syria and India This book argues that there was a defined conception of aristocratic governance and purpose that infused the political and imperial world and was based on two elements the inheritance and management of a landed estate and a well defined sense of rule by the best It identifies a particular kind of atmosphere of empire and aristocracy one that was riven with tensions and angst as those who saw themselves as the hereditary leaders of Britain and Ireland were challenged by a rising democracy and in Ireland by a powerful new definition of what Irishness was It offers a new perspective on both empire and aristocracy in the nineteenth century and will appeal to a broad scholarly audience and the wider public

Britain's Man on the Spot in Iraq and Afghanistan Ann Wilks, 2023-10-19 The newly discovered papers and colourfully written letters of Anglo Irish Sir Henry Dobbs which form the backbone of this book reveal his importance in the development of the modern Middle East An influential civil servant and Britain's longest serving High Commissioner in Iraq at a time when the British empire was facing increasing challenges to its once dominant position he describes the difficulties of governing first in India then in the formerly Ottoman Mesopotamia during WW1 Here Dobbs had to devise administrative systems while often at odds with his superior Sir Percy Cox In the discussions that followed the Third Afghan War Dobbs manoeuvred between the different views in London and Delhi with great dexterity to negotiate alone with the Amir of Afghanistan the enduring 1921

Anglo Afghan treaty Having accepted from the League of Nations the responsibility for taking the newly created Iraq to sustainable independence in the aftermath of WW1 the cash strapped British government came under great domestic pressure to abandon it Key to British support continuing was Iraqi acceptance of the controversial 1922 treaty with Britain This Dobbs achieved by disregarding the unhelpful approach recommended by London and risking his career he pressed on with his own wholly unauthorised tactics In other initiatives Dobbs ensured that Mosul province remained within Iraq Dobbs consistently pressed for Iraq s early independence granted in 1932 the first territory in the former Ottoman Empire to gain it An early advocate of self determination Dobbs was frequently at odds with the more traditional imperial approach of his superiors He always endeavoured to balance the aspirations and needs of overseas communities for whom he was responsible with the interests of Britain which he represented

Colonial Justice and Decolonization in the High Court of Tanzania, 1920-1971 Ellen R. Feingold, 2018-02-09 This book is the first study of the development and decolonization of a British colonial high court in Africa It traces the history of the High Court of Tanzania from its establishment in 1920 to the end of its institutional process of decolonization in 1971 This process involved disentangling the High Court from colonial state structures and imperial systems that were built on racial inequality while simultaneously increasing the independence of the judiciary and application of British judicial principles Feingold weaves together the rich history of the Court with a discussion of its judges both as members of the British Colonial Legal Service and as individuals to explore the impacts and intersections of imperial policies national politics and individual initiative Colonial Justice and Decolonization in the High Court of Tanzania is a powerful reminder of the crucial roles played by common law courts in the operation and legitimization of both colonial and post colonial states

Critical Zone 2 Q.S. Tong, Shouren Wang, Douglas Kerr, 2007-02-01 Despite globalizing forces whether economic political or cultural there remain conspicuous differences that divide scholarly communities How should we understand and respond to those discursive gaps among different traditions and systems of knowledge production Critical Zone is a book series in cultural and literary studies that is concerned with current critical debates and intellectual preoccupations in the humanities The series aims to improve understanding across cultures traditions discourses and disciplines and to produce international critical knowledge Critical Zone is an expression of timely collaboration among scholars from Hong Kong mainland China the United States and Europe and conceived as an intellectual bridge between China and the rest of the world The second volume of Critical Zone as does its predecessor consists of two parts The first part includes original essays that deal with the concept and practice of empire as a collective response to the question of how imperial formations and operations in the past and at present should be examined in a larger context of international politics and how historical imperialism may be considered in relation to the conditions of our time Part II includes two sets of translations of essays first published in Chinese about two recent debates in China one on the canonicity of Lu Xun and the other on the problem of how to reform Peking University in the context of globalization These two groups of translations are led by review essays that contextualize the debates Governing Hong Kong Steve Tsang, 2007-10-24 Hong Kong is at the heart of modern China's position as a regional and potential world superpower In this important and original history of the region Steve Tsang argues that its current prosperity is a direct by product of the British administrators who ran the place as a colony before the handover in 1997 The British administration of Hong Kong uniquely derived its practices from the best traditions of Imperial Chinese government and its philosophical Confucian basis It stressed efficiency honesty fairness benevolent paternalism and individual freedom The result was a hugely successful colony especially in industry and finance and it remains so today with its new status of Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China Under British imperial administration Hong Kong grew from a collection of fishing villages to an international entrepot an industrial power and an international financial centre British and Chinese interests dovetailed and the Chinese population was satisfied by the welfare reform and economic advancement perpetuated by Britain's administrative officers Demand for constitutional reform and a sense of Hong Kong Chinese identity grew only as the handover to China approached This definitive history of the colourful individuals who administered the colony on behalf of the British government sheds light on two empires inextricably linked in nature and on the philosophy of government

The Lion's Share Bernard Porter, 2014-06-11 As well as presenting a lively narrative of events Bernard Porter explores a number of broad analytical themes challenging more conventional and popular interpretations He sees imperialism as a symptom not of Britain's strength in the world but of her decline and he argues that the empire itself both aggravated and obscured deep seated malaise in the British economy Malaysia A. J. Stockwell, 2004 The main purpose of the British Documents on the End of Empire Project BDEEP is to publish documents from British official archives on the ending of colonial rule and the context in which this took place This publication explores events in the Southeast Asia region from the establishment of an independent state of Malaya in 1957 to the creation of Malaysia in 1963 and British foreign policy objectives with regards to the territories of Malaya Singapore and Borneo
