Pleistocene Amphibians and Reptiles in Britain and Europe J. Alan Holman, 1998-06-18 The Pleistocene epoch or Ice Age an extended period of advancing and retreating ice sheets is characterized by striking climatic oscillations and sea level fluctuations This age saw the rise and spread of humans and a great extinction of large mammals by the end of the epoch in fact the world today is essentially the product of dramatic changes that took place in the Pleistocene This book a companion to the author s Pleistocene Amphibians and Reptiles in North America discusses the Pleistocene amphibians and reptiles in Britain and the European continent eastward through present day Poland the Czech Republic Hungary the Yugoslavian republics and Greece The book begins with a general discussion of the Pleistocene in Britain and Europe with an emphasis on regional terms used to define Pleistocene chronological events Next a look at the pre Pleistocene herpetofauna of the study area sets the stage for a discussion of Pleistocene herpetofauna A significant section of the book consists of a bestiary a series of annotated taxonomic accounts of Pleistocene herpetological taxa from the region Following this is the interpretive section beginning with a discussion of herpetological species as paleoenvironmental indicators and continuing with an analysis of herpetological population adjustments to Pleistocene events in Britain and Europe and then with a discussion of extinction patterns in the region Finally the author compares Pleistocene herpetological events in Europe with those in North America This volume and its companion together provide an up to date and comprehensive review of Pleistocene herpetofaunas across a significant portion of the Northern Hemisphere Naturalized Reptiles and Amphibians of the World Christopher Lever, 2003 This book describes how the various alien reptiles and amphibians now living in the wild throughout the world were first introduced how they subsequently became naturalized their present distribution and status in those countries to which they were introduced and their ecological and socio economic impact if any on the native biota and local economies Many species have had a more or less neutral impact being neither beneficial nor harmful However several have had a positive ecological or socio economic impact while some such as the cane toad have had an extremely destructive effect The criteria for inclusion of a species are that it should have been imported from its natural range to a new country by human agency either accidentally or deliberately and that it should currently be established in the wild in self maintaining and self perpetuating populations unsupported by and independent of mankind
