Bauhaus Utopien:

Bauhaus, 1919-1933 Magdalena Droste, 2002 Seventy years after its foundation in Weimar the Bauhaus has become a concept indeed a catchphrase all over the world The respect which it commands is associated above all with the design it pioneered one which we know describe as Bauhaus style This volume traces the history of Bauhaus Bauhaus Michael Siebenbrodt, Lutz Schöbe, 2015-09-15 The Bauhaus movement meaning the house of building developed in three German cities it began in Weimar between 1919 and 1925 then continued in Dessau from 1925 to 1932 and finally ended in 1932 1933 in Berlin Three leaders presided over the growth of the movement Walter Gropius from 1919 to 1928 Hannes Meyer from 1928 to 1930 and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe from 1930 to 1933 Founded by Gropius in the rather conservative city of Weimar the new capital of Germany which had just been defeated by the other European nations in the First World War the movement became a flamboyant response to this humiliation Combining new styles in architecture design and painting the Bauhaus aspired to be an expression of a generational utopia striving to free artists facing a society that remained conservative in spite of the revolutionary efforts of the post war period Using the most modern materials the Bauhaus was born out of the precepts of William Morris and the Arts and Crafts movement introducing new forms inspired by the most ordinary of objects into everyday life The shuttering of the center in Berlin by the Nazis in 1933 did not put an end to the movement since many of its members chose the path of exile and established themselves in the United States Although they all went in different directions artistically their work shared the same origin The most influential among the Bauhaus artists were Anni Albers Josef Albers Marianne Brandt Marcel Breuer Lyonel Feininger Ludwig Hilberseimer Paul Klee Wassily Kandinsky and Lothar Schreyer Through a series of beautiful reproductions this work provides an overview of the Bauhaus era including the history influence and major figures of this revolutionary movement which turned everyday life into art The Bauhaus and Public Relations Patrick Rössler, 2014-01-10 This innovative study considers one of the most important art and design movements of the 20th century the Bauhaus in conjunction with current research in public relations and organizational communication elaborating on the mechanisms of internal and external communication available to influence the stakeholders in politics society industry and the art world In a movement where a substantial share of productivity ran in measures to highlight the public value of the institution funded by the taxpayer the directors and other persons in charge the Bauhaus developed comprehensive strategies to communicate their messages to a variety of target groups such as politicians and economic leaders intellectuals and other artists current and prospective students and the general public To achieve this goal the Bauhaus anticipated many instruments of modern public relations and corporate communications including press releases staging of events media publications community building lobbying and the creation of nationwide public presence Rössler argues that as an organization the Bauhaus cultivated corporate behavior and most prominently a corporate design which unfolded revolutionary power The basic achievements of new typography a label coined at the Bauhaus determine visual communication to this day while the Bauhaus moved from an institutional organization to a community Beginning with an overview of the Bauhaus corporate identity and a close examination of the respective directors roles for internal and external communication this book visits exhibitions events and the media attention they evoked in newspapers and contemporary periodicals along with media products designed at the Bauhaus such as magazines books and bank notes

Tokyoids Francois Blanciak, 2022-09-13 A photographic survey of the robotic face of Tokyo buildings and an argument that robot aesthetics plays a central role in architectural history In Tokyoids architect Fran ois Blanciak surveys the robotic faces omnipresent in Tokyo buildings offering an architectural taxonomy based not on the usual variables size material historical style but on the observable expressions of buildings Are the eyes windows twinkling the mouth door laughing Is that balcony a howl of distress Investigating robot aesthetics through his photographs of fifty buildings Blanciak argues that the robot face originated in architecture before the birth of robotics and has played a central role in architectural history Blanciak first puts the robot face into historical perspective examining the importance of the face in architectural theory and demonstrating that the construction of architecture s emblematic portraits triggered the emergence of a robot aesthetics He then explores the emotions conveyed by the photographed buildings robot faces in chapters titled Awe Wrath Mirth Pain Angst and Hunger As he does so he considers among other things the architectural relevance of Tokyo s ordinary buildings the repression of the figural in contemporary architecture an aesthetic of dismemberment linked to the structure of the Japanese language and local building design and the influence of automation technology upon human interaction Part photographic survey part theoretical inquiry Tokyoids upends the usual approach to robotics in architecture by considering not the automation of architectural output but the aesthetic properties of the robot Bauhaus Weimar Elisabeth Reissinger,2000 The text focuses on the works that emerged from the workshops of the Bauhaus at Weimar from the studies in the introductory course given by Johannes Itten to the design sketches that are considered classics today The Bauhaus Julia Engelhardt,1993 Extracts from the writings of all of the seminal figures of the Bauhaus movement combine with illustrations to demonstrate the ideas and images concerning questions of good design and the effects that buildings have on the people who live and work in them
