Go Lite on White and Be Discreet with Sweets Diana Mourer, 2007-12-07 This is not another diet book It is a healthy eating and drinking guide This is the book you've been looking for that will tell you what you should and should not eat and why without going in to a lot of scientific jargon Carbs are not the enemy Neither are fats or proteins Good nutrition is more than counting calories carbs fats and proteins Good nutrition is getting the nutrients your body needs for good health abundant energy and healthy weight control This book defines food for you Food Food is grown Food is raised Food grows in nature in the wild Food rots Food has life sustaining nutrients which are imparted to you when you eat it Food provides vitamins minerals enzymes micronutrients macronutrients phytonutrients antioxidants and fiber Food is not made Food is not manufactured This book will tell you what is and is not food It will show you how to look for chemical additives and hidden sweets It will show you marketing tricks used by manufacturers to make you think you're getting healthy real food It will help you arm yourself against the onslaught of ads and false claims Nature did not complicate food People are so confused about what they should or should not eat It's not your fault Nature did not complicate food for us Humans have complicated our eating and drinking by manufacturing non foods and marketing them in mammoth campaigns as food The past two generations have grown up with grocery stores filled with boxes and bags of manufactured or over processed food devoid of natural nutrients Most of what is passed off to us in grocery stores and advertised in print or TV commercials has relatively few natural nutrients and bears little resemblance to what nature provided for us to nourish our bodies It may have once been a natural living food but in its current form exhibits few original characteristics Young Americans are craving information about healthy eating the way your body craves nutrient providing food after being left unfulfilled from all the refined food you give it High school newspapers run series of articles on the various diets and diet plans students friends and teachers follow They are ravenous for advice and will take it from any and every source creating even more desperation as the conflicting information causes further confusion Never before has timing been so critical I can't just sit back and read another article in the daily paper such as Young People seek ways to lose weight improve their lives or Obesity will cut U S
