Agent-Oriented Manner Adverbials in German Ekaterina Gabrovska, 2024-08-19 The work offers a new perspective on the semantics of agent oriented manner adverbials actions and intentionality It proposes a treatment of these adverbials which accounts for their impact on the manner of the event as well as for their agent orientation The analysis is developed in a case study of German sorgf ltig carefully and vorsichtig cautiously and makes use of the philosophical concept of action plans It is proposed that the modifier sorgf ltig has impact on the given goal of the agent while vorsichtig introduces an additional goal of minimizing risk The modification of the goal restricts the possible methods of realization of the action i e the manner of action The analysis makes use of Goldman s Theory of Human Action and is spelled out in D sseldorf Frame Theory including extensions in the form of Cascade Theory and the semantic adaptation of models of intention from the philosophical literature Altogether the formalization involves a detailed representation of actions and plans i e of intentionality necessary to capture the complexity of a number of modification phenomena Modeling Contextual Effects in Longitudinal Studies Todd D. Little, James A. Bovaird, Noel A. Card, 2007-03-21 This volume reviews the challenges and alternative approaches to modeling how individuals change across time and provides methodologies and data analytic strategies for behavioral and social science researchers This accessible guide provides concrete clear examples of how contextual factors can be included in most research studies Each chapter can be understood independently allowing readers to first focus on areas most relevant to their work The opening chapter demonstrates the various ways contextual factors are represented as covariates predictors outcomes moderators mediators or mediated effects Succeeding chapters review best practice techniques for treating missing data making model comparisons and scaling across developmental age ranges Other chapters focus on specific statistical techniques such as multilevel modeling and multiple group and multilevel SEM and how to incorporate tests of mediation moderation and moderated mediation Critical measurement and theoretical issues are discussed particularly how age can be represented and the ways in which context can be conceptualized The final chapter provides a compelling call to include contextual factors in theorizing and research This book will appeal to researchers and advanced students conducting developmental social clinical or educational research as well as those in related areas such as psychology and linguistics
