Lee Evans

Billericay School:

The Story of Billericay Charles Phillips, 2013-09-02 Billericay in Essex was originally a prehistoric settlement This book tells its story from those times through the Roman occupation its eclipse and its subsequent rise in importance It describes the change from a rural market town in the mid nineteenth century to a dormitory town for London after the coming of the railway in 1889 This is the first detailed history of Billericay packed with original research and a multitude of previously unpublished illustrations from many sources Author Charles Phillips brings the story right up to date and his book is an ideal introduction for all the town s residents as well as anyone interested in the history of Essex Oxford Men, 1880-1892, with a Record of Their Schools, Honours and Degrees Joseph Foster, 1893 The Life of Lee Lee Evans, 2011-09-29 Lee Evans is one of the best loved comedians in the country a Hollywood star able to sell out arenas in the blink of eye But he was not always such a roaring success The Life of Lee is an utterly hilarious and very moving autobiography charting his ups and downs on the way to the top Lee takes us on a darkly humorous journey through his childhood spent running wild on a Bristol housing estate and his unconventional school days when he was publicly derided as a failure by a sadistic teacher In this brilliantly entertaining and engaging tale he also guides us through a grim teenage period of numerous dead end jobs When he was cleaning toilets and plucking turkeys he could never have imagined that one day he would be playing to thousands of adoring fans at the O2 Arena The book also reveals how as a boy Lee got his first taste of showbiz living out of a suitcase and accompanying his entertainer father around the smoky rowdy unforgiving working men s club and theatre circuit Desperately struggling to be accepted this quiet young loner always saw himself as an outsider But he finally met the love of his life and accidentally discovered the one place where he felt at home the stage The Life of Lee is a story that is like its subject compelling touching charming and above all fantastically funny Essex at War, 1939-45 Frances Clamp, 2017-06-30 Although much maligned Essex is a vibrant county with a long and exciting history Being close to the Continent and with one of Britains longest coastlines it was an obvious target for invasion as the threat of war grew Many defensive structures were built by the sea and to protect major routes across the county The remains of pill boxes can still be seen Essex at War 1939 1945 tells how war greatly affected the county children were evacuated both to and from Essex being close to London the county suffered from regular air attacks farming was important and the Womens Land Army arrived in force Accounts of Essex airmen and sailors who supported those escaping from Dunkirk are told and once the USA entered the war there was a new type of invasion in the county when their servicemen arrived and were welcomed at many of the countys airfields Memories of children growing up during those difficult years are recalled These include nights spent in cold damp Anderson shelters sleeping under solid tables or in claustrophobic Morrison shelters We learn about disrupted school lessons and the fear felt when the air raid siren wailed When the V 1 and V 2 unmanned flying bombs were launched in 1944 many still remember listening for the engines to switch off and counting the seconds until they fell to earth

Memoirs of the Rev. John Thornton, forty-one years pastor of the Independent Church and Congregation, Billericay, Essex. By John Thornton, Stockport. [With a portrait.] John THORNTON (of Stockport.), 1843 The Billericay School Sylvia Kent, 2003 The creation of the Billericay School in 1937 marked the beginning of an exciting new era for the town of Billericay and its residents This fascinating collection of over 200 photographs presents a unique pictorial record of the history of the school chronicling the changes and events that have been so exciting for all involved teachers parents and of course the pupils This fascinating compilation is drawn from past and present pupils and school staff along with contributions from Billericay residents Building ,1903 The Electrical Review ,1928 Romano-British Settlement and Cemeteries at Mucking Sam Lucy, Christopher Evans, 2016-11-30 Excavations at Mucking Essex between 1965 and 1978 revealed extensive evidence for a multiphase rural Romano British settlement perhaps an estate center and five associated cemetery areas 170 burials with different burial areas reserved for different groups within the settlement The settlement demonstrated clear continuity from the preceding Iron Age occupation with unbroken sequences of artefacts and enclosures through the first century AD followed by rapid and extensive remodeling which included the laying out a Central Enclosure and an organized water supply with wells accompanied by the start of large scale pottery production After the mid second century AD the Central Enclosure was largely abandoned and settlement shifted its focus more to the Southern Enclosure system with a gradual decline though the 3rd and 4th centuries although continued burial pottery and artefactual deposition indicate that a form of settlement continued possibly with some low level pottery production Some of the latest Roman pottery was strongly associated with the earliest Anglo Saxon style pottery suggesting the existence of a terminal Roman settlement phase that essentially involved an Anglo Saxon community Given recent revisions of the chronology for the early Anglo Saxon period this casts an intriguing light on the transition with radical implications for understandings of this period Each of the cemetery areas was in use for a considerable length of time Taken as a whole Mucking was very much a component place complex it was its respective parts that fostered its many cemeteries whose diverse rites reflect the variability and roles of the settlement s evidently varied inhabitants The Legacy of the Rural Guardians George Cuttle, 1934
