Women Artists in Interwar France Paula J. Birnbaum, 2017-07-05 Women Artists in Interwar France Framing Femininities illuminates the importance of the Soci   des Femmes Artistes Modernes more commonly known as FAM and returns this group to its proper place in the history of modern art In particular this volume explores how FAM and its most famous members Suzanne Valadon Marie Laurencin and Tamara de Lempicka brought a new approach to the most prominent themes of female embodiment the self portrait motherhood and the female nude These women reimaged art's conventions and changed the direction of both art history and the politics of their contemporary art world FAM has been excluded from histories of modern art despite its prominence during the interwar years Paula Birnbaum's study redresses

this omission contextualizing the group's legacy in light of the conservative politics of 1930s France. The group's artistic response to the reactionary views and images of women at the time is shown to be a key element in the narrative of modernist formalism. Although many FAM works are missing, one reason for the lack of attention paid to their efforts, Birnbaum's extensive research through archives, press clippings, and first-hand interviews with artists' families, reclaims FAM as an important chapter in the history of art from the interwar years. Dictionary of Women Artists: Introductory surveys ; Artists, A-I Delia Gaze, 1997. Portrait Of A Conspiracy Donna Russo Morin, 2021-12-07. In 15th-century Florence, five women and a legendary artist weave together a dangerous plot that could bring peace or get them all killed. Seeking to wrest power from the Medici, members of the Pazzi family slay the beloved Giuliano. But Lorenzo de' Medici survives the attack and seeks revenge on everyone involved, plunging the city into murderous chaos. Bodies are dragged through the streets, and no one is safe. Five women steal away to a church to ply their craft in secret. Viviana, Fiammetta, Isabetta, Natasia, and Mattea are painters not allowed to be public with their skill but freed from the restrictions in their lives by their art. When a sixth member of their group, Lapaccia, goes missing and is rumored to have stolen a much-sought-after painting before she vanished, the women must venture out into the dangerous streets to find their friend. They will have help from one of the most renowned painters of their era, the peaceful and kind Leonardo da Vinci. It is under his tutelage that they flourish as artists and with his access that they infiltrate some of the highest, most secretive places in Florence, unraveling one conspiracy as they build another in its place. Vibrant and absorbing, Portrait Of A Conspiracy is the first novel in Donna Russo Morin's Da Vinci's Disciples series.

In 15th-century Florence, five women and a legendary artist weave together a plot that could bring peace or get them all killed. Viviana, Fiammetta, Isabetta, Natasia, and Mattea are not allowed to be public with their painting skills. When a sixth member of their group, Lapaccia, goes missing, the women venture out into the dangerous streets to find their friend. Under Leonardo da Vinci's tutelage, they flourish as artists and access some of the highest, most secretive places in Florence, unraveling one conspiracy as they build another in its place. The Competition. Da Vinci's Disciples show talent equal to that of any man, but in Renaissance Florence, they must hide their skills. A commission to paint a fresco is announced, and Florence's artists each seek the fame and glory this lucrative job will provide. The women speak to Lorenzo de' Medici himself and submit a bid for the right to paint it, but the church will not stand for women painting. Even the women themselves are hesitant; the attention they bring upon themselves will put them all in danger. The Flames of Florence. As the infamous Bonfire of the Vanities looms, Da Vinci's Disciples must maneuver through a city torn apart by religious fanaticism. With Leonardo mentoring them, they face the stifling ideals of Fra Girolamo Savonarola, a fervent figure whose campaign poses a threat to the very existence of art and literature. Together with the young sculptor
