As Long As You're Havin A Good Time A History Of Johnston College 19691979:

Intercultural Modes of Philosophy, Volume One Eli Kramer, 2021-08-30 Until rather recently philosophy when practiced as a way of life was for most a communal enterprise of mutually reinforced personal cultivation In these times of social isolation including in academic philosophy itself it is time yet again to revitalize this lost but vital intercultural mode of philosophy This volume characterizes a neglected communal mode of philosophy the philosophical community by describing the constellation of metaethical principles general axiological cultural and dialectical that cultivates its values The book draws on examples from across the globe and history including interviews of adherents of living philosophical communities

The Impacts of Innovative Institutions in Higher Education Noah Coburn, Ryan Derby-Talbot, 2023-09-30 As they have done historically innovative institutions enrich the college ecosystem helping the higher educational industry develop flexible resilience The chapters in this book showcase perspectives hard won lessons challenges and provocative ideas about how historically innovative institutions can contribute to the current discourse on innovation in higher education The chapters in this book include case studies of innovative campuses and practices as well as future looking directions for innovation Taken together they ask is there a way to consider how future trends can be navigated in effective ways so that the most important features of higher education student learning the liberal arts the cultivation of critical thinking can remain central to tomorrow's institutions

As Long As You're Having a Good Time Bill McDonald, Kevin O'Neill, 2003 For an exciting ten year period Johnston College at the University of Redlands was a locus of innovative education in the United States Along with institutions such as Hampshire UC Santa Cruz and Fair Haven Johnston College pioneered work in student centered learning using academic contracts affective education narrative evaluations rather than letter grades and a host of other innovations Our narrative history chronicles the rise fall and rebirth of this academic community's journey The book concentrates on the founding and the closing of the College and its transformation into the Johnston Center for Integrative Studies which continues to prosper at the University It explores the educational practices alternative teaching and learning instructive failures cultural complexity and rites of passage that made it so successful and so difficult to sustain

Reinventing Ourselves Barbara Leigh Smith, John McCann, 2001-01-15 Reinventing Ourselves examines the experiences and lessons from over 20 different institutions pioneering new approaches for more effective teaching and learning Many of the colleges included in this volume began as both educational and social experiments representing new ways of thinking about educational goals curricular organization institutional governance and faculty roles and rewards With new calls for both rethinking our approaches to teaching and learning and for reviewing the traditional boundaries within institutions and between disciplines Reinventing Ourselves offers a rich store of ideas from which to draw
