Ashes For Remembering:

Sermons on the First Readings: Cycle B Mary S. Lautensleger, Schuyler Rhodes, Ron Lavin, Stan Purdum, 2005 The Old Testament details the epic faith story of ancient people who just like us today seek God's answers to complex problems Yet because pastors sometimes overlook this rich source of preaching texts many people in the pews are not fully aware of the Hebrew Scriptures and their profound lessons for modern living In this inspiring collection of spiritually enlightening messages based on the First Readings from Cycle B of the Revised Common Lectionary four master preachers insightfully demonstrate the continuing relevance of passages from the Old Testament and the book of Acts Building on stories in which God moves ordinary people to extraordinary heights these sermons powerfully proclaim timeless themes of justice and righteousness while reminding us that God's grace is the model for the Christian community's core values of self giving love and forgiveness Each thought provoking message is filled with compelling stories and illustrations from everyday life and challenges readers to love and serve the Lord trusting in divine providence even in the midst of a world that sometimes seems cruel and senseless This essential resource is useful for Fresh homiletical approaches to the lectionary texts Preaching illustrations Understanding scripture passages Bible study and discussion groups Personal devotions and inspirational reading

Priestly and Prophetic Reflections: a Weekly Devotional from the Fisk Memorial Chapel Reverend Jason Richard Curry Ph.D., 2017-02-17 Many of the people that I admired over the years were local or nationally renowned ministers and pastoral who were also authors and scholars Some of these individuals received both national and international recognition for their contribution to the church and the academy e g Dr Samuel DeWitt Proctor Dr Howard Thurman Bishop Vashti McKenzie and Dr Cheryl Townsend Gilkes while others received love acclaim gratitude from their congregants and constituents of their church and local community

Death, Memory and Material Culture Elizabeth Hallam, Jenny Hockey, 2020-05-26 How do the living maintain ongoing relationships with the dead in Western societies How have the residual belongings of the dead been used to evoke memories Why has the body and its material environment remained so important in memory making Objects images practices and places remind us of the deaths of others and of our own mortality At the time of death embodied persons disappear from view their relationships with others come under threat and their influence may cease Emotionally socially politically much is at stake at the time of death In this context memories and memory making can be highly charged and often provide the dead with a social presence amongst the living Memories of the dead are a bulwark against the terror of forgetting as well as an inescapable outcome of a life's ending. Objects in attics, gardens, museums, streets, and cemeteries can tell us much about the processes of remembering. This unusual and absorbing book develops perspectives in anthropology and cultural history to reveal the importance of material objects in experiences of grief, mourning, and memorializing. Far from being invisible, the authors show how past generations' dead friends and lovers remain manifest through well-worn garments, letters, photographs, flowers, residual drops of perfume, funerary sculpture. Tracing the rituals, gestures, and materials that have been used to shape and preserve memories of personal loss, Hallam and Hockey show how material culture provides the deceased with a powerful presence within the here and now.

Death and Memory in Early Medieval Britain Howard Williams, 2006-08-31 How were the dead remembered in early medieval Britain? Originally published in 2006, this innovative study demonstrates how perceptions of the past and the dead, and hence social identities, were constructed through mortuary practices and commemoration between c. 400–1100 AD. Drawing on archaeological evidence from across Britain, including archaeological discoveries, Howard Williams presents a fresh interpretation of the significance of portable artefacts, the body, structures, monuments, and landscapes in early medieval mortuary practices. He argues that materials and spaces were used in ritual performances that served as technologies of remembrance, practices that created shared social memories intended to link past, present, and future. Through the deployment of material culture, early medieval societies were therefore selectively remembering and forgetting their ancestors and their history. Throwing light on an important aspect of medieval society, this book is essential reading for archaeologists and historians with an interest in the early medieval period.

Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine Leigh Campbell-Hale, 2023-02-15 Mining the American West, Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine examines the causes, context, and legacies of the 1927 Columbine Massacre in relation to the history of labor organizing and coal mining in both Colorado and the United States. While historians have written prolifically about the 1914 Ludlow Massacre, there has been a lack of attention to the violent event remembered now as the Columbine Massacre, in which police shot and killed six striking coal miners and wounded sixty more protestors during the 1927–1928 Colorado Coal Strike, even though its aftermath exerted far more influence upon subsequent national labor policies. This volume is a comparative biography of three key participants before, during, and after the strike: A. S. Embree, the IWW strike leader; Josephine Roche, the owner of the coal mine property where the Columbine Massacre took place; and Powers Hapgood, who came to work for Roche four months after she signed the 1928 United Mine Workers contract. The author demonstrates the significance of this event to national debates about labor during the period, as well as changes and continuities in labor history starting in the progressive era and continuing with 1930s New Deal labor policies and through the 1980s. This examination of the 1927–1928 Colorado Coal Strike reorients understandings of labor history from the 1920s through the 1960s and the construction of public memory and forgetting surrounding those events. Remembering Ludlow but Forgetting the Columbine appeals to academic and general readers interested in Colorado history labor history mining history gender studies memory and historiography

Come to a Memory Frances Webb, 2016-08-04 Prejudice takes many forms Set in New Jersey just before World War II Come to a Memory Joab's Story Lila's Story is about two classmates who are both bullied in school for different reasons Joab arrives in Lila's fourth grade class as the new kid and is greeted with scorn because he's a half Jewish refugee from Germany and everyone knows that Germany is the enemy in the war He talks funny and dresses differently and has a black number burned into his arm The teacher sits him next to Lila another student who is belittled by the other students She comes from a poor extended family and her grandfather is considered the town fool Can these two forge a friendship and survive against all the odds This historical novel reflects how memory can affect current relationships and is set as a backdrop to life during wartime It also depicts the slow development of friendship through patience and kindness in the face of childhood bullying The story takes place in a small suburban northern New Jersey commuter town at the very beginning of World War II just as the Great Depression is lifting for some but not for others Lila's family extended and living in one large house divided in two is poor and her grandfather rants to his son Lila's father about letting the bank foreclose on part of his property and on their livelihood Early rumblings of war reverberate from newspaper headlines and the evening news with Lowell Thomas Lila is an outcast at school since she is poor and lives in an odd house with her grandfather the town tyrant and fool The first day of the school year in 1939 is clouded with sadness for Lila because of the noise coming from her backyard A bulldozer is razing her family's greenhouses disturbing the peace of the neighborhood and she is tormented by her classmates because of it The child is self conscious about her house which she has divided into the green and blue sides She and her nuclear family represent the green and her aunts and grandparents are blue This along with being old fashioned in dress add to Lila's ostracism

The Color of Sabbath Robert Hill, 2007 A collection of sermons and speeches given by the head pastor of the Community Christian Church Kansas City Missouri from 1995 through 2007 that gives an overview of how he sees the principles of Holy Scripture and Christianity challenging church members as they interact with the current culture Provided by publisher

The Suicide Funeral (or Memorial Service) Melinda Moore, Daniel A. Roberts, 2017-05-16 To our knowledge nothing with The Suicide Funeral or Memorial Service Honoring Their Memory Comforting Their Survivors scope and depth has ever been published This is an aid to anyone who will be called upon to do a funeral for the nearly 43 000 suicides in America each year This book is designed to assist clergy chaplains and other faith leaders as they develop sermons and homilies for a funeral service Its mandate is to help those searching for inspiration even though they may feel confused or uncertain undertaking such a daunting assignment Those who plan and lead a funeral service may enable family and friends to understand and participate intentionally in their grief process Clergy can have a significant impact on how people react to the suicide as well as provide comfort and assistance to those left behind on their journey through grief Your leadership will influence how the suicide's bereaved are treated by others in the days weeks and months following the death

Because suicide does not discriminate by race socio economic status or religion a broad range of faiths and denominations are represented in this book s sermons services and perspectives The Memorial Book for the Jewish Community of Yurburg, Lithuania Joel Alpert,2003 This is the English translation of the Memorial or Yizkor Book of the Jewish Community of Yurburg Lithuania originally published in 1991 in Hebrew and Yiddish It also has an additional new 150 page appendix containing new material collected since the publication of the original book Contains many new photographs to enhance the original book
