Insiders and Outsiders Eustace Palmer, 2015-05-21 The re issue of archival volumes ALT 1 to ALT 14 makes the complete series available and provides the historical perspective of these early contributions to the literature and its criticism

African Literature Today ,2004      War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explore the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies Was has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher s description      Teaching African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2011 Focuses on theoretical and pedagogical approaches to the teaching of African literature on both sides of the Atlantic and beyond The publication of Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart in 1958 drew universal attention not only to contemporary African creative imagination but also established the art of the modern African novel In 1986 Wole Soyinka became the first African to win the Nobel Prize for Literature and opened the gate for other African writers By the close of the 20th century African literature had gained world wide acceptance and legitimacy in the academy and featured on the literature curriculum of schools and colleges across the globe This special issue of African Literature Today examines the diverse experiences of teachers of African literature across regional racial cultural and national boundaries It explores such issues as student responses productive pedagogical innovations the impact of modern technology case studies of online teaching teaching criticism of African literature and teaching African literature in an age of multiculturalism It is intended as an invaluable teacher s handbook and essential student companion for the effective study of African literature      New Directions in African Literature Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, F. D. Imbuga, 2006 Contributors to this volume ask what are the new directions of African literature What should be the major concerns of writers critics and teachers in the twenty first century What are the accomplishments and legacies What gaps remain to be filled and what challenges are there to be addressed by publishers and the book industry What are the implications for pedagogy in the new technological era ERNEST EMENYONU is Professor of the Department of Africana Studies University of Michigan Flint North America Africa World Press Nigeria HEBN      The Question of Language in African Literature Today Eldred D. Jones, 1991      Childhood in African Literature Eldred D. Jones, Marjorie Jones, 1998 African authors have consistently returned to childhood to find their personal as well as their racial roots Far from being merely nostalgic yearnings for a lost paradise many of the treatments of childhood as shown in articles in this issue have exposed a grim reality of cruelty harshness parental particularly paternal egocentrism and extraordinary bruising of the vulnerable child psyche Camara Laye may have portrayed a paradise state but Yvonne Vera has treated one of the cruelest features of childhood anywhere African authors generally have been sternly responsible in their portrayal of childhood Publisher's description      African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2019

AFRICAN LITERATURE TODAY was established at a time of uncertainty and reconstruction but for 50 years it has played a leading role in nurturing imaginative creativity and its criticism on the African continent and beyond Contemporary African creative writers have confidently taken strides which resonate all over the world The daring diversities stylistic innovations and enchanting audacities which characterize their works across many different genres resonate with readers beyond African geographic and linguistic boundaries Writers in Africa and the diaspora seem to be speaking with collective and individual voices that compel world attention and admiration And they are being read in numerous world languages This volume's contributors recognize the foundations laid by the pioneer African writers as they point vigorously to contemporary writers who have moved African imaginative creativity forward with utmost integrity and to the critics who continue to respond with unyielding tenacity The founding Editor of ALT Professor Eldred Durosimi Jones recalls in an interview in this volume the role ALT played in the evolution and stimulation of a wave of African literary studies and criticism in mid 20th century The 1960s saw a good deal of activity among scholars teaching African Literature throughout Africa and the world and this led to a series of conferences in African Literature in Dakar Nairobi and Freetown around the idea of communication between the various English Departments which took an interest in African Literature We decided on a bulletin which was just a kind of newsletter between departments saying what was going on it was that bulletin that showed the potential of this kind of communication after that we started African Literature Today as a journal inviting articles on the works of African writers Contributors to the series demonstrate the impact of the growth in studies and criticism of African Literature in the 50 years since its founding Series Editor Ernest N Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma      Fiction of Imperialism Philip Darby, 1998-05-31 This book examines a range of fiction and criticism as it pertains to colonialism the North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics The Fiction of Imperialism attempts to promote dialogue between international relations and postcolonialism It addresses the value of fiction to an understanding of the imperial relationship between the West and Asia and Africa A wide range of fiction and criticism is examined as it pertains to colonialism in North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics The book begins by contrasting the treatment of cross cultural relations in political studies and literary texts It then examines the personal as a metaphor for the political in fiction depicting the imperial connection between Britain and India This is paired with an analysis of African literary texts which takes as its theme the relationship between culture and politics The concluding chapters approach literature from the outside considering its apparent silence on economics and realpolitik and assessing the utility of postcolonial reconceptualization Renewal of interest in imperialism and literary texts about imperialism Examines a range of fiction and criticism as it pertains to colonialism the North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics First volume in a new series which deals with the differences between culture and politics as well as in ways of seeing and the sources that can be drawn on     Voices from the Quarters Mary Ellen Doyle, 2003-08-01

A Choice Outstanding Academic Title Who will write about the way my people talk the way my people sing Mary Ellen Doyle gathers and makes audible the voices arising from all of Ernest J Gaines's fiction to date the indelible characters who inhabit the author's lifelong inspirational territory the bayous cane fields and plantation homes of Louisiana's Pointe Coupee Parish Beginning with the author's upbringing and influences on River Lake plantation amid the pecan trees and live oaks the big house and the tenant quarters this penetrating study offers close readings of Gaines's uncollected short fiction the early collection Bloodline and all of his novels including The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman and the acclaimed A Lesson Before Dying Highlighting Gaines's skill at translating oral tales into meaningful fictional forms Doyle advances an original theory of first person narration camcorder and traces its use throughout his work Gaines's unwavering focus on the utterances of his people continually strengthens his artistic development the voices of the early stories fusing with those of the later novels until Gaines earns a unique magisterial voice an implied author who is black but speaks to universals Using critical methods as eclectic as the book's intended audience and drawing from on site research and interviews with Gaines's relatives and friends Doyle offers a variety of perspectives on Gaines's fiction and its world that resonates so powerfully Those who recognize Gaines as one of the finest southern writers of the last forty years will find here an accessible instrument to hear his voices more clearly than ever
