African Image:

African Images Peter Rigby, 2020-05-12 This controversial book is an impassioned African response to the racial stereotyping of African people and people of African descent by prominent white scholars. It highlights how the media contributes to the growth of racist ideas particularly in reporting current events in Africa and demonstrates how some of America's most revered intellectuals cloak racist ideologies in ostensibly egalitarian discourses. The author seeks to rewrite the image of race in order to show the damage racism can cause serious scholarship. The African Photographic Archive Christopher Morton, Darren Newbury, 2020-10-15 African photography has emerged as a significant focus of research and scholarship over the last twenty years the result of a growing interest in postcolonial societies and cultures and a turn towards visual evidence across the humanities and social sciences. At the same time many rich and fascinating photographic collections have come to light. This volume explores the complex theoretical and practical issues involved in the study of African photographic archives based on case studies drawn from across the continent dating from the 19th century to the present day. Chapters consider what constitutes an archive from the familiar mission and state archives to more local vernacular and personal accumulations of photographs the importance of a critical and reflexive engagement with photographic collections and the question of where and what is Africa as constructed in the photographic archive. Essential reading for all researchers working with photographic archives this book consolidates current thinking on the topic and sets the agenda for future research in this field. The SAGE Encyclopedia of African Cultural Heritage in North America Mwalimu J. Shujaa, Kenya J. Shujaa, 2015-07-13 The Encyclopedia of African Cultural Heritage in North America provides an accessible ready reference on the retention and continuity of African culture within the United States. Our conceptual framework holds first that culture is a form of self knowledge and knowledge about self in the world as transmitted from one person to another. Second that African people continuously create their own cultural history as they move through time and space. Third that African descended people living outside of Africa are also contributors to and participants in the creation of African cultural history. Entries focus on illuminating Africanisms cultural retentions traceable to an African origin and cultural continuities ongoing practices and processes through which African culture continues to be created and formed. Thus the focus is more culturally specific and less concerned with the broader transatlantic demographic political and geographic issues that are the focus of similar recent reference works. We also focus less on biographies of individuals and political and economic ties and more on processes and manifestations of African cultural heritage and continuity. FEATURES A two volume A to Z work available in a choice of print or electronic formats 350 signed entries each concluding with Cross references and Further Readings 150 figures and photos Front matter consisting of an Introduction and a Reader's Guide organizing entries thematically to more easily guide users to related entries Signed articles concluding with cross references. Africa and the United States, Images and Realities, 1962 Foundational African Writers Bhekizizwe Peterson, Makhosazana Xaba, Khwezi

Space and Time in African Cinema and Cine-scapes Kenneth W. Harrow, 2022-06-28 This book is the first of its kind to bring basic notions of contemporary physics to bear on African cine scapes In this book renowned African cinema scholar Kenneth W Harrow presents unique new ways to think about space and time in film with a specific focus on African and African diasporic cinema Through a series of case studies he explores how cinema creates and represents time and space and more specifically how a cinema centered in African landscapes and figures accomplishes this He reflects on the issues and problems posed by scientists when faced with the basic questions of what space and time are and their solutions or conclusions giving both film studies and African studies scholars access to new ways to formulate their thinking about African cine scapes Working beyond the limits of a framework based in a postcolonial and cultural understanding of time and space Harrow demonstrates how a scientific understanding of time and space can open up new approaches to African cinema and cinema in general A unique interdisciplinary book that encourages brand new ways to approach cinematic texts and specifically African cine scapes

Imagining the Arab Other Tahar Labib, 2007-11-28 In this innovative study Professor Tahar Labib seeks to understand how the Other is viewed in Arab culture and vice versa Imagining the Arab Other examines how Turks Europeans Christians and Iranians have been represented in the arts opinions and cultures of the Arab world Conversely it also explores the intellectual representation of The Arab in other cultures It demonstrates the central role of the Catholic Church in ascribing to the Arab peoples a set of characteristics associated with the Other Labib places this survey in the context of theoretical debates started by Edward Said's Orientalism on the construction of Other With its diversity of perspectives

Imagining the Arab Other offers a new way of understanding identity and cultural difference in the Middle East one which goes beyond the Orientalist Occidental paradigm The African presence Graham Harrison, 2015-11-01 This book considers the ways that representations of Africa have contributed to the changing nature of British national identity Using interviews photo archives media coverage advertisements and web material the book focuses on major Africa campaigns the abolition of slavery anti apartheid Drop the Debt and Make Poverty History Using a hybrid theoretical framework the book argues that the representation of Africa has been mainly about imagining virtuous Britishness rather than generating detailed understandings of Africa The book develops this argument through a historical review of 200 years of Africa campaigning It also looks more closely at recent and contemporary campaigning opening up new issues and possibilities for campaigning the increasing use of consumer identities electronic media and aspects of globalisation This book will be of interest to anyone interested in postcolonial politics relations between Britain and Africa and development studies
