Age And Structural Lag:

Age and Structural Lag Matilda White Riley, Robert L. Kahn, Anne Foner, 1994-09-02 Even the many vital men and women past age 65 or even 55 who want or need paid jobs are regarded as too old to work. Lives have changed but social structures have not caught up. There is a lag or mismatch between lives and structures. Aging, Society and the Life Course Leslie A. Morgan, 2007 As our aging population grows ever larger it is increasingly important to understand how adults age and what we can do to provide up to date care to ensure their well being as an integral part of society. Leslie Morgan and Suzanne Kunkel understand that this phenomenon is about much more than just the physical or biological aspects of growing older and have put together a comprehensive text on the impact of society and sociology on the aging process. Use this text to explore the diversity of the aging population and dispel the major stereotypes surrounding the elderly. Learn about aging through all the layers of social context from family life to politics and economics. And through this approach come to see how aging is more than just an individual process; it is a process that effects the direction of our society as a whole. For the Student: Web sites of interest and key terms defined at the end of each chapter. Real life stories and essays on love, sex, music, medicine and crime. For the Professor: Assignment ready reading in a One Chapter a Week format. Questions for discussion and review at each chapter end. Applying Theory sections place the lesson of each chapter in a clear real world setting. Instructor's Guide Now Available: An Instructor's Manual for this textbook is available for those professors who have adopted Aging Society and the Life Course Third Edition and can verify a bookstore order of 7 or more copies. Please email our Marketing Department at marketing.springerpub.com if you have adopted this text as you will need a password to download the guide. Johnson, Vern L. Bengtson, Peter G. Coleman, Thomas B. L. Kirkwood, 2005-12-01 The Cambridge Handbook of Age and Ageing first published in 2005 is a guide to the body of knowledge, theory, policy and practice relevant to age researchers and gerontologists around the world. It contains almost 80 original chapters commissioned and written by the world's leading gerontologists from 16 countries and 5 continents. The broad focus of the book is on the behavioural and social sciences but it also includes important contributions from the biological and medical sciences. It provides comprehensive, accessible and authoritative accounts of all the key topics in the field ranging from theories of ageing to demography, physical aspects of ageing, mental processes and ageing, nursing and health care for older people, the social context of ageing, cross cultural perspectives, relationships, quality of life, gender and financial and policy provision. This handbook will be a must have resource for all researchers, students and professionals with an interest in age and ageing. New Dynamics in Old Age Hans-Werner Wahl, Clemens Tesch-Romer, Dr. Andreas Hoff, Jon Hendricks, 2017-07-05 This book was nurtured by the belief that the new dynamics of today's and tomorrow's aging has not yet been treated well in the gerontology literature. Several questions drove the choice of substance for the book: What kind of new dynamics of aging deserves consideration? What kinds of theories and fields are at the core of treating such a new dynamics? And what kind of empirical evidence should be considered? The master hypothesis on which the book is based maintains that the new dynamics of old age is best observed in a range of everyday aging contexts that have been undergoing major change since the second half of the 20th century. In particular, five areas of new and persistent dynamics are treated in depth: the social environment with a focus on cohort effects in social relations and the consideration of family relations and elders as care redelivers the home environment with emphasis on housing and quality of life; relocation and urban aging issues; the outdoor environment with consideration of out-of-home activity patterns, car driving behaviour and the leisure world of aging; the technological environment with treatments of the role of the Internet and the potential of technology for aging outcomes; and the societal environment with a focus on global aging, the new politics of old age and older persons as market consumers. The book's main purpose is to provide the scholarly gerontology community with a comprehensive and critical discussion of these new trends related to old age. The book will be of interest for the scholarly community of gerontology in a variety of disciplines: sociology, psychology, demography, epidemiology, humanities, social policy and geriatrics; students in gerontology education; and in the disciplines named above who have an interest in aging issues; graduate-level professionals in practical and applied fields related to aging such as community and urban planners, health and care providers and policymakers; people involved in senior citizens organizations; and those in industry who wish to serve older people with new products.

Social Theory, Social Policy And Ageing: A Critical Introduction Biggs, Simon, Estes, Carroll, Phillipson, Chris, 2003-11-01. This work covers theoretical developments and issues influencing the study of adult ageing. It explores contemporary trends in social policy drawing on the experience of ageing in the USA, Europe and an increasingly global environment. Feminist perspectives on ageing are also covered.

Key Concepts in Social Gerontology Judith E Phillips, Kristine J Ajrouch, Sarah Hillcoat-Nalletamby, 2010-03-18. Far from a dictionary, the concepts are portrayed as complex and conflicting definitions and usages are both noted and evaluated. Each article includes a necessarily selective set of references and cross references to other concepts included in the book. Moreover, the coverage and evaluation of the concepts is right at the current leading edge in a rapidly moving field.

Victor Marshall, Department of Sociology and Institute on Aging, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The concepts are very clear and very relevant and fantastic for my group of undergraduate students. I found each concept to be succinctly and simply captured, holding enough information to satisfy initial cravings and complex enough to tempt further reading. I had originally thought that this book would provide supplementary reading as part of my Healthy Ageing course but have changed my mind to essential reading now. I have had the opportunity to read the entire book.

Dr Meredith Tavenor, Groningen University. Social gerontology is a new and dynamic field reflecting the increasing interest in ageing across the world This book provides a readily accessible guide to well established and contested issues as well as new concepts emerging through cutting edge research in the discipline The entries give concise lucid knowledge on what constitutes the building blocks of social gerontology and sets out a clear review of the core concepts both classic and emerging in this subject area Each concept is explored in terms of its history application usefulness to theory and research and significance in practice They go beyond simple definitions of the concepts to look at how each issue has shaped the discipline of social gerontology today This book is authored by social gerontologists from the UK and the USA Together they present an interdisciplinary perspective and reflect a global approach to the presentation of key concepts in social gerontology

The Boomerang Age Barbara Mitchell, 2011-12-31 The Boomerang Age was named an Outstanding Academic Title of 2007 by Choice Magazine Domestic changes are taking place in the lives of young adults in Western industrialized societies Today s young people often experience less permanency and more movement in a variety of family related roles statuses and living arrangements Among the most prominent changes is the phenomenon of boomerang kids young adults returning to the parental home after their initial entrance into the adult world The Boomerang Age explores the implications of this development in a changing sociocultural economic and demographic landscape Mitchell begins by addressing definitional conceptual and measurement issues relevant to the boomerang age She then places the issues in historical perspective by considering trends in family organization the nuclear family marriage and divorce rates and fertility over the past hundred years with emphasis on the 1950s family as a cultural benchmark The book then turns to the contemporary trajectory of home leaving and returning analyzing the launch and return phases with regard to economic factors regional differences and racial and ethnic backgrounds Mitchell then explores the more personal dimensions of how a return to the family is complicated by partnership marriage divorce cohabitation homosexuality and parenthood among young couples Moving outside the home she looks at how public issues such as globalization the decline of the welfare state and various forms of social inequality affect the circumstances of young adulthood Here Mitchell offers specific social policy recommendations pertaining to education housing and dependency issues childcare and gender and racial equality The book concludes by critically evaluating the advantages and drawbacks of two possible future scenarios increased individualization in the pursuit of social goals or a more or less permanent return to the traditional extended family

Invitation to the Life Course Richard Settersten, 2018-02-06 Invitation to the Life Course Toward New Understandings of Later Life discusses in depth the challenges of age time and social contexts for the study of aging and later life Understanding aging as a process and later life as a period must be accompanied by serious attention to the life course This brings significant challenges related to time as gerontologists must describe and explain life patterns over many decades It also brings significant challenges related to place as gerontologists must examine how social contexts structure pathways into and through later life and how those contexts affect the nature and meaning of experiences along the way This book is a natural extension of the editor's previous work Lives in Time and Place The Problems and Promises of Developmental Science Baywood 1999
