African Urban Life The Transformation Of Ouagadougou:

African Urban Life: the Transformation of Ouagadougou Elliott Percival Skinner, 1974 The Description for this book African Urban Life Transformation of Ouagadougou will be forthcoming City Life in Africa Katja Werthmann, 2022-07-27 This book introduces readers to the anthropology of urban life in Africa showing what ethnography can teach us about African city dwellers own notions practices and reflections Social anthropologists have studied city life in Africa since the early 20th century Their works have addressed a number of questions that are relevant until today What happens to rural people who move to the city What kinds of livelihoods do they pursue How does city life affect moralities and practices connected with gender roles marriage parenthood and intergenerational relations In which social situations are ethnic and other collective identifications relevant How do people make a home in the city What forms of authority and leadership become relevant in urban governance How do people talk about city life This book asks what anthropologists have come to learn about Africans views on city life It provides a critical acclaim of ethnographies in English French and German and elucidates anthropology s contribution to understanding city life in Africa It highlights the significance of female African and Diaspora scholars for an emerging urban anthropology of Africa The chapters are organized according to everyday activities of city dwellers moving connecting governing working dwelling and wayfinding The book will be an essential read for students and researchers of social anthropology African and urban studies but also for professionals in research and development organizations thinktanks and other institutions concerned with urban Africa Urbanization and Social Change in West Africa Josef Gugler, William Flanagan, 1978-07-28 Originally published in 1978 as part of the Urbanization in Developing Countries series this is an interdisciplinary study of rapid urban growth in West Africa Gugler and Flanagan first explore the history of the cities of the early West African empires and they draw on the work of social anthropologists and sociologists as well as demographers economists geographers historians political scientists and social psychologists They then describe the urban explosion that the region experienced after World War II They explore the implications of widespread urban unemployment and underemployment the housing crisis and the emergence of metropolitan areas such as Lagos The literature on urbanization and social change in Black Africa in general and West Africa in particular expanded at a fast pace in the years preceding publication This critical review of the disparate findings filled a gap in African Studies and threw light on the understanding of Third World urbanization The Palgrave Handbook of Urban Ethnography Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2017-11-14 These ethnographically based studies of diverse urban experiences across the world present cutting edge research and stimulate an empirically grounded theoretical reconceptualization The essays identify ethnography as a powerful tool for making sense of life in our rapidly changing complex cities They stress the point that while there is no need to fetishize fieldwork or to view it as an end in itself its unique value cannot be overstated These active engaged researchers have produced essays that avoid abstractions and generalities while engaging with the analytical complexities of ethnographic evidence Together they prove the great value of knowledge produced by long term fieldwork to mainstream academic debates and more broadly to society The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Anthony Oliver, Michael Crowder, 1975 The eighth and final volume of The Cambridge History of Africa covers the period 1940-75 It begins with a discussion of the role of the Second World War in the political decolonisation of Africa Its terminal date of 1975 coincides with the retreat of Portugal the last European colonial power in Africa from its possessions and their accession to independence The fifteen chapters which make up this volume examine on both a continental and regional scale the extent to which formal transfer of political power by the European colonial rulers also involved economic social and cultural decolonisation A major theme of the volume is the way the African successors to the colonial rulers dealt with their inheritance and how far they benefited particular economic groups and disadvantaged others The contributors to this volume represent different disciplinary traditions and do not share a single theoretical perspective on the recent history of the continent a subject that is still the occasion for passionate debate

The New Economics Of The Less Developed Countries Nake Kamrany, 2019-07-11 After a quarter century of experimentation with economic development in the poorer countries the disarray and in some cases the calamitous results are so obvious that a fresh look at and reexamination of traditional assumptions methodologies theories and policies is needed The contributors to this volume explore with supporting theoretical frameworks and empirical evidence the new perceptions concerning the development of the poor countries providing clear and sophisticated treatments of North South bargaining commodity power indexation the theory of power and the international distribution of rights and resources and the effectiveness of international organizations as vehicles for conflict resolution The authors discuss the position and prospects of the non oil producing less developed countries focusing on measurements of the quality of life in these countries growth and income distribution policies and the effectiveness of public expenditures to enhance social welfare

Stigma and Culture J. Lorand Matory, 2015-12-02 In Stigma and Culture J Lorand Matory provocatively shows how ethnic identification in the United States and around the globe is a competitive and hierarchical process in which populations especially of historically stigmatized races seek status and income by dishonoring other stigmatized populations And there is no better place to see this than among the African American elite in academia where he explores the emergent ethnic identities of African and Caribbean immigrants and transmigrants Gullah Geechees Louisiana Creoles and even Native Americans of partly African ancestry Matory describes the competitive process that hierarchically structures their self definition as ethnic groups and the similar process by which middle class African Americans seek distinction from their impoverished compatriots Drawing on research at universities such as Howard Harvard and Duke and among their alumni networks he details how university life while facilitating individual upward mobility touting human equality and regaling cultural diversity also perpetuates the cultural standards that historically justified the dominance of some groups over others Combining his ethnographic findings with classic theoretical insights from Frantz Fanon Fredrik Barth Erving Goffman Pierre Bourdieu and others alongside stories from his own life in academia Matory sketches the university as an institution that particularly through the anthropological vocabulary of culture encourages the stigmatized to stratify their own

The African Poor John Iliffe, 1987-12-25 This history of the poor of Sub Saharan Africa begins in the monasteries of thirteenth century Ethiopia and ends in the South African resettlement sites of the 1980s Its thesis derived from histories of poverty in Europe is that most very poor Africans have been individuals incapacitated for labour bereft of support and unable to fend for themselves in a land rich economy There has emerged the distinct poverty of those excluded from access to productive resources Natural disaster brought widespread destitution but as a cause of mass mortality it was almost eliminated in the colonial era to return to those areas where drought has been compounded by administrative breakdown Professor Iliffe investigates what it was like to be poor how the poor sought to help themselves how their counterparts in other continents live The poor live as people rather than merely parading as statistics Famines have alerted the world to African poverty but the problem itself is ancient Its prevailing forms will not be understood until those of earlier periods are revealed and trends of change are identified This is a book for all concerned with the future of Africa as well as for students of poverty elsewhere
