Reading Biography Carl Rollyson, 2004 Most book reviewers know very little about the history or the art of biography Indeed if there is any art in biography it is the rare reviewer that acknowledges it or knows how to discuss it Usually the reviewer regards biography as an occasion to wax eloquent about what he or she thinks of the subject Little space if any is devoted to the biography's structure or style to the biographer's peculiar problems or to how the biography relates to others about the same subject Carl Rollyson a professional biographer and weekly columnist On Biography for The New York Sun explores the ramifications of authorized and unauthorized biographies investigates the relationship between biography and history biography and fiction biography and autobiography as well commenting on certain perennial biographical subjects such as Napoleon on sub genres such as children's biography and on the most recent developments in life writing Rollyson's aim is to reach not merely scholars but that vast general audience addicted to reading biography enhancing their pleasure by providing insight or you might say the inside word on how biographies are put together

The Stolen Notebooks SUSAN AUDREY GRUNDY, 2019-09-29 Art Historian Susan Grundy delves into reasons biographers assume a Tuscan painter Leonardo da Vinci wrote the Notebooks It was only in the nineteenth century that European scholars began to access these Notebooks in more depth transcribing the arcane backwards Italian and translating them into English Yet they discovered a man who did not seem to be Tuscan Leonardo da Vinci as he seemed to be a man from the East Yet this reality was closed down by researchers who seemed determined to continue with the myth of the self educated genius from a farm in Tuscany

Thinking Tools for Young Readers and Writers Carol Booth Olson, Angie Balias, Emily McCourtney, Mary Widtmann, 2018 In her new book bestselling author and professional developer Carol Booth Olson and colleagues show teachers how to help young readers and writers construct meaning from and with texts This practical resource offers a rich array of research based teaching strategies activities and extended lessons focused on the thinking tools employed by experienced readers and writers. It shows teachers how to draw on the natural connections between reading and writing and how cognitive strategies can be embedded into the teaching of narrative, informational, and argumentative texts. Including artifacts and written work produced by students across the grade levels, the authors connect the cognitive and affective domains for full student engagement. This book seamlessly bridges the gap from research to everyday practice. You get an extremely well organized set of overarching instructional principles that are right for our era and brought to life through well explained instructional guides and classroom activities.

Foreword by Judith Langer, University at Albany, SUNY. I have always admired Carol Booth Olson's work with secondary students and teachers. She now applies those essential principles and practices to elementary and middle school students.

Bravo! P. David Pearson, professor emeritus, University of California, Berkeley.
