Biodiversity And Agriculture Implications For Conservation And Development:

Biodiversity and Agriculture Jitendra Srivastava, Nigel J. H. Smith, 1996-01-01 Agriculture's vital role in biodiversity conservation and management Definition of biodiversity Biodiversity's links to agriculture Biodiversity and agriculture on a collision course Rationale for the World Bank's involvement in biodiversity management Biodiversity in the Bank's agricultural and environmental portfolios Towards a strategy for biodiversity conservation in harmony with agricultural development Using the Agricultural, Environmental, and Food Literature Barbara S. Hutchinson, Antoinette Paris-Greider, 2002-07-17 This reference provides the groundwork tools and terminology required when conducting specialized searches for information and resources pertaining to traditional and emerging fields of agriculture The editors present 16 contributions from librarians and other information workers that offer information on research resources across the academic a The Economics of Managing Crop Diversity On-farm Edilegnaw Wale, 2012-06-25 The purpose of this book is to assess a variety of economic issues as they relate to agro biodiversity and show how addressing these issues can assist in agro biodiversity policy making This is illustrated using empirical data from some of the countries Ethiopia Nepal and Zambia which are part of the Genetic Resources Policy Initiative The empirical chapters apply the relevant economic methods including regression analysis choice experiments hedonic pricing contingent valuation and farm business income analysis The authors discuss the economics of managing crop diversity on farm in the context of crop variety attribute preferences farmers perception of agro biodiversity loss and value addition and marketing of the products of traditional crop varieties The case studies include detailed analysis of traditional varieties of groundnut maize rice sorghum and teff The results are relevant not only to GRPI countries but also to other countries concerned with the sustainable utilization of these resources Overall the studies illustrate how genetic resources issues can be integrated into rural development interventions

Review and Planning Workshop of Systems Analysis and Impact Assessment Research , Experiences with Integrated-conservation Development Projects in Asia Malcolm Jansen, Susan Shen, 1997-01-01 China is in the throes of two transitions from a command economy to a market based one and from a rural agricultural society to an urban industrial one So far both transitions have been spectacularly successful China is the fastest growing economy in the world with per capita incomes more than quadrupling since 1978 achieving in two generations what took other countries centuries Although swift growth and structural change have resolved many problems they also have created new challenges employment insecurity growing inequality stubborn poverty mounting environmental pressures rising costs of food self sufficiency and periods of macroeconomic instability stemming from incomplete reforms Unmet these challenges could undermine the sustainability of growth and China's promise could fade China 2020 a seven volume set examines China's recent history where it is today and the path it should follow during the first two decades of the 21st century The volume in the set entitled At China's Table Food Security Options focuses on how China will avoid national chronic food insecurity The report evaluates solutions such as food storage and other alternatives for addressing the problems of transitory food insecurity from drought or other seasonal calamity It discusses national food security constraints and the investments required to maintain total factor productivity of 1.0 percent per year The study also models and projects food supply and demand for 2020

Managing for Healthy Ecosystems David J. Rapport, Bill L. Lasley, Dennis E. Rolston, N. Ole Nielsen, Calvin O. Qualset, Ardeshir B. Damania, 2002-10-29 One of the critical issues of our time is the dwindling capacity of the planet to provide life support for a large and growing human population Based on a symposium on ecosystem health Managing for Healthy Ecosystems identifies key issues that must be resolved if there is to be progress in this complex area such as Evolving methods for regional ecosystem health assessment employing complex adaptive systems coupled with adaptive technologies to permit accurate determination of changes in regional and global environments Issues and methods for assessing monitoring and managing diversity and its impact on human health in the context of climate change agroecosystems restoration of forests politics culture and tradition Leading thinkers in the field provide a coherent synthesis and a benchmark for the practice of this emerging field worldwide The more than 100 peer reviewed papers are grouped into three major parts The first Emerging Concepts explores the diverse meanings of ecosystem health within ecological socio economic and human health perspectives and the linkages to related concepts such as ecological integrity sustainable development and ecological footprints The second part Issues and Methods introduces methods for assessing and monitoring ecosystem health including strategies for gaining political and stakeholder input and support for science based ecosystem management The final part Case Studies reports experiences of interdisciplinary teams grappling with specific issues in a variety of aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems

The Global Food Economy Tony Weis, 2008-02-29 The Global Food Economy examines the human and ecological cost of what we eat The current food economy is characterized by immense contradictions Surplus food mountains bountiful supermarkets and rising levels of obesity stand in stark contrast to widespread hunger and malnutrition Transnational companies dominate the market in food and benefit from subsidies whilst farmers in developing countries remain impoverished Food miles mounting toxicity and the ecological hoofprint of livestock mean that the global food economy rests on increasingly shaky environmental foundations This book looks at how such a system came about and how it is being enforced by the WTO Ultimately Weis considers how we can find a way of building socially just ecologically rational and humane food economies

Multifunctional Rural Land Management Floor Brouwer, 2012 The increasing demand for rural land and its natural resources is creating competition and conflicts Many interested parties including farmers nature conservationists rural residents and tourists compete for the same space Especially in densely populated areas agriculture recreation urban and suburban growth and infrastructure development exert a constant pressure on rural areas Because land is a finite resource spatial policies which are formulated and implemented to increase the area allocated to one use imply a decrease in land available for other uses As a result at many locations multi purpose land use is becoming increasingly important This notion of multi purpose land use is reflected in the term multifunctionality This volume provides insights into viable strategies of sustainable management practices allowing multiple functions sustained by agriculture and natural resources in rural areas It shows how the rural economy and policies can balance and cope with these competing demands and includes numerous case studies from Europe North America and developing countries Forum for Applied Research and Public Policy ,1997 Technology Institutions and Policies Melvin Goldman,1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 383 This paper summarizes the findings of a multisector study designed to examine the efficacy and importance of various technology policies technology support institutions incentive measures and other sources of technological know how It examines how various firms in different sectors and countries improve their technology to increase productivity and product quality and develop new products and processes Economies studied in this report included Canada China Hungary India Japan Republic of Korea Mexico and Taiwan China
