Green Building Best:

The World's Greenest Buildings Jerry Yudelson, 2013-01-17 The World's Greenest Buildings tackles an audacious task Among the thousands of green buildings out there which are the best and how do we know Authors Jerry Yudelson and Ulf Meyer examined hundreds of the highest rated large green buildings from around the world and asked their owners to supply one simple thing actual performance data to demonstrate their claims to sustainable operations This pivotal book presents an overview of the rating systems and shows best in class building performance in North America Europe the Middle East India China Australia and the Asia Pacific region practical examples of best practices for greening both new and existing buildings a practical reference for how green buildings actually perform at the highest level one that takes you step by step through many different design solutions a wealth of exemplary case studies of successful green building projects using actual performance data from which to learn interviews with architects engineers building owners and developers and industry experts to provide added insight into the greening process This guide uncovers some of the pitfalls that lie ahead for sustainable design and points the way toward much faster progress in the decade ahead Sustainable Construction

Charles J. Kibert, 2008 Sustainable Construction uses the latest US Green Building Council's Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design standard to explain the best practices in building procurement and delivery systems Sustainability on University Campuses: Learning, Skills Building and Best Practices Walter Leal Filho, Ugo Bardi, 2019-06-03 The implementation of sustainability initiatives on campuses is an essential component of promoting sustainability in the higher education context In addition to reflecting an awareness of environmental issues campus programmes demonstrate how seriously universities take sustainability at the institutional level There is a lack of truly interdisciplinary publications that comprehensively address the issue of campus greening and there is an even greater need for publications that do so at a truly international level This book meets these needs It is one of the outcomes of the Second Symposium on Sustainability in University Campuses SSUC 2018 which was jointly organised by the University of Florence Italy Manchester Metropolitan University UK the Research and Transfer Centre Sustainable Development and Climate Change Management and the European School of Sustainability Science and Research at the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences Germany in cooperation with the Inter University Sustainable Development Research Programme IUSDRP The book showcases examples of campus based research and teaching projects regenerative campus design low carbon and zero carbon buildings waste prevention and resilient transport among others Ultimately it demonstrates the role of campuses as platforms for transformative social learning and research and explores the means by which university campuses can be made more sustainable The aims of this publication are as follows to provide universities with essential information on campus greening and sustainable campus development initiatives from around the world to share ideas and lessons learned in the course of research teaching and projects on campus greening and design especially successful initiatives and good practice and to introduce methodological approaches and projects intended to integrate the topic of sustainable development in campus design and operations This book gathers contributions from researchers and practitioners in the field of campus greening and sustainable development in the widest sense from business and economics to the arts administration and the environment and hailing from Europe Latin America North America and Asia

The World's Greenest Buildings Jerry Yudelson,Ulf Meyer,2013 Provides the first comparison of green building performance using cost and energy use data that has been verified by independent third parties

Positive Development Janis Birkeland,2012-05-16 Janis Birkeland presents the innovative new paradigm of Positive Development in which the built environment provides greater life quality health amenity and safety for all without sacrificing resources or money With a different form of design development itself can become a sustainability solution A cornerstone of this new paradigm is the eco retrofitting of the vast urban fabric we already inhabit The author presents a revolutionary new tool called SmartMode to achieve this end This book challenges everyone working in or studying the areas of sustainable development planning architecture or the built environment to rethink their current ideas and practices
