Britain Divided The Growth Of Social Exclusion In The 1980s And 1990s:

Race', Housing and Social Exclusion Andy Steele, Peter Somerville, 2001-09-24 The contributors analyse the implications of social exclusion offering suggestions for good practice in the allocation of housing for black and other ethnic minority groups This book shows how racism and the shortage of housing workers from black and other ethnic minorities constrain the choices available to these groups

The Legacy of Thatcherism Stephen Farrall, Colin Hay, 2014-02-27 Examining the policies of the Thatcher governments helps us understand the economic and social conditions in Britain today The book explores Thatcherite policies on the economy social welfare housing education crime families and social inequality and examines what can be said about the legacy of Thatcherism for the 21st century

British Librarianship and Information Work 1991-2000 J.H. Bowman, 2017-07-28 This important reference volume covers developments in almost every aspect of British library and information work during the ten year period 1991 2000 Some forty contributors all of whom are experts in their subject provide a robust overview of their specialities along with extensive further references which act as a starting point for further research The book provides a comprehensive record of what took place in library and information management during a decade of considerable change and challenges It is an essential reference resource for librarians and information professionals

Initiatives with Youth-at-risk in Hong Kong Francis Wing-lin Lee, 2009-07-01 Written by a host of scholars frontline practitioners and supervisors of related expertise this edited volume in nine chapters is a welcome addition to the study of the problems and practical issues of Youth at risk YAR in the context of Hong Kong With an excellent and interesting analysis of a wide range of intervention programmes this volume will help readers explore different initiatives for working with YAR both theoretically and practically Published by City University of Hong Kong Press

Human Geography of the UK David Graham, Irene Hardill, Eleonore Kofman, 2013-01-11 This new key textbook for introductory courses in human geography provides first and second year undergraduates with a comprehensive thematic approach to the changing human geography of the UK at the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century Covering local regional national European and global issues it also explores in some detail topics which are part of the lived experience of undergraduates themselves such as crime unemployment social exclusion and AIDS User friendly textbook features include chapter introductions summaries and important theoretical principles up to date further reading and key on line sources case studies examples and revision questions

The Marketization of Social Security John C. Dixon, Mark Hyde, 2001-03-30 Much could be gained from the privatization of social security but can the gains actually be delivered Dixon Hyde and their contributing authors take a balanced look at where we are now and where we seem to be moving on the issues of social security privatization and come up skeptical There will be tradeoffs but will the benefits outweigh the costs Their volume examines a variety of settings in Latin America Asia Europe North America and Africa where the marketization of social security appears most hotly contested As a contribution to this new energetic global policy discourse the book will be of special interest to policymakers in the public and private sectors and particularly in organizations where concerns about the growing cost of employee benefits have become critical Dixon Hyde and the others start by showing how the concept of social security has changed dramatically over the last 20 years not just in the United States but throughout the world The collectivist ideology that has long underpinned social security policy has been challenged by the emergence of an ideology of individualism But can one presume that the desires of government to privatize are driven purely by the need to achieve neoliberal policy goals by that means Too simplistic say the contributors Marketization offers the promise of reduced dependency on the state reduced public expenditure and thus lower taxes enhanced competitiveness internationally more efficient delivery of social security services and other advantages but whether these promises would be kept seems to depend on a variety of factors Among them explored in this volume are the level of development and sophistication of the capital markets the degree of market competition that can be achieved and sustained and the capacity of the state to develop and implement governance mechanisms to ensure that private providers act in the public interest The volume also examines two daunting challenges to governments how to design a set of regulations that can protect the public interest in perpetuity and how to resist the calls for government subsidies to support the economic rent expectations of privatized providers The contributors and editors develop these and other points concisely and readably and in doing so offer important lessons from the experiences of others worldwide Handbook of Library Training Practice and Development Alan Brine, 2016-04-22

Librarians must now work at a different level from that required 20 years ago but the training available is not always appropriate or accessible to all The authors of this volume have responded to this significant and continuing change within the profession by offering a much needed guide to best practice for staff training and development in library and information work This handbook addresses new aspects of service provision both in the UK and abroad and provides an up to date review of the current developments that are becoming increasingly important to librarians through the influence of the electronic age and the widening of areas of professional involvement The Handbook of Library Training Practice and Development will be invaluable to those responsible for the development of staff and line managers as well as providing a crucial insight into the information profession for anyone new to this career path or looking to develop their knowledge within it Policy

Responses To Social Exclusion Janie Percy-Smith, 2000-09-16 This timely book examines current policy responses to social exclusion It begins by asking the questions what do we mean by social exclusion What are the dimensions of social exclusion How is it measured and what are the common threads that run through contemporary policy Each contribution addresses a different area of policy describing the context for the intervention examining key themes and issues and assessing the likely effectiveness of policies The final chapter asks the question how should we assess the impact of policy to address social exclusion and then provides a possible framework for evaluation Policy Responses to Social Exclusion is recommended reading for advanced undergraduates and post graduates on social policy social administration and public policy courses It will also be of interest to a wide range of policy makers and practitioners in local government central government and voluntary agencies involved in developing and implementing policy responses to social exclusion Late-Life

Homelessness Amanda Grenier, 2022-01-15 Around the world and across a range of contexts homelessness among older people is on the rise In spite of growing media attention and new academic research on the issue older people often remain unrecognized as a subpopulation in public policy programs and homeless strategies As such they occupy a paradoxical position of being hypervisible while remaining overlooked Late Life Homelessness is the first Canadian book to address this often neglected issue Basing her analysis on a four year ethnographic study of late life homelessness in Montreal Canada Amanda Grenier uses a critical gerontological perspective to explore life at the intersection of aging and homelessness She draws attention to disadvantage over time and how the condition of being unhoused disrupts a person's ability to age in place resulting in experiences of unequal aging Weaving together findings from policy documents stakeholder insights and observations and interviews with older people this book demonstrates how structures organizational practices and relationships related to homelessness and aging come to shape late life Situated in the context of an aging population rising inequality and declining social commitments Late Life Homelessness stresses the moral imperative of responding justly to the needs of older people as a means of mitigating the unequal aging of unhoused elders Unequal Security Peter

Starke, Laust Lund Elbek, Georg Wenzelburger, 2024-09-30 We live in an age of insecurity The Global Financial Crisis the Covid 19 pandemic the wars in Ukraine and Gaza and the climate crisis are just the most evident examples of shocks that have increased the level of insecurity among elites and citizens in recent years And yet there is ample evidence that insecurity is not equally distributed across populations Bringing together disciplines such as political science criminology sociology and anthropology and combining quantitative and qualitative studies from a wide range of rich and middle income countries this collection presents a new framework for exploring the two key social challenges of our times insecurity and inequality together The volume analyses the nature causes and distribution of subjective insecurities and how various actors use or respond to unequal security The essays cover a host of themes including the unequal spatial distribution of insecurity unequal access to security provision in relation to crime and welfare the impact of insecurity on political attitudes as well as policy responses and the political exploitation of insecurity An important contribution to debates across several social scientific disciplines as well as current public debate on insecurity and politics the volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of criminology social policy peace and conflict studies politics and international relations sociology development studies and economics It will also be of interest to policymakers and government think tanks
