British Cars Of The Early Thirties 1930 1934:

British Cars of the Early Thirties Bart H. Vanderveen, 1973 British Cars of the Early Thirties, 1930-1934 Olyslager Organisation, 1973 Art Deco and British Car Design Barrie Down, 2010 This is a book about automotive styling in particular the streamlined styling that defined what are now known as Airline cars During the mid 1930s the majority of British car manufacturers and coachbuilders experimented with streamlined styling This fashion was the result of Art Deco an international movement that influenced design and marketing in many different industries and produced some of the most unique and visually exhilarating cars ever produced in Britain Part One of the book explains and illustrates the Art Deco styling elements that link these streamlined car designs and describes their development their commonality and their unique aeronautical names The stories of the individual cars their designers and their development are told in Part Two Here Barrie Down has collected examples of all the significant British streamlined production cars made between 1933 and 1936 many of them still represented by beautifully restored survivors The book is well illustrated with over 200 contemporary pictures and colour photographs of existing cars many of which have never before been published This book is an instructive and visual feast for all car lovers A Bibliography of Design in Britain, 1851-1970 Anthony J. Coulson, Design Council, 1979

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1973 The Industrial Archaeology and Industrial History of the English Midlands John Greenwood, 1987 Monographic Series Library of Congress, 1974 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976 American Book Publishing Record R.R. Bowker Company, 1978 Transient Workspaces Clapperton Chakanetsa Mavhunga, 2014-09-19 An account of technology in Africa from an African perspective examining hunting in Zimbabwe as an example of an innovative mobile workspace In this book Clapperton Mavhunga views technology in Africa from an African perspective Technology in his account is not something always brought in from outside but is also something that ordinary people understand make and practice through their everyday innovations or creativities including things that few would even consider technological Technology does not always originate in the laboratory in a Western style building but also in the society in the forest in the crop field and in other places where knowledge is made and turned into practical outcomes African creativities are found in African mobilities Mavhunga shows the movement of people as not merely conveyances across space but transient workspaces Taking indigenous hunting in Zimbabwe as one example he explores African philosophies of mobilities as spiritually guided and of the forest as a sacred space Viewing the hunt as guided mobility Mavhunga considers interesting questions of what constitutes technology under regimes of spirituality He describes how African hunters extended their knowledge traditions to domesticate the gun how European colonizers with no remedy of their own turned to indigenous hunters for help in combating the deadly tsetse fly and examines how wildlife conservation regimes have criminalized African hunting rather than enlisting hunters and their knowledge as allies in wildlife sustainability The hunt Mavhunga writes is one of many criminalized knowledges and practices to which African people turn in times of economic or political crisis He argues that these practices need to be decriminalized and examined as technologies of everyday innovation with a view toward constructive engagement innovating with Africans rather than for them
