British Farming Changing Policies And Production Systems:

British Farming Eric S Carter, Malcolm Stansfield, 1994 This work describes the role and main production activities of current British agriculture The book starts with a summary of recent policy and structural changes then deals in turn with the main enterprise types arable dairy beef and sheep pigs and poultry A case study looks at the impact of agricultural change on one location and then general conclusions about the social and particularly the environmental aspects of agriculture are drawn Introduction to Rural Planning Nick Gallent, Meri Juntti, Sue Kidd, Dave Shaw, 2008-01-14 Providing an overview of rural spatial planning for students on planning geography and related programmes this book charts the major patterns and processes of rural change affecting the British countryside its landscape its communities and its economies in the twentieth century The authors examine the role of planning in shaping rural spaces not only the statutory comprehensive planning that emerged in the post war period but also planning and rural programme delivery undertaken by central regional and local policy agencies The book is designed to accompany a typical teaching programme in rural planning and considers the nature of rural areas and the emergence of statutory planning in England the agents of rural policy delivery and the potential for current planning practice to become a policy hub at the local level co ordinating the actions and programmes of different agents economic change in the countryside and the influence planning has in shaping rural economies social change the nature of rural communities and recent debates on housing and rural service provision environmental change the changing fortunes of farming landscape protection and the idea of a multi functional landscape made by forces that can be shaped by the planning process key areas of current concern in spatial rural planning including debates surrounding city regions the rural the challenge of managing rural change in the twenty first century through new planning and governance processes A comprehensive coverage of the forces processes and outcomes of rural change whilst keeping planning s influence and role in clear view at all times Agricultural Policy Monitoring and Evaluation 2022 Reforming Agricultural Policies for Climate Change Mitigation OECD, 2022-06-23 This annual report monitors and evaluates agricultural policies in 54 countries including the 38 OECD countries the five non OECD EU Member States and 11 emerging economies It finds that the continued rise in agricultural support has been slower than sector growth in recent years but has been driven to record highs mainly by temporary factors Rural Transformations and Rural Policies in the US and UK Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, Sally Shortall, Jo Vergunst, Mildred E. Warner, 2012-02-27 This book examines the transformations of rural society and economy in the UK and US during the last half century and explores the significance of these trends and changes for community sustainability quality of life and the environment While both the UK and US are highly urbanised rural people and communities continue to contribute to national identity economic development and social solidarity as well as to environmental quality Contributors explore the degree to which rural people exhibit agency and autonomy rather than being merely passive in the face of exogenous forces of change in a globalised world They also illuminate very different policy approaches to rural policy in two advanced capitalist societies often thought to be similar and show how fundamental differences in rural policy approaches of the US and the UK are based on different social ideologies and values that shape policies relating to rural areas This book will help to stimulate transatlantic dialogue on rural scholarship and rural policy analysis while also contributing to theory and policy development It will be of interest to researchers students and everyone involved in the policy and practice of rural development The UK Government's
