Ships of the Royal Navy J J Colledge, Ben Warlow, 2021-02-28 Newly updated fifth edition The remarkable reference that is absolutely essential in every naval historian's library Warship World This is the latest updated edition of the book known simply as Colledge for its longtime reputation as the first stop for anyone wanting more information on any British warship from the fifteenth century to the present day when only the name is known Each entry gives concise details of dimensions armament and service dates and the volume's alphabetical and chronological arrangement makes it easy to track down the right ship avoiding the confusion and errors that can result due to the Royal Navy's tradition of re using the same names This fifth edition contains some 200 new entries and revisions to many older entries These reflect the demise of the post Cold War ships as the Royal Navy was shrunk down as part of the peace dividend and successive defense reviews saw the loss of significant ships classes such as the Type 42 destroyers Type 22 frigates and the Illustrious class carriers It is now being re equipped in the face of new global challenges and has seen the introduction of the Queen Elizabeth class carriers the largest ships ever built for the RN the Type 45 destroyers and Type 26 frigates and new patrol ships which will take on more global policing roles Regarding submarines the Cold War S and T classes are being replaced by the Astute class and the deterrent role undertaken by the Vanguard class is to be carried forward by the Dreadnought class Also included are the new RFAs which are increasingly taking on frontline operations to release the small number of escorts to more combative roles In addition there are updates to the Royal Australian Canadian and New Zealand navies which have programs to introduce new destroyers Arctic patrol vessels submarines and support ships Since the death of Jim Colledge who was widely respected for his pioneering research on the technical details of warships his magnum opus has been updated corrected and expanded with similar enthusiasm and attention to detail by Ben Warlow a retired naval officer and author of a number of books in the field An authoritative guide to British warships through the ages Ships Monthly The automatic starting point of research on Royal Navy ships Lloyd's List A quite invaluable reference tool The Mariner's Mirror Marine News, 2003 British Warship Losses in the Modern Era David Hepper, 2022-07-31 This important new reference work details all those ships and vessels of the Royal Navy large and small which were lost by accident or enemy action during the twentieth century from the end of the First World War to the last years of the century In all the fates of over 2 000 ships and small craft are covered from aircraft carriers and battleships to motor launches harbour tenders and tugs Those vessels hired or purchased for wartime service such as trawlers paddle steamers and yachts are also listed During wartime ships are lost it is their purpose to go in harm's way Hostile gunfire torpedoes and mines were established threats throughout the period while the increasing threat of air attack and the introduction of weapons employing new technology such as influence triggered mines homing torpedoes or air launched guided weapons added to the risks of operating in a hostile environment Ships operating in extremely hazardous conditions such as at Dunkirk in 1940 or Singapore in 1942 suffered heavy losses in brief concentrated conflicts

but the long continuous campaigns such as the Atlantic convoys or the constant need to sweep for mines also took their toll. Peacetime losses are dominated by submarine casualties demonstrating the dangerous character of that service. To this may be added the hazardous nature of the sea itself when ships are lost in heavy weather, sometimes human error or plain foolishness may play a part. The core of the book is taken up by those losses experienced during the Second World War, but peacetime losses and more recent conflicts such as the Falklands War of 1982 are included. Arranged chronologically, every entry notes the outline details of the vessel, identifies the Commanding Officer where known, and gives a full and often harrowing account of the circumstances of the loss and the number of casualties. The details come from extensive original research using primary source material wherever possible, particularly the relevant War Diaries and the collected loss and damage reports, casualty reports, and reports of proceedings now in the National Archives. Wartime losses of the Dominions are included to ensure completeness. This comprehensive record of warship losses from all causes suffered by the Royal Navy over the past one hundred years is the first single volume work on the subject and represents a major milestone in naval research and publishing.
