Americas In The New International Division Of Labor:

The Americas in the New International Division of Labor Steven E. Sanderson, 1985 The New International Division of Labour Guido Starosta, 2016-06-02 This book revisits the debate over the new international division of labour NIDL that dominated discussions in international political economy and development studies until the early 1990s It submits that a revised NIDL thesis can shed light on the specificities of capitalist development in various parts of the world today Taken together the contributions amount to a novel value theoretical approach to understanding the NIDL This rests upon the distinction between the global economic content that determines the constitution and dynamics of the NIDL and the evolving national political forms that mediate its development More specifically the authors argue that uneven development is an expression of the underlying essential unity of the production of relative surplus value on a world scale They substantiate and illustrate this argument through several international case studies including Argentina Brazil Ecuador Ireland South Korea Spain and Venezuela The Americas in the New International Division of Labor Steven E. Sanderson, 1985-01-01 Perspectives on Las Américas Mathew C. Gutmann, Félix V. Rodríguez, Lynn Stephen, Patricia Zavella, 2008-04-15 Perspectives on Las Am ricas A Reader in Culture History and Representation charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States This landmark volume presents key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latina os across the Americas thereby challenging the barriers between Latina o Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies Brings together key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latina os across the Americas Charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States Challenges the barriers between Latina o Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies as approached by anthropologists historians and other scholars Offers instructors students and interested readers both the theoretical tools and case studies necessary to rethink transnational realities and identities Regional Analysis and the New International Division of Labor F. Moulaert, P.W. Salinas, 2013-03-09 Throughout the world a sense of crisis has settled in like a nightmare that refuses to leave We look towards the horizon with apprehension Major changes are afoot Older industrial regions once rich and powerful stand by helplessly as factories close down Poor countries are sliding into bankruptcy unable even to feed their populations In a few scattered enclaves called ex port platforms new manufacturing plants spring up overnight they employ predominantly young unmarried women and ship their products to unknown destinations overseas Small companies are eaten up by bigger ones which in turn are absorbed by still larger conglomerates Some industrial sectors are wiped out altogether Tensions between states are increasing More and more countries are coming under military rule Torture and terrorism are turned into tools of official state policy Civil wars are fought in Central America Northern Africa and Southeast Asia International conflict flares up between Britain and Argentina Iraq and Iran Ethiopia and Somalia Economic growth has slowed to a crawl Inflation undercuts the livelihood of the poor The small producer is ruined It appears that we are involved in a major restructuring of the capitalist world The problems are profits capital accumulation and efficiency in production To make the indicators point up whole regions are sacrificed new technologies are put in place and new locational patterns are created as the world is carved up into a new international division of labor The Transformation of Mexican Agriculture S. Sanderson, 2014-07-14 In spite of the most thorough agrarian reform in nonsocialist Latin America Mexico cannot feed its population Steven Sanderson attributes the problems of Mexican agriculture to an internationalization of the food system promoted by the Mexican state the trade system and agribusiness Originally published in 1986 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Politics of Trade in Latin American Development Steven E. Sanderson, 1992 In this innovative synthesis and reconstruction of the role of trade in Latin American development the author asks what have been the political terms of trade in Latin America and why have they differed so much from the multilateral and national trade politics of the advanced capitalist countries especially the United States He shows in great detail how a new conceptual approach to this question can help us to understand why and with what limits Latin America now seems ready to accept the mantle of free trade This book is a unique attempt to link some of the most provocative hypotheses from the literatures of international trade development regional economic history and resource management to national politics in Latin America It takes a fresh look at old academic questions critiques the received knowledge on trade and offers some new data documents and indexes To the standard literature on Latin American trade the author adds insights and information from other literatures resource conservation poverty alleviation and national development strategies to name a few The current trend toward looking at constraints and possibilities in the trade system is reshaped to ask familiar questions in a concrete empirical way What changes in development design come from external shock and under what conditions Does the pressure of the international system actually force Latin American countries to alter their rates and kinds of natural resource exploitation Can a political course of export promotion address the debt crisis effectively Are the multilateral trade negotiations a useful format for Latin American trade and development problems And finally can we say anything with authority about Latin America as a region

Any Way You Cut it Donald D. Stull, Michael J. Broadway, David Craig Griffith, David Griffith, 1995 Many rural communities attract meat poultry and fish processing plants owned by transnational corporations They often bring social disorder in their wake incoming workers This work offers anthropological geographical sociological journalist and industrial perspectives on the issue Asian and Latino Immigrants in a Restructuring Economy Marta López-Garza, 2002-06-01

Experiencing both the enormous benefits and the serious detriments of globalization and economic restructuring Southern California serves as a magnet for immigrants from many parts of the world This volume advances an emerging body of work that centers this region s future on the links between the two fastest growing racial groups in California Asians and Latinos and the economic and social mainstream of this important sector of the global economy The contributors to the anthology scholars and community leaders with social science urban planning and legal backgrounds provide a multi faceted analysis of gender class and race relations They also examine various forms of immigrant economic participation from low wage workers to entrepreneurs and capital investors Asian and Latino Immigrants in a Restructuring Economy documents the entrenchment of various immigrant communities in the socio political and economic fabric of United States society and these communities role in transforming the Los Angeles region

Latin America's Global Border System Beatriz Zepeda, Fernando Carrión Mena, Francisco Enríquez Bermeo, 2022-05-05 Latin America s Global Border System is the opening volume in the first collection of academic works devoted exclusively to borders and illegal markets in Latin America This volume features expert discussions on border issues of Argentina Brazil Bolivia Ecuador Guatemala Italy Mexico and Peru as well as studies on illegal markets cities and gender as a first step to understanding the intricacies of the global border system of illegal markets and Latin America s role in it The book constitutes a valuable source of information on the geographic economic demographic and social characteristics of the most important Latin American border regions and their relation to global illegal markets while also offering valuable insights into the ways illegal markets are organized in each country and how they connect across borders to create the global border system This book will not only be a valuable resource for academics and students of international relations security studies border studies and contemporary Latin America but will also prove relevant to national and international policy makers devoted to foreign security and development policies
