Blacks And Social Justice:

Blacks and Social Justice Bernard R. Boxill, 1992-08-27 In this acclaimed study Bernard Boxill examines the works of modern theorists James Coleman Robert Nozick Ernest Van den Haag Milton Friedman William Julius Wilson and Ronald Dworkin among others and classical thinkers such as Karl Marx John Stuart Mill and W E B Dubois to delineate the principal arguments for and against the major racial issues of our time The revised edition includes a major new chapter The Surrender to Injustice which critically examines the recent challenges to traditional analyses of the effects of racism by William Julius Wilson Glenn Loury and Shelby Steele Back cover      Liberating Visions Robert Michael Franklin, The four men spotlighted in this book together with other black religious and political leaders and communities have developed distinctive and significant traditions of moral thinking and social criticism Although the principal concern of these thinkers was social justice entailing significant institutional transformations in American society they were also attentive to the substantive content and formal character of the authentically free life and moral person Indeed most of them realized that authentic liberation required personal as well as social transformation Despite the significance and diversity of perspective in black theology however much of it does not adequately attend to the host of issues related to personal identity wholeness and fulfillment This general inattention to the personal dimension of the liberation enterprise has important consequences Failure to understand the person centered dimension of a broader inclusive societal transformation can lead to a disturbing paradox an optimism concerning the future of society existing alongside personal and familial disintegration despair and frustration Our method for correcting the perspectival imbalance in black theology is to identify the finest and most trusted resources and reflections on personal wholeness in the modern black community and to present them for revision reconsideration and possible reappropriation In this book I examine visions of human fulfillment and of the just society as presented by Booker T Washington 1856 1915 W E B Du Bois 1868 1963 Malcolm X 1925 1965 and Martin Luther King Jr 1929 1968 As I examined the ranks of post Reconstruction African American leaders I did so with an eye for those whose intellectual and political influence upon past and present Americans could be characterized as monumental      Racism, African Americans, and Social Justice Rudolph Alexander Jr., 2005-04-07 One philosopher identified and defined five types of justice interpersonal justice commutative justice distributive justice communal justice and social justice Moving from the end of slavery to the present this book discusses how and why African Americans have received less than equal justice in these five areas This thesis is laid out in chapters discussing the history of race and what some professionals currently call modern racism higher education juvenile justice law enforcement the military economics the reparations for slavery issue and employment discrimination Arguments presented include the differential treatments in the law based on gender and race the false impression about the affirmative action benefits that African Americans allegedly receive in higher education and the issue of reparations

Jr.,2013-06-17 The late 1980s ushered in a new era of black politics the socioeconomic transition era Coming on the heels of the protest era and politics era the current stage is characterized by the emergence of a new black middle class that came of age after the Civil Rights struggle Although class still isn't a strong factor in the external politics of the black community it is increasingly a wedge issue in the community's internal politics Black politics today is increasingly less about the interest of the larger group and more about the interest of smaller subgroups within the community Theodore J Davis Jr argues that the greatest threat to the social and political cohesiveness of the so called black community may be the rise of a socially and economically privileged group among the ranks of black America This rift has affected blacks ability to organize effectively and influence politics Davis traces the changes in economic status public opinion political power and participation and leadership over three generations of black politics The result is an insightful analysis of black politics today

The Color of Our Shame Christopher J. Lebron,2013-09-09 For many Americans the election of Barack Obama as the country's first black president signaled that we had become a post racial nation some even suggested that race was no longer worth discussing Of course the evidence tells a very different story And while social scientists are fully engaged in examining the facts of race normative political thought has failed to grapple with race as an interesting moral case or as a focus in the expansive theory of social justice Political thought's under participation in the debate over the status of blacks in American society raises serious concerns since the main academic task of political theory is to adjudicate discrepancies between the demands of ideal justice and social realities Christopher J Lebron contends that it is the duty of political thought to address the moral problems that attend racial inequality and to make those problems salient to a democratic polity Thus in The Color of Our Shame he asks two major questions First given the success of the Civil Rights Act and the sharp decline in overt racist norms how can we explain the persistence of systemic racial inequality Second once we have settled on an explanation what might political philosophy have to offer in terms of a solution In order to answer these questions Lebron suggests that we reconceive of racial inequality as a condition that marks the normative status of black citizens in the eyes of the nation He argues that our collective response to racial inequality ought to be shame While we reject race as a reason for marginalizing blacks on the basis of liberal democratic ideals we fail to live up to those ideals a situation that Lebron sees as a failure of national character Drawing on a wide array of resources including liberal theory virtue ethics history and popular culture Lebron proposes a move toward a perfectionist politics that would compel a higher level of racially relevant moral excellence from individuals and institutions and enable America to meet the democratic ideals that it has set for itself
