Rachel Fell McDermott, 2001-03-01 This vibrant collection presents 145 brief Bengali lyric poems dedicated to the Hindu goddesses Kali and Uma These poems many of which are presented here for the first time in English translation were written from the early eighteenth century up to the contemporary period They represent the unique Bengali tradition of goddess worship Saktism as it developed over this period Included are forty poems by the most famous of all Sakta poets Ramprasad Sen c 1718 1775 and ten lyrics by the renowned 20th century poet Kaji Najrul Islam McDermott's lucid introduction places these works in their historical context and shows how images of the goddesses evolved over the centuries Her lively translations of these poetic lyrics evoke the passion and devotion of the followers of Kali and Uma and shed light on the history and practice of goddess worship Tuyul Rudiyan, 2019-02-06 My presence is due to your wishes not to my desires among you Even before you know what I want and what I need remember that When you can do it is it wrong if we walk according to the agreement I just need attention like a little child in general I like playing and having enough food for my nutrition I don't ask for fancy clothes vacations or higher education Please understand I'm just asking for your attention Love me treat me care about me surely I will give the best for this family I am your child who only needs love please don't abandon me I only need a good rest feed me breastfeed me let me be a good child healthy body with proper nutrition Buku persembahan penerbit Ebook Indonesia Why We Ride Verna Dreisbach, 2010-04-27 Women and their horses a symbiotic relationship based on trust camaraderie friendship and love In Why We Ride Verna Dreisbach collects the stories of women who ride sharing their personal emotions and accounts of the most important animals in their lives This collection of stories includes the heartfelt thoughts of a range of women those who rode as children those who spent their girlhood years dreaming of owning a pony and those who have made a lifelong hobby or career out of riding Each story reveals how horses have made an impact in the lives of these women With a foreword by bestselling novelist Jane Smiley Why We Ride offers a reflective view on the relationships between women and horses Sweetgrass: Book I Patricia Ann Kuess, 2011-09-07

Easterner Johnathan Traver joined the Union Army to die a glorious crimson death He feels a valiant death will liberate him from his abusive boyhood Yet in April of 1862 right after the victory in the battle of Shiloh he is still alive while thousands of others have perished Sergeant Traver faces a challenge he firmly believes they're fighting a modern war that calls for modern tactics Travers new training techniques could change the course of the Civil War and he teaches them to his squad company and regiment But the army regards his efforts as seditious and views Traver as a traitor On a personal level Travers authority could be threatened when he falls in love with eighteen year old Esher Coley a new recruit from the West As they become warrior companions their focus shifts A profound Civil War love story that overcomes ingrained pain and heals old wounds Sweetgrass Book I communicates a triumph of the spirit Roman Sexualities Judith P. Hallett, Marilyn B.

Skinner, 2020-10-06 This collection of essays seeks to establish Roman constructions of sexuality and gender difference as a distinct area of research complementing work already done on Greece to give a fuller picture of ancient sexuality By applying feminist critical tools to forms of public discourse including literature history law medicine and political oratory the essays explore the hierarchy of power reflected so strongly in most Roman sexual relations where noblemen acted as the penetrators and women boys and slaves the penetrated In many cases the authors show how these roles could be inverted in ways that revealed citizens anxieties during the days of the early Empire when traditional power structures seemed threatened In the essays Jonathan Walters defines the impenetrable male body as the ideational norm Holt Parker and Catharine Edwards treat literary and legal models of male sexual deviance Anthony Corbeill unpacks political charges of immoral behavior at banquets while Marilyn B Skinner Ellen Oliensis and David Fredrick trace linkages between social status and the gender role of the male speaker in Roman lyric and elegy Amy Richlin interrogates popular medical belief about the female body Sandra R Joshel examines the semiotics of empire underlying the historiographic portrayal of the empress Messalina Judith P Hallett and Pamela Gordon critique Roman caricatures of the woman desiring woman and Alison Keith discovers subversive allusions to the tragedy of Dido in the elegist Sulpicia's self depiction as a woman in love Palladia

Mrs. Hugh Fraser, 1896 From My Life Tom Moore, 2023-05-22 From My Life the autobiography of the famed music critic Eduard Hanslick appeared toward the end of his life in 1894 when it went through three printings It was republished in 1911 and again more recently in 1987 by Breuninger and in 2011 by Taschenbuch Born in Prague Hanslick studied piano with Tomaschek and though like other compatriots and contemporaries he studied law and became a government functionary he went on to become the most noted and honored music critic in nineteenth century Vienna making his mark with his relatively brief disquisition On the Musically Beautiful first issued in 1854 In the Brahms Wagner controversy he was on the side of the former and was the target of Wagner's vicious anti-Semitism even though he had been among the first to champion Wagner's work in Vienna His long and informative autobiography has never appeared in complete translation to English or any other language
