Animate Illusions Explorations Of Narrative Structure:

Animate Illusions Harold E. Toliver, 1974-01-01 Animate Illusions; Explorations of Narrative Structure Harold E. Toliver, 1974 The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn, 2000-12 Winner of the Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies from the Modern Language Association Winner of the Modern Language Association s Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies The border between fact and fiction has been trespassed so often it seems to be a highway Works of history that include fictional techniques are usually held in contempt but works of fiction that include history are among the greatest of classics Fiction claims to be able to convey its own unique kinds of truth But unless a reader knows in advance whether a narrative is fictional or not judgment can be frustrated and confused In The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn argues that fiction does present specific clues to its fictionality and its own justifications Indeed except in cases of deliberate deception fiction achieves its purposes best by exercising generic conventions that inform the reader that it is fiction Cohn tests her conclusions against major narrative works including Proust s A la Recherche du temps perdu Mann s Death in Venice Tolstoy s War and Peace and Freud s case studies She contests widespread poststructuralist views that all narratives are fictional On the contrary she separates fiction and nonfiction as necessarily distinct even when bound together An expansion of Cohn s Christian Gauss lectures at Princeton and the product of many years of labor and thought The Distinction of Fiction builds on narratological and phenomenological theories to show that boundaries between fiction and history can be firmly and systematically explored The Temporal Mechanics of the Fourth Gospel Douglas Charles Estes, 2008-03-31 Spiritual but broken theological but flawed these are the words critics use to describe the Gospel of John Compared to the Synoptics John s version of the life of Jesus seems scrambled especially in the area of time and chronology But what if John s textual and temporal flaws have more to do with our implicit assumptions about time than a text that is truly flawed This book responds to that question by reinventing narrative temporality in light of modern physics and applying this alternative temporal lens to the Fourth Gospel From the singularity in the epic prologue to the narrative warping of event like objects this work explodes the elemental temporalities simmering below the surface of a spiritual yet superior Gospel text Action and Image Roy Armes, 1994 The concern of film theorists to read films as texts has led them to neglect the equally pressing need to see films as drama Roy Armes sets out to redress the balance by drawing on the insights offered by recent developments in the theoretical study of drama and performance Hemispheric Imaginations Helmbrecht Breinig, 2016-12-06 What image of Latin America have North American fiction writers created found or echoed and how has the prevailing discourse about the region shaped their work How have their writings contributed to the discursive construction of our southern neighbors and how has the literature undermined this construction and added layers of complexity that subvert any approach based on stereotypes Combining American Studies Canadian Studies Latin American Studies and Cultural Theory Breinig relies on long scholarly experience to answer these and other questions Hemispheric Imaginations an ambitious interdisciplinary study of literary representations of Latin America as encounters with the other is among the most extensive such studies to date It will appeal to a broad range of scholars of American Studies The Rhetoric of Fiction Wayne C. Booth, 2010-05-15 The first edition of The Rhetoric of Fiction transformed the criticism of fiction and soon became a classic in the field One of the most widely used texts in fiction courses it is a standard reference point in advanced discussions of how fictional form works how authors make novels accessible and how readers recreate texts and its concepts and terms such as the implied author the postulated reader and the unreliable narrator have become part of the standard critical lexicon For this new edition Wayne C Booth has written an extensive Afterword in which he clarifies misunderstandings corrects what he now views as errors and sets forth his own recent thinking about the rhetoric of fiction The other new feature is a Supplementary Bibliography prepared by James Phelan in consultation with the author which lists the important critical works of the past twenty years two decades that Booth describes as the richest in the history of the subject Why Narrative? Stanley Hauerwas, L. Gregory Jones, 1997-10-28 Narrative Theology is still with us to the delight of some and to the chagrin of others Why Narrative is in reprint because it represents what is still a very important question This diverse collection of essays on narrative theology has proven very useful in university and seminary theology classes It is also of great use as a primer for the educated layperson or church study group Jones and Hauerwas have done an excellent job of selecting representative essays that deal with appeals to narrative in areas such as personal identity and human action biblical hermeneutics epistemology and theological and ethical method Fictional Discourse and Historical Space Andrew Wright, 1987-02-16 Time and the Novel Patricia Drechsel Tobin, 2015-03-08 Formalist criticism of the modern novel has concentrated on its spatial aspects Patricia Tobin focuses instead on the modern novel's temporal structure She notes that the genealogical imperative that dominated the nineteenth century novel in which one event gave birth to another has broken down in the twentieth century novels she studies Further she draws parallels between this collapse of linear narrative and the current challenge to linearity from many other areas of modern thought Beginning with Mann's Buddenbrooks as a family chronicle novel that fully embodies the classical genealogical structure the author extends her analysis to include distortions of the linear perspective in Lawrence's The Rainbow Faulkner's Absalom Absalom Nabokov's Invitation to a Beheading and Marquez's One Hundred Years of Solitude She finds that in these novels about family relationships the continuity of time family and story has dissolved so that past present and future have lost their distinctions sins against the dynastic family are not only recognized but celebrated and literary and existential meanings are suspended in unlikely juxtapositions irrational metamorphoses and proliferating possibilities Professor Tobin suggests that the disappearance of the genealogical imperative in the contemporary world's sense of reality may account for much of what appears to be anonymous peripheral and excessive in post modern fiction Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.
