AT COLD WAR'S END-US Intelligence on Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, 1989-1991-Editor: Benjamin B. Fischer- Center for Study of Intelligence-Documents approved for release by the Historical Review Program of the Central Intelligence Agency with participation and advice from responsible elements of the other agencies of the Intelligence Community-Government Printing Office (GPO)-Superintendent of Documents-P.O. Box 371954-Pittsburgh, PA-15250-7954, U.S.A.

“At Cold War's End” is the latest work of the History Staff and one, which is of great value for all readers of intelligence history. The work includes various declassified US intelligence estimates prepared by the CIA during the Gorbachev era.

I may add a personal note here about how I stumbled into the declassified CIA archives. It was in April 1996 while attending the annual conference of a military history society in Key Bridge Marriott Hotel at Rosslyn, Virginia, that I learnt about the fact that the Central Intelligence Agency's "History Staff" had been tasked to declassify and release to the general public, selected documents of the CIA dealing with various aspects of the agency's operations from 1945 till to date. I met some of the historians dealing with this task and found them most helpful and courteous apart from being unassuming and absolutely relaxed. The Volumes displayed at the "Book Exhibition" were fine but the main problem was carrying them, some 34 kilograms all the way back to Lahore in April 1996. I carried all 34 kilograms, to the great disappointment of the Pakistani customs staff at Lahore airport, read all that interested me and finally decided to donate them to a library. First I wrote to the command and staff college, setting aside my conviction that it was a bastion of pedantry. I did not receive any reply and decided to donate them to the National Defence College Library once I came to know that General Maghool one of the very few general officers who reads and digests what he reads, was the new commandant of that institution which in normal times is bastion of another type. Maghool despite the fact that we had never met or knew each other and the fact that I had pointed out some factual errors in one of his write-ups, while in service, replied vide a very warm semi official letter acknowledging receipt of the volumes. A normal act of courtesy but abnormal in the Pakistani society where anyone who reaches the general rank thinks that it is impolite to acknowledge anything, specially from
