Animal Culling

Laëtitia Maréchal, Emile van der Zee

Animal Culling:

The end of animal life: a start for ethical debate Franck L.B. Meijboom, Elsbeth N. Stassen, 2023-08-07 Killing animals is common practice yet it is not morally neutral The end of animal life is related to many societal and ethical questions and concerns Questions such as how long should we continue to treat an animal before putting it down But also the question whether it could be legitimate to kill individual animals for the welfare of the herd or of future generations The ongoing public and academic discussions on these and on other well known questions like those related to the killing of animals for food or for scientific purposes show that there is no one standard evaluation of animal life This book is an edited volume that enables the reader to get a grip on that plurality of views with regard to animals It helps to deal with the many questions related to the end of animal life The chapters show how the plurality of views on killing animals is related to moral presuppositions by providing a clear overview of the ethical views on end of life decisions Furthermore the book contains a number of applied studies of the ethical questions related to killing animals in various practices including small animal practice wildlife management fishing and fish farming animal experimentation and livestock farming These chapters can help veterinarians scientists students policy makers and many other professionals working with animals to easily get a good overview of the issues at stake and may contribute to responsible decision making with regard to the end of animal life

Epidemiology and Control of Notifiable Animal Diseases Julio Álvarez, Douwe Bakker, Javier Bezos, 2019-05-09 Surveillance early detection control and eradication of notifiable animal diseases is of critical importance for countries in order to maintain or improve their animal health status This requires the collaboration of all stakeholders involved including animal health authorities livestock industry and veterinary research institutions among others Prevention control and eradication programs must take into account the characteristics of the host including potential reservoirs the pathogen transmissibility virulence and the environment temperature animal density but also the socio economic context in which they have to be implemented highly influenced by funding availability while at the same time guaranteeing compliance with international trade regulations This has led to the adoption of a wide range of approaches to address the risk posed by specific pathogens in different countries and at the same time similar strategies have yielded very different results in different regions This Research Topic includes a variety of manuscripts focusing on different aspects of surveillance control and eradication of diseases of critical importance for livestock including cattle swine and wildlife in an attempt to provide an overview of the current situation in different countries

Introduction to Human-Animal Interaction Laëtitia Maréchal, Emile van der Zee, 2024-01-29 Introduction to Human Animal Interaction focuses on the human dimension of interacting with other animals This book introduces recent developments theories and debates in the relatively new research area of Human Animal Interaction HAI and focuses on the social and life sciences aspect of these interactions Experts from different academic disciplines provide an overview for students and professionals interested in how humans and other animals interact and what advantages and disadvantages emerge for both parties in this relationship The book starts with the theories and mechanisms supporting our interactions with animals such as human animal communication and it then covers the implications of HAI in terms of ethics and welfare After discussing cultural differences and forensic aspects in human animal interaction e g wildlife crime and animal abuse the book examines evidence in the area of animal assisted intervention The final chapters give an overview of current research in specific human animal interaction systems human pet human livestock and human wildlife interaction The book offers a scientific evidence based perspective on human animal interaction providing pedagogical tools to make a systematic critical and constructive evaluation of research in HAI possible It offers a range of in text pedagogical features like a subject index chapter MCQs open questions further reading and additional digital resources including videos which are accessible via QR codes or through the associated website This textbook provides the fundamental tools for achieving a comprehensive current and critical overview of the HAI field and is an integral text for undergraduate and postgraduate students undertaking modules in human animal interaction in social sciences such as anthropology cultural studies criminology ethics and laws or in life sciences such as animal behaviour conservation and welfare biology neuroscience physiology psychology public health and those studying veterinary science Human/Animal Relationships in Transformation Augusto

Vitale, Simone Pollo, 2022-02-11 The ethics of human animal relationships is a growing field of academic research and a topic for public discussion and regulatory interventions from law makers governments and private institutions Human animal relationships are in transformation and understanding the nature of this process is crucial for all those who believe that the enlargement of moral and legal recognition to nonhuman animals is part of contemporary moral and political progress Understanding the nature of this process means analysing and critically discussing the philosophical scientific and legal concepts and arguments embedded in it This book contributes to the discussion by bringing together the ideas and reflections of leading experts from different disciplinary backgrounds and with a range of scientific perspectives This book both provides an up to date examination of the transformation of human animal relationships and presents ideas to foster this process The Ekistics of Animal and Human Conflict Rishi Dev, 2016-09-01 Urban wildlife management is a town planning subject It is logical and important to relate the animal and human conflict seen all over the world as a phenomenon which is applicable to all types of human settlements despite the diversities and complexities of cultures societal structures laws value systems religions and so on A universal principle or theory governs and applies to all cities which define these conditions and phenomena creating the conflict or coexistence This book investigates the niches of one of the key urban animals from a syntactic semantic and pragmatic perspective and explores how these niches are naturally synonymous to similar patterns structures and compositions within human settlements It explores and defines the demographic patterns thresholds and phenomenon which leads to formation of the different levels and extremes of interaction between the species This forms a paradigm which classifies this conflict within the various disciplines and frameworks of urban ecology The focus is primarily on urban dogs it being a keystone species but is later related with other urban animals as well The premise for this approach is that history has shown how certain species have persuasively coexisted with humans for so many millennia yet a conflict happens between animals and humans and within humans over animals It is thus logical to believe that the forces which create this conflict cannot solely be natural to the species in question and have to come from outside from the settlement patterns of both species and the net resultant force and dynamics The book looks at these dichotomies in four distinct but interrelated ways It delves deep inside four niches which form the dynamics of any settlement spatial cultural ecological and economic and explores all scales at which the succession and evolution of animals take place in highly urbanized settlements The Encyclopedia of Applied Animal Behaviour and Welfare D. S. Mills,Jeremy N.

Marchant-Forde,2010 The practical focus of this authoritative comprehensive encyclopedia promotes the understanding and improvement of animals behaviour without compromising welfare It will be an essential resource for practising veterinarians researchers and students in zoology and ethology and for all those working with and interested in animals and their welfare

Book Jacket Animal Breeding Orville L. Bondoc,2008 This book is an outstanding contribution to the very meager list of books and reading materials available to Filipino teachers students and practitioners working on animal improvement Dr Bondoc offers scholarly breeding principles based on his years of experience and research
