Bobby Dazzlers:

Punch Mark Lemon, Henry Mayhew, Tom Taylor, Shirley Brooks, Francis Cowley Burnand, Owen Seaman, 1925 Reading Across the Pacific Robert Dixon, Nicholas Birns, 2010 Reading Across the Pacific is a study of literary and cultural engagement between the United States and Australia from a contemporary interdisciplinary perspective. The book examines the relations of the two countries shifting the emphasis from the broad cultural patterns that are often compared to the specific networks interactions and crossings that have characterised Australian literature in the United States and American literature in Australia. In the 21st century both American and Australian literatures are experiencing new challenges to the very different paradigms of literary history and criticism each inherited from the 20th century. In response to these challenges scholars of both literatures are seizing the opportunity to reassess and reconfigure the conceptual geography of national literary spaces as they are reformed by vectors that evade or exceed them including the transnational, the local and the global. The essays in Reading Across the Pacific are divided into five sections: National literatures and transnationalism, Poetry and poetics, Literature and popular culture, The Cold War and Publishing history, and transpacific print cultures.

The Blackpool Highflyer Andrew Martin, 2007-07-02 A compelling thriller set against the historical backdrop of Edwardian England's railway system. Daily Mail Assigned to drive holidaymakers to the seaside resort of Blackpool in the hot summer of 1905 Jim Stringer is happy to have left behind the grime and danger of life in London. But his dreams of beer and pretty women are soon shattered when his high speed train meets a huge millstone on the line leading to a passenger's death. This is an atmospheric mystery of sabotage and suspicion from an author who does a stunning job of bringing to life the era when steam locomotives chugged from London through the British countryside. Booklist A clear winner in literary crime writing. Dazzling attention to detail and quality writing. Daily Express A steamy whodunnit. This may well be the best fiction about the railways since Dickens. The Independent on Sunday Underground, Overground Andrew Martin, 2012-04-26 Why is the Victoria Line so hot? What is an Electrical Multiple Unit? Is it really possible to ride from King's Cross to King's Cross on the Circle line? The London Underground is the oldest, most sprawling and illogical metropolitan transport system in the world, the result of a series of botch jobs and improvisations. Yet it transports over one billion passengers every year and this figure is rising. It is iconic, recognised the world over and loved and despised by Londoners in equal measure. Blending reportage, humour and personal encounters, Andrew Martin embarks on a wonderfully engaging social history of London's underground railway system which despite its name is in fact fifty-five per cent overground. Underground Overground is a highly enjoyable, witty and informative history of everything you need to know about the Tube.

Night Trains Andrew Martin, 2017-02-09 Night trains have long fascinated us with the possibilities of their private sleeping compartments, gilded dining cars, champagne bars and wealthy travellers. Authors from Agatha Christie to Graham Greene have used night trains to tell tales of romance, intrigue and decadence against a rolling background of dramatic landscapes. The reality could often be as thrilling early British travellers on the Orient Express were advised to carry a revolver as well as a teapot In Night Trains Andrew Martin attempts to relive the golden age of the great European sleeper trains by using their modern day equivalents This is no simple matter The night trains have fallen on hard times and the services are disappearing one by one But if the Orient Express experience can only be recreated by taking three separate sleepers the intriguing characters and exotic atmospheres have survived Whether the backdrop is 3am at a Turkish customs post the sun rising over the Riviera or the constant twilight of a Norwegian summer night Martin rediscovers the pleasures of a continent connected by rail By tracing the history of the sleeper trains he reveals much of the recent history of Europe itself The original sleepers helped break down national barriers and unify the continent Martin uncovers modern instances of European unity and otherwise as he traverses the continent during interesting times with Brexit looming Against this tumultuous backdrop he experiences his own smaller dramas as he fails to find crucial connecting stations ponders the mystery of the compartment dog and becomes embroiled in his very own night train whodunit
