A Search For God In Time And Memory:

A Search for God in Time and Memory John S. Dunne, 1975 The Subjective Eye Richard Valantasis, Deborah J. Haynes, James D. Smith, Janet F. Carlson, 2006-05-15 One of the great joys of the academic life is to pay homage in a Festschrift to a scholar who has influenced both colleagues and students over years of interaction and friendship both professional and personal This volume honors a scholar and theologian of historical theology a theorist and a practitioner of religion and the arts and a keen analyst of cultural trends both ancient and modern Margaret R Miles's prodigious production as a scholar has legendary qualities Her dozen plus books alone explore history patristics ancient philosophy art and art history spiritual formation and religious practice critical theory film ethics and values personal growth gender and women's studies as well as her true academic loves Augustine and Plotinus The breadth and depth of her own work and her influence upon others demands an expansive volume which the editors of this Festschrift unfortunately had to restrict to four categories Historical Theology Religion and Culture Religion and Gender and Religion and the Visual Arts in order to capture the heart of our appreciation for her from the Introduction Engaging with Bediuzzaman Said Nursi Ian S. Markham, 2016-04-29 Too often interfaith dialogue is generic and unfocused Often it involves liberals from each tradition coming together to criticize the conservatives in their own traditions This book provides a model for interfaith dialogue that challenges very directly the dialogue industry This book involves a Christian theologian in deep conversation with a Muslim theologian Bediuzzaman Said Nursi 1877-1960 was born at the end of the Ottoman Empire and lived through the emergence of an aggressive secular state He had to think through in remarkably creative ways the challenge of faith within a secular environment the relationship of faith and politics and the implications and challenge of diversity and difference His entire project is captured in his magnum opus The Risale i Nur In the first eight chapters of this book we engage closely with the thought of Nursi and tease out insights that Christians can learn from and accommodate Having established the method the second section of the book examines the precise implications for the interfaith movement The problem with the interfaith movement is that it is an act of western cultural imperialism they are taking the individualist assumptions of modern America and imposing them on the conversation The problems with John Hick's and Leonard Swidler's approach are exposed Moving out from Islam the book then demonstrates how the model of interfaith changes when Christians are in conversation with Hinduism in India A new set of Dialogue Ten Commandments are suggested The book concludes with an appeal for a commitment to include and reach the conservatives in the major religious traditions Addiction and the Captive Will Cynthia Geppert, 2024-05-30 Twenty first century neuroscience has discovered that in some severe cases addiction may so constrain human freedom that the will is only able to choose to use substances of abuse At this advanced stage substance use has become the primary driver of salience co-opting and subsuming other moral priorities and human rewards Scholars have investigated Aristotle's concept of akrasia as an ancient mirror of this understanding and there have been some preliminary discussions of Augustine's concept of the divided will as it bears on addiction. No detailed and comprehensive exploration of the work of Augustine has yet been undertaken as it relates to three contemporary models of addiction: the choice, learning, and brain disease models. Augustine's psychological awareness, his mastery of ancient theological and philosophical thinking, and his enormous and enduring influence on both Catholic and Protestant theology make him an ideal subject for such research. This incisive book argues that Augustine's doctrine of the captive will offers a theological parallel of each of these contemporary models of addiction.

Towards a Theology of Story John J. Navone, 1977

Scripture in the Search for the Doctrine of God, 2025-10-13

Scripture and the Search for the Christian Doctrine of God examines the dynamic exegetical traditions that shaped the fourth century Trinitarian controversies and how these legacies of biblical reading have influenced both evaluations of the fourth century and subsequent use of patristic materials by scholars and theologians. Part I: Legacies focuses on pre-Nicene reading practices with an eye towards how they were received in the fourth century and beyond. Part II: Traditions investigates how fourth and fifth century theologians received and inherited pre-Nicene traditions of biblical reading. Part III: Receptions highlights the way that patristic exegesis has been received in a variety of post-patristic contexts including Medieval Chinese Christianity, early Renaissance Humanism, and Contemporary Evangelicalism. The result is a greater appreciation of the deeply biblical character of the early Christian search for the doctrine of God.

The Strategic Smorgasbord of Postmodernity Deborah Bowen, 2011-05-25

Contemporary Christian critique often talks about postmodernism apocalyptically in terms of cultural crisis and decline. Instead, the contributors to this volume believe that there is a new place for Christian entries on the academic Smorgasbord of postmodernity and they see the postmodern turn as an opportunity for fresh perspectives on the spiritual dimensions of reading literature. These twenty scholars are an eclectic group differing in theological and theoretical commitments but all identifying as Christian. In this collection, they enter into dialogue with a wide range of contemporary literary theorists and theoretical perspectives and offer new readings of primary texts informed by both these theoretical constructs and their Christian faith. The manuscript strikes out in important new directions in its sympathetic reading of postmodern theory from a Christian perspective and even more significantly in its careful and measured dialogic approach to the relationship of Christian thought and contemporary literary theory.

Daniel Coleman, Canada, Research Chair in Critical Ethnicity and Race Studies, Department of English and Cultural Studies, McMaster University.

Too often, Christian literary critics and theologians have preemptively dismissed postmodern theory even as secular critics have been equally dismissive about the contributions that the Christian faith tradition makes to the study of literature. This volume successfully brings these two worlds together in innovative, at times challenging, and always rich ways. I do not know of a similar volume in existence, a work that gathers in one convenient publication a wide-ranging set of discussions of contemporary literary theory by Christian scholars. The editor has gathered an impressive and important set of papers here, and I believe the volume will raise much interest and provoke a good deal of constructive debate.
