ADDENDUM TO THE PROCEEDINGS

WORKSHOP

Workshop: Reflection and Metalevel Architectures in Object-Oriented Programming

Organizer:

Mamdouh H. Ibrahim
Electronic Data Systems

1. Introduction

Recently, the notion of having object-oriented languages that allow their programs to reason about themselves or reflect on their computations has attracted the attention of many researchers. This interest in reflection did not materialize until Pattie Maes presented her paper "Concepts and Experiments in Computational Reflection," at OOPSLA-87, in which she exposed the strong relationship between reflection and object-oriented programming. Since then, many others have developed and implemented several object-oriented languages and systems that provide reflective facilities.

Initiative of this workshop on Reflection and Metalevel Architectures in Object-Oriented Programming emerged from a Birds of a Feather session, on the same topic, that was held during OOPSLA-89 in New Orleans. The overwhelming interest in that BOF and the numerous issues that were left unresolved prompted us to propose and organize this workshop.

The following is a summary of the workshop organization and activities.

2. Workshop Objectives, Goals, and Format

The main objectives of the workshop were to gather researchers, actively involved in the design, implementation, and development of reflective object-oriented programming languages and systems, and to provide them with a forum suitable for identifying and discussing related issues. Particular goals of the workshop were to identify issues, discuss them, draw conclusions, and establish future directions for research concerned with reflection in object-oriented programming.

To assure that the workshop would meet its objectives, invitations were issued only to those who submitted relevant papers. Accepted papers ranged from short position papers in which the authors addressed broad implications, to conference-quality, full papers addressing specific work. Copies of accepted papers were distributed to the workshop participants in advance to familiarize them with the positions of other participants.

The workshop was divided into five sessions: (1) definitions and theoretical foundations, (2) broader implications, (3) implementation, (4) reflective systems, and (5) reflection in concurrent systems. Each session was moderated by one of the workshop organizers. At the beginning of each session, the moderator presented a set of open questions relevant to the session and called upon selected participants to briefly address some of these questions. The rest

OOPSLA '91 Jerry L. Archibald,1992 OOPSLA '92 ,1992 Addendum to the Proceedings on Object-Oriented Programming Systems, Languages and Applications (addendum) ,1999 Business Object Design and Implementation II Dilip Patel,Jeff Sutherland,Joaquin Miller,2012-12-06 This proceedings contains some of the papers presented at the Business Object and Implementation Workshops held at OOPSLA 96 OOPSLA 97 and OOPSLA 98 The main theme of the workshops is to document the evolution of business objects from any perspectives including modelling implementation standards and applications The 1996 workshop intended to clarify the specification design and implementation of interoperable plug and play distributed business object components and their suitability for delivery of enterprise applications and to assess the impact of the WWW and more specifically the Intranet on the design and implementation of business object components The main focus of the workshop was What design patterns will allow implementation of business objects as plug and play components How can these components be assembled into domain specific frameworks What are the appropriate architectures mechanisms as distributed object systems What for implementing these frameworks organisational and development process issues need to be addressed to successfully deliver these systems Is this approach an effective means for deploying enterprise application solutions The third annual workshop OOPSLA 97 was jointly sponsored by the Accredited Standards Committee X3H7 Object Information Management Technical Committee and the Object Management Group OMG Business Object Domain Task Force BODTF for the purpose of soliciting technical position papers relevant to the design and implementation of Business Object Systems Addendum to the 2000 Proceedings of the Conference on Object-oriented Programming, Systems, Languages, and Applications (Addendum). James Haungs,OOPSLA (Conference),2000 Object-oriented Programming Systems, Languages, and Applications Jerry L. Archibald,Mark C. Wilkes,ACM Special Interest Group on Programming Languages,1994 Product-Focused Software Process Improvement Muhammad Ali Babar,Matias Vierimaa,Markku Oivo,2010-06-11 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 11th International Conference on Product Focused Software Process Improvement PROFES 2010 held in Limerick Ireland in June 2010 The 28 revised full papers presented together with the abstracts of 2 keynote addresses were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions The papers are organized in topical sections on software quality assurance agile software development software business software systems process quality software measurement and software process improvement OOP & Java 8 Rudolf Pecinovsky,2016-12-13 Majority of introductory courses of the object oriented programming presents a number of object constructions and syntax rules in certain programming language However mostly they do not illustrate the explained subject matter on the development of some non trivial program which would contain at least 20 mutually connected and cooperating classes This book tries to fill this gap It should serve as a basis for repeating the lessons and at the same time as a guide leading the students step by step through the development of the text conversation game adventure which should correspond to a set of conditions Simultaneously it should help them to learn how to work with external libraries and frameworks In the explanation the passages describing what should be solved alternate with those going through the theory how similar problem classes are solved and with those entering the real steps for solving the assigned problem The application described in this book as well as the framework on which the application stands can be a reasonable inspiration for teachers who search an example for exercise not only at universities but also at a number of secondary schools teaching programming

Addendum to the Proceedings on Object-oriented Programming Systems, Languages and Applications ,1999 Object-Based Models and Languages for Concurrent Systems Paolo Ciancarini,Oscar Nierstrasz,Akinori Yonezawa,1995-06-20 This volume presents carefully refereed versions of the best papers presented at the Workshop on Models and Languages for Coordination of Parallelism and Distribution held during ECOOP 94 in Bologna Italy in July 1994 Recently a new class of models and languages for distributed and parallel programming has evolved all these models share a few basic concepts simple features for data description and a small number of mechanisms for coordinating the work of agents in a distributed setting This volume demonstrates that integrating such features with those known from concurrent object oriented programming is very promising with regard to language support for distribution and software composition

Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Addendum To The Proceedings On Objectoriented Programming Systems Languages Applications Oopsl books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
