Adjusting Foundations:

Setting Foundations for the Creation of Public Value in Smart Cities Manuel Pedro Rodriguez Bolivar, 2019-02-12
This book seeks to contribute to prior research facing the discussion about public value creation in Smart Cities and the role of governments. In the early 21st century the rapid transition to a highly urbanized population has made societies and their governments around the world to be meeting unprecedented challenges regarding key themes such as sustainability, new governance models and the creation of networks. Also, cities today face increasing challenges when it comes to providing advanced digital services to their constituency. The use of information and communication technologies, usually ICTs and data, is thought to rationalize and improve government and have the potential to transform governance and organizational issues. These questions link up to the ever-evolving concept of Smart Cities. In fact, the rise of the Smart City and Smart City thinking is a direct response to such challenges as well as providing a means of integrating fast-evolving technology into our living environment. This focus on the public value creation in Smart Cities could be of interest for academics, researchers, policy makers, public managers, international organizations and technical experts involved in and responsible for the governance development and design of Smart Cities.
