Of Canadian Poetry:

The New Oxford Book of Canadian Verse in English Margaret Atwood,1982      70 Canadian Poets Distinguished Professor of Canadian Culture Gary Geddes,2014-02-11 Introducing students to the depth breadth and character of Canadian poetry for over 40 years this collection of classic and contemporary poems offers a rich representation of this country s diverse poetic landscape Featuring a combination of established and up and coming poets this edition introduces students to a wide range of engaging voices from across the country      A Treasury of Canadian Verse Theodore Harding Rand,1900

The Book of Canadian Poetry Arthur James Marshall Smith,1953      You Are Here James Pollock,2012-11-15 Northrop Frye wrote that for Canadian poets the question of identity isn t so much Who am I as Where is here In his ground breaking collection of essays You Are Here James Pollock gives his answer that where we are as a literary culture has a great deal to do with our relationship to elsewhere For far too long Canadians have refused to read our poetry in the larger international context of poetry as an art leaving our poets isolated and ignored Pollock sets out to situate our verse on the map of world poetry a map which like one of those incomplete globes from the sixteenth century still leaves Canada largely uncharted Acutely intelligent and unflinchingly honest in its judgements You Are Here is an eye opening guide to the new world of Canadian poetry sensitively exploring the work of such poets as Anne Carson Daryl Hine Jeffery Donaldson Karen Solie and Eric Ormsby The collection ends with a witty treatise on good criticism and a passionate and learned reconsideration of poetic values making You Are Here an essential companion for students and lovers of Canadian poetry everywhere      An Anthology of Canadian Literature in English Russell Brown,Donna Bennett,Nathalie Cooke,1990 This is the first annotated anthology of Canadian poetry and prose from the eighteenth century to the present Volume I contains the work of 40 writers Some 200 pages are devoted to poetry and 350 pages to prose which includes not only short fiction but five autobiographical pieces eight essays of literary criticism and a play There are many cross connections in related subject matter in the criticism and memoirs that reflect on other selections so that the anthology offers a firm context for the study not only of individual writers but of the literary culture of Canada With introductions to the writers and their works and annotations      The White Savannas W.E. Collin,1975-12-15 The White Savannas originally published in 1936 is the first study of Canadian poetry from a modern point of view It contains essays on Archibald Lampman Marjorie Pickthall E J Pratt Leo Kennedy A M Klein A J M Smith F R Scott Marie Le Franc and Dorothy Livesay The contributions are based on a series of analytical essays originally published in the Canadian Forum and in the University of Toronto Quarterly Professor Collin s work added much to the establishment of a new climate of opinion among readers and publishers of poetry in Canada      Who's who in the League of Canadian Poets League of Canadian Poets,1988      Canadian Poets and Poetry (1916) John William Garvin,2008-06-01 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original Due to its age it may contain imperfections such as marks notations marginalia and flawed pages Because we believe this work is culturally important we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting preserving and promoting the world s literature in affordable high quality modern editions that are true to the original work      We Are What We Mourn Priscila Uppal,2008-11-20 Why are so many contemporary poets writing elegies Given a century shaped by two world wars vast population displacements and shifting attitudes towards aging and death is the elegy form adaptable to the changing needs of writers and audiences In a sceptical age where can consolation be found In We Are What We Mourn Priscila Uppal examines why and how the work of mourning has drastically changed in the latter half of the twentieth century focusing on the strong pattern in contemporary English Canadian elegy that emphasizes connection rather than separation between the living and the dead Uppal offers a penetrating reading of Canadian elegies that radically challenges English and American elegy traditions as well as long standing psychological models for successful mourning She sets up useful categories for elegy study parental elegies elegies for places and elegies for cultural losses and displacements and suggests where elegy and mourning studies might be headed post 9 11 The first book on the Canadian poetic elegy We Are What We Mourn challenges all previous ideas about the purpose of mourning and will intrigue anyone interested in how mourning shapes cultural identity
