

A.D. HOPE

BORN 1907

*...Yet there are some like me turn gladly home
From the lush jungle of modern thought, to find
The Arabian desert of the human mind,
Hoping, if still from the deserts the prophets come,
Such savage and scarlet as no green hills dare
Springs in that waste, some spirit which escapes
The learned doubt, the chatter of cultured apes
Which is called civilization over there.*

'AUSTRALIA' (1939)

A. D. Hope and the Ambivalence of Modernity A. D. Cousins, Dani Napton, 2024-10-03 How A D Hope interpreted and reacted to modernity and modernism has been energetically discussed for some time What aspects of modernity did he find useful or prize What precisely did he dislike and why How did he make use even sometimes especially of what he disliked This book offers fresh answers to such questions from some of Australia's best known scholars It is a volume that will be of interest to undergraduates and professional academics alike

BOOK JACKET

Nine Lives Susan Sheridan, 2011 In the decades after World War II the literary scene in Australia flourished local writers garnered international renown and local publishers sought and produced more Australian books The traditional view of this postwar period is of successful male writers with women still confined to the domestic sphere In Nine Lives Susan Sheridan rewrites the pages of history to foreground the women writers who contributed equally to this literary renaissance Sheridan traces the early careers of nine Australian women writers born between 1915 and 1925 who each achieved success between the mid 1940s and 1970s Judith Wright and Thea Astley published quickly to resounding critical acclaim while Gwen Harwood's frustration with chauvinistic literary editors prompted her pseudonymous poetry Fiction writers Elizabeth Jolley Amy Witting and Jessica Anderson remained unpublished until they were middle aged Rosemary Dobson Dorothy Hewett and Dorothy Auchterlonie Green started strongly as poets in the 1940s but either reduced their output or fell silent for the next twenty years Sheridan considers why their careers developed differently from the careers of their male counterparts and how they balanced marriage family and writing This illuminating group biography offers a fresh perspective on mid twentieth century Australian literature and the women writers who helped to shape it

Activist Poetics John Kinsella, 2010-01-01 John Kinsella is known internationally as the acclaimed author of more than thirty books of poetry and prose but in tandem with and often through those creative works Kinsella is also a prominent political activist In this collection of essays he explores anarchism veganism pacifism and ecological poetics and makes a compelling argument for poetry as a vital form of resistance to a variety of social and ethical ills Building on his own earlier notion of linguistic disobedience he analyzes his poetry and prose in the context of resistance For Kinsella all poetry is a call to action and Activist Poetics reads like a lively manifesto for it to escape the aesthetic vacuum and enter the real world British Writers Ian Scott-Kilvert,2002 This collection of critical essays covers writers who have made significant contributions to British Irish and Commonwealth literature from the 14th century to the present day The Meanings of Michael Oakeshott's Conservatism Corey Abel,2017-03-06 This collection of recent scholarship on the thought of Michael Oakeshott includes essays by both distinguished and established authors as well as a fresh crop of younger talent Together they address the meanings of Oakeshott s conservatism through the lenses of his ideas on religion history and tradition and explore his relationships to philosophers ranging from Hume to Ryle Cavell and others The collection assigns no single or final meaning to Oakeshott s conservatism but finds in him a number of possibilities for thinking fruitfully about what conservatism might mean when it is no longer considered as a doctrine but as a habit or a turn of mind Poetry and the Global Climate Crisis Amatoritsero Ede,Sandra Lee Kleppe,Angela Sorby,2023-12-11 This book demonstrates how humans can become sensitized to and intervene in environmental degradation by writing reading analyzing and teaching poetry It offers both theoretical and practice based essays providing a diversity of approaches and voices that will be useful in the classroom and beyond The chapters in this edited collection explore how poetry can make readers climate ready and climate responsive through creativity empathy and empowerment The book encompasses work from or about Oceania Africa Europe North America Asia and Antarctica integrating poetry into discussions of specific local and global issues including the value of Indigenous responses to climate change the dynamics of climate migration the shifting boundaries between the human and more than human world the ecopoetics of the prison industrial complex and the ongoing environmental effects of colonialism racism and sexism With numerous examples of how poetry reading teaching and learning can enhance or modify mindsets the book focuses on offering creative practical approaches and tools that educators can implement into their teaching and equipping them with the theoretical knowledge to support these This volume will appeal to educational professionals engaged in teaching environmental sustainability and development topics particularly from a humanities led perspective The Literature of Australia Nicholas Jose,2009 Unprecedented in the breadth of what it offers from both the ancient and the recent literature of my country Thomas Keneally from the foreword
