Attracting Educating And Serving Remote Users Through The Web:

Attracting, Educating, and Serving Remote Users Through the Web Donnelly Curtis, 2002 A guide to serving library users through the Web Part One discusses how to identify and understand remote users needs Part Two explores essential services and how to implement them and Part Three covers maintaining your infrastructure analyzing your progress and building into the future

Improving Internet Reference Services to Distance Learners Rita Pellen, William Miller, 2014-06-03 In their efforts to provide distance learners with the most effective services possible librarians and information specialists are working more and more with faculty in academic departments IT departments and other librarians at cooperating institutions

Improving Internet Reference Services to Distance Learners chronicles how those efforts have seen librarians become actively involved in online course management and delivery systems particularly Blackboard Desire2Learn and WebCT or by embedding themselves into the online course structure to better learn where students need assistance This invaluable resource also examines how librarians use Internet resources to support professional and continuing education and to establish university wide information and referral services to provide quality service to distance learners

Improving Internet Reference Services to Distance Learners encourages librarians to think more broadly about working with outside individuals when designing and providing reference and other services to nontraditional users The book examines why it's best to consider user needs funding staff management and collaboration development when planning Internet reference services how to develop and implement a required credit bearing online information literacy course and how to apply effective marketing techniques from the business world to increase awareness of reference support services available to distance learners It also offers a look at the Walden University Library at Indiana University Bloomington which houses no print collection only online databases and includes case studies that document the design and development of Internet reference services for the University of Illinois Fire Service Institute and the efforts to provide support for doctor of pharmacy students at the University of Wisconsin Madison in their final year of study

Improving Internet Reference Services to Distance Learners provides practical information on monitoring online discussion threads devoted to library research Web based interactive tutorials integrating library services in support of coursework integrating library services into online courses offering promoting and providing instruction to public users as well as local and distance students developing a web site that centralizes information about library services and resources the potential of the academic library to be the central provider of information and referral services for an entire university

Improving Internet Reference Services to Distance Learners is an invaluable resource for librarians working in academic school special and public settings and for library science faculty and students

Critical Thinking Within the Library Program John Spencer, Christopher Millson-Martula, 2014-10-20 While academic librarians frequently discuss critical thinking and its relationship to information literacy the literature does not contain an abundance of sources on the topic Therefore this work provides a current and timely perspective on the possible roles of critical thinking within the library program The work contains a variety of approaches likely to benefit the practicing librarian It begins with a review of the literature followed by theoretical approaches involving constructivism and the Socratic method Readers will find pieces on the integration of critical thinking into the first year experience and course specific case studies as well as a selection on a campus wide critical thinking project In each of the pieces librarians are exploring new ways to meet their instructional goals including the goal of teaching critical thinking skills to students across the curriculum This book was originally published as a special issue of College Undergraduate Libraries
