Richard Danson Brown

Brave Courtier:

Fernseed in the Shoe Ethel Van der Veer, 1929 The New Poet Richard Danson Brown, 1999-01-01 This gracefully written and well thought out study deals with a neglected collection of poems by Spenser which was issued in 1591 at the height of his career While there has been a good deal written in recent years on two of the poems in the collection Mother Hubbard s Tale and Muiopotmos Brown innovatively addresses the collection in its entirety He urges us to see it as a planned whole with a consistent design on the reader he fully acknowledges and even brings out further the heterogeneity of the collection but he examines it nevertheless as a sustained reflection on the nature of poetry and the auspices for writing in a modern world distancing itself from the traditions of the immediate past The strength of this work lies both in the originality of its project and in the precision and enterprise of the close reading that informs its argument Interest in the concern of Spenser s poetry with the nature of poetry is in the current critical mainstream but here the attentiveness is both unusually focused and unusually sustained Brown garners more than would be expected from the translations in the Complaints while at the same time including striking and individual chapters on the better known Mother Hubbard s Tale and Muiopotmos he advances understanding of these extremely subtle texts and fully justifies his wider approach to the collection as a whole Arguing that Spenser s relationship to literary tradition is more complex than is often thought Brown suggests that Spenser was a self conscious innovator whose gradual move away from traditional poetics is exhibited by the different texts in the Complaints He further suggests that the Complaints are a poetics in practice which progress from traditional ideas of poetry to a new poetry that emerges through Spenser s transformation of traditional complaint Works Edmund Spenser, 1859

Spenser George Lillie Craik, 1845 Record University of North Carolina (1793-1962), 1921 Research in Progress North Carolina State University. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
