Alien Sex The Body And Desire In Cinema And Theology:

Alien Sex Gerard Loughlin, 2008-04-15 Gerard Loughlin is one of the leading theologians working at the interface between religion and contemporary culture In this exceptional work he uses cinema and the films it shows to think about the church and the visions of desire it displays Discusses various films including the Alien quartet Christopher Nolan's Memento Stanley Kubrick's 2001 A Space Odyssey and A Clockwork Orange Nicolas Roeg's The Man Who Fell to Earth and Derek Jarman's The Garden Draws on a wide range of authors both ancient and modern religious and secular from Plato to Levinas from Karl Barth and Hans Urs von Balthasar to Andr  Bazin and Leo Bersani Uses cinema to think about the church as an ecclesiacinema and films to think about sexual desire as erotic dispossession as a way into the life of God Written from a radically orthodox Christian perspective at once both Catholic and critical Paul Tillich and the Possibility of

Revelation through Film Jonathan Brant, 2012-01-26 Since the birth of cinema at the end of the nineteenth century religion and film have been entwined The Jesus story and other religious narratives were the subject matter of some of the earliest cinema productions and this relationship has continued into the present A recent proliferation of texts conferences and courses bear witness to burgeoning academic interest in the relation between religion and film In this study Jonathan Brant explores the possibility that even films lacking religious subject matter might have a religious impact upon their viewers the possibility of revelation through film The book begins with a reading of Paul Tillich's theology of revelation through culture and continues with a qualitative research project which grounds this theoretical account in the experiences of a group of filmgoers The empirical research takes place in Latin America where the intellectual puzzle and central research questions that drive the thesis arose and developed Brant combines theoretical and empirical research in order to provide fresh insights into the way in which film functions and impacts its viewers and also offers an unusual perspective on the strengths and weaknesses of Tillich's theology of revelation which is seen to focus on the saving and healing power of revelation rather than its communicative content The grounding of the theory by the empirical data results in an increased appreciation of the sensitivity of Tillich's theology to the uniqueness of each film to viewer encounter and the data also suggests a new construal of the revelatory potential of film that is related to the community rather than the individual and to sustained life practice rather than momentary experience Brant reasons that Tillich's account is sensitive and compelling precisely because of its phenomenological attentiveness to real life experience notably Tillich's own experience of the power of art However Brant also suggests that it might be helpful to identify a stronger link than Tillich allows between the subject matter of the artwork the content of revelation and the effect of revelation Cinema and Sentiment Clive Marsh, 2014-09-10 Cinema Sentiment Film's challenge to Theology What do films do to people What do people do with films All film watching happens within a cultural context Exploring cinema going as leisure activity and by comparing film watching with worship Clive Marsh demonstrates aspects of the religious function of film watching in Western culture Through a variety of case studies including a look at the films of Robin Williams and the Coen brothers Marsh's study shows how film watching as a regular practice contributes to the shaping of human living Engaging with rapidly changing social and religious behaviour patterns in Western culture Cinema and Sentiment suggests a need to recover a positive sense of sentiment both in theology and film Marsh locates his findings within recent studies of theology and film In his final chapter he offers to church leaders students of theology and film studies and all those with an interest in contemporary culture some very practical suggestions

Salvation from Cinema Crystal Downing, 2015-10-23 Salvation from Cinema offers something new to the burgeoning field of religion and film the religious significance of film technique Discussing the history of both cinematic devices and film theory Crystal Downing argues that attention to the material medium echoes Christian doctrine about the materiality of Christ's body as the medium of salvation Downing cites Jewish Muslim Buddhist and Hindu perspectives on film in order to compare and clarify the significance of medium within the frameworks of multiple traditions This book will be useful to professors and students interested in the relationship between religion and film Theology and the Body Stephen Garner, 2011-12-31 The human body is the primary lens through which we view encounter and engage the world around us It is no surprise then to find a wide range of theological reflection upon the human body from those that affirm the human body as something very good through to other more negative views where the body is something to be marginalised or escaped from The body and theology also meet in conversations over body mind and soul gender disability eschatology race and culture sexuality Christology and medicine and technology to name but a few Each of the authors in this volume pick up the theme of embodiment as the lens through which they look at an aspect of theology and body providing an engaging window onto some of these discussions Sex, Violence and the Body V. Burr, J. Hearn, 2008-10-30 This unique book examines the relationship between wounding and sexuality bringing together issues around sexuality gender power violence and representations Drawing on a range of disciplines including cultural and media studies sociology and psychology it explores social practices such as S M cosmetic surgery and extreme sports Wicked Cinema Daniel S. Cutrara, 2015-05-01 From struggles over identity politics in the 1990s to current concerns about a clash of civilizations between Islam and Christianity culture wars play a prominent role in the twenty first century Movies help to define and drive these conflicts by both reflecting and shaping cultural norms as well as showing what violates those norms In this pathfinding book Daniel S Cutrara employs queer theory cultural studies theological studies and film studies to investigate how cinema represents and often denigrates religion and religious believers an issue that has received little attention in film studies despite the fact that faith in its varied manifestations is at the heart of so many cultural conflicts today Wicked Cinema examines films from the United States Europe and the Middle East including Crimes and Misdemeanors The Circle Breaking the Waves Closed Doors Agnes of God Priest The Last Temptation of Christ and Dogma Central to all of the films is their protagonists struggles with sexual transgression and traditional belief systems within Christianity Judaism or Islam a struggle Cutrara argues that positions believers as the Other and magnifies the abuses of religion while ignoring its positive aspects Uncovering a hazardous web of ideological assumptions informed by patriarchy the spirit flesh dichotomy and heteronormativity Cutrara demonstrates that ultimately these films emphasize the Otherness of the faithful through a variety of strategies commonly used to denigrate the queer from erasing their existence to using feminization to make them appear weak to presenting them as dangerous fanatics

The Dardenne Brothers' Cinematic Parables Joel Mayward,2022-09-30 The Dardenne Brothers Cinematic Parables examines the work of Belgian filmmakers Jean Pierre and Luc Dardenne who have been celebrated for their powerfully affecting social realist films Though the Dardenne brothers films rarely mention religion or God they have received wide recognition for their moral complexity and spiritual resonance This book brings the Dardennes filmography into consideration with theological aesthetics Christian ethics phenomenological film theory and continental philosophy The author explores the brothers nine major films beginning with The Promise 1996 and culminating in Young Ahmed 2019 through the hermeneutics of philosopher Paul Ricoeur By using Ricoeur s description of parable as a narrative metaphor which generates an existential limit experience Joel Mayward crafts an innovative Ricoeurian hermeneutic for making theological interpretations of cinema Drawing upon resources from three disciplinary spheres theology philosophy and film studies in a dynamic interweaving approach Mayward proposes that the Dardennes create postsecular cinematic parables which evoke theological and ethical responses in audiences imaginations through the brothers distinctive filmmaking style what is termed transcendent realism The book ultimately demonstrates how the Dardenne brothers are truly doing not merely depicting theology and ethics through the cinematic form it presents film as theology what Mayward refers to as theocinematics This is valuable reading for scholars of theology philosophy and film studies as well as film critics and cinephiles interested in the cinema of the Dardenne brothers

That We Might Become God Andy Buechel,2015-04-15 Is it possible for orthodox creedal Christianity to change its views on matters of sexuality and gender In order to do so must it simply incorporate elements of the secular world that are foreign to it In That We Might Become God Andy Buechel argues that many of the basic insights of queer theory are not only deeply amenable to the wider Christian tradition but that they allow us to see that tradition with fresh eyes The churches that are most concerned with maintaining theological tradition can in fact develop on these matters and in so doing deepen some of the most fundamental insights they cherish Looking specifically at Christian teaching surrounding the Incarnation of Jesus Christ the sacraments and eschatology Andy Buechel shows how deeply queer these areas are already The insistence of too many churches to clinging to modern notions of sexuality and gender impede the proclamation of the good news and this is needless By attending to the ancient tradition in contemporary ways this text demonstrates the coherence of that heritage today as well as its capacity to develop to encompass all those whom God has created
