Alexandrine Plan:

The Sonnet Stephen Regan, 2019 Provides a comprehensive study of one of the oldest and most popular forms of poetry combining a broad historical overview of the sonnet with detailed critical analysis to show how the form of poetry has achieved its special status and popularity among poets in Britain Ireland and America Migration and Mutation Carole Birkan-Berz, Oriane Monthéard, Erin Cunningham, 2023-02-23 Spanning four centuries from the Renaissance to today's avant garde Migration and Mutation explores how the sonnet has evolved in and out of translation Contributors examine little studied translation trajectories in the early modern period such as the pivotal role of France between Italy and England or the first German sonnets and their Italian French Dutch and Scottish origins Essays then shed new light on major European sonneteers In the 19th and 20th centuries including Shakespeare Keats Yeats Rilke and Pessoa alongside lesser known contemporaries and with novel approaches And finally contributors explore how translation and adaptation create metaphorical space in the 21st century Migration and Mutation also pays attention to the political or subversive dimension of the sonnet with essays on women gay or postcolonial reclaimings of the sonnet and recent experiments such as post Soviet Sonnets on shirts by Genrikh Sagpir It takes the sonnet out of the confines of enclosed national traditions bringing it into renewed contact with mostly European but also other cultures The Modern Irish Sonnet Tara

Guissin-Stubbs, 2020-10-10 The Modern Irish Sonnet Revision and Rebellion discusses how and why the sonnet appeals to Irish poets and has grown in popularity over the last century Using a thematic approach Tara Guissin Stubbs argues for the significance of the Irish sonnet as a discrete entity within modern and contemporary poetry and shows how the Irish sonnet has become a debating chamber for discussions concerning the relationship between Irish and British culture poetry and gender and revision and rebellion The text reshapes the poetic and critical field exploring canonical and non canonical poems by male and female poets so as to challenge outmoded views of the thematic and formal limitations of the sonnet Ave

Maria, 1880 Translation and Stylistic Variation Helen Gibson, 2023-09-01 Translation and Stylistic Variation Dialect and Heteroglossia in Northern Irish Poetic Translation considers the ways in which translators use stylistic variation analysing the works of three Northern Irish poet translators to look at how in this variety the translation process becomes a creative act by which translators can explore their own linguistic and cultural heritage The volume offers a holistic portrait of the use of linguistic variety dialect and heteroglossia in the literary translations of Seamus Heaney Ciaran Carson and Tom Paulin shedding light on the translators choices but also readers experiences of them Drawing on work from cognitive stylistics Gibson reflects on how and why translators choose to add linguistic variety and how these choices can often be traced back to their socio cultural context The book not only extends existing scholarship on Irish English literary translation to examine issues unique to Northern Ireland but also raises broader questions about translation in locations where language choice is fraught and political The volume makes the case for giving increased consideration to the role of the individual translator

Ciaran Carson Neal Alexander, 2010-01-01 A PDF version of this book is available for free in open access via the OAPEN Library platform www.oapen.org Ciaran Carson is one of the most challenging and inventive of contemporary Irish writers exhibiting verbal brilliance formal complexity and intellectual daring across a remarkably varied body of work This study considers the full range of his oeuvre in poetry prose and translations and discusses the major themes to which he returns including memory and history narrative language and translation mapping violence and power It argues that the singularity of Carson s writing is to be found in his radical imaginative engagements with ideas of space and place The city of Belfast in particular occupies a crucially important place in his texts serving as an imaginative focal point around which his many other concerns are constellated The city in all its volatile mutability is an abiding frame of reference and a reservoir of creative impetus for Carson s imagination Accordingly the book adopts an interdisciplinary approach that draws upon geography urbanism and cultural theory as well as literary criticism It provides both a stimulating and thorough introduction to Carson s work and a flexible critical framework for exploring literary representations of space The Japanese Effect in Contemporary Irish Poetry Irene De Angelis, 2016-04-30 The Japanese Effect in Contemporary Irish Poetry provides a stimulating original and lively analysis of the Irish Japanese literary connection from the early 1960s to 2007 While for some

this may partly remain Oscar Wilde's mode of style this book will show that there is more of Japan in the work of contemporary Irish poets than a tinkling of china and tea into china Drawing on unpublished new sources Irene De Angelis includes poets from a broad range of cultural backgrounds with richly varied styles Seamus Heaney Derek Mahon Ciaran Carson and Paul Muldoon together with younger poets such as Sinéad Morrissey and Joseph Woods Including close readings of selected poems this is an indispensable companion for all those interested in the broader historical and cultural research on the effect of oriental literature in modernist and postmodernist Irish poetry Untranslatability Duncan Large, Motoko Akashi, Wanda Jóźwikowska, Emily Rose, 2018-07-27 This volume is the first of its kind to explore the notion of untranslatability from a wide variety of interdisciplinary perspectives and its implications within the broader context of translation studies Featuring contributions from both leading authorities and emerging scholars in the field the book looks to go beyond traditional comparisons of target texts and their sources to more rigorously investigate the myriad ways in which the term untranslatability is both conceptualized and applied The first half of the volume focuses on untranslatability as a theoretical or philosophical construct both to ground and extend the term's conceptual remit while the second half is composed of case studies in which the term is applied and contextualized in a diverse set of literary text types and genres including poetry philosophical works song lyrics memoir and scripture A final chapter examines untranslatability in the real world and the challenges it brings in practical contexts Extending the conversation in this burgeoning contemporary debate this volume is key reading for graduate students and researchers in translation studies comparative literature gender studies and philosophy of language The editors are grateful to the University of East Anglia Faculty of Arts and Humanities who supported the book with a publication grant Paul Muldoon and the Language of Poetry Ruben Moi, 2020-01-13 Paul Muldoon and the Language of Poetry is the first book in years that attends to the entire oeuvre of the Irish American poet critic lyricist dramatist and Princeton professor from his debut with New Weather in 1973 up to his very recent publications Ruben Moi's book explores in correspondence with language philosophy and critical debate how Muldoon's ingenious language and inventive form give shape and significance to his poetry and how his linguistic panache and technical verve keep language forever surprising new and alive
