Derivatives of Links: Milnor's Concordance Invariants and Massey's Products Tim D. Cochran, 1990

We investigate higher order cohomology operations Massey products on complements of links of circles in S^3 . These are known to be essentially equivalent to the lowercase Greek μ with macron invariants of John Milnor which detect whether or not the longitudes of the link lie in the n th term of the lower central series of the fundamental group of the link complement. We define a geometric derivative on the set of all links and use this to define higher order linking numbers which are shown to be pieces of Massey products.

Algebraic Invariants of Links Jonathan Arthur Hillman, 2012 This book serves as a reference on links and on the invariants derived via algebraic topology from covering spaces of link exteriors. It emphasizes the features of the multicomponent case not normally considered by knot theorists such as longitudes, the homological complexity of many variable Laurent polynomial rings, the fact that links are not usually boundary links, free coverings of homology boundary links, the lower central series as a source of invariants, nilpotent completion and algebraic closure of the link group and disc links. Invariants of the types considered here play an essential role in many applications of knot theory to other areas of topology. This second edition introduces two new chapters: OC_0 twisted polynomial invariants and singularities of plane curves. Each replaces brief sketches in the first edition. Chapter 2 has been reorganized and new material has been added to four other chapters.

Braid and Knot Theory in Dimension Four Seiichi Kamada, 2002 Braid theory and knot theory are related via two famous results due to Alexander and Markov. Alexander's theorem states that any knot or link can be put into braid form. Markov's theorem gives necessary and sufficient conditions to conclude that two braids represent the same knot or link. Thus one can use braid theory to study knot theory and vice versa. In this book the author generalizes braid theory to dimension four. He develops the theory of surface braids and applies it to study surface links. In particular the generalized Alexander and Markov theorems in dimension four are given. This book is the first to contain a complete proof of the generalized Markov theorem. Surface links are studied via the motion picture method and some important techniques of this method are studied. For surface braids various methods to describe them are introduced and developed: the motion picture method, the chart description, the braid monodromy and the braid system. These tools are fundamental to understanding and computing invariants of surface braids and surface links. Included is a table of knotted surfaces with a computation of Alexander polynomials. Braid techniques are extended to represent link homotopy classes. The book is geared toward a wide audience from graduate students to specialists. It would make a suitable text for a graduate course and a valuable resource for researchers.
