Hopes and Fears for Art (1882) William Morris, 2016-04-03 This early work by William Morris was originally published in 1899 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography William Morris 1834 1896 was born in London England Arguably best known as a textile designer he founded a design partnership which deeply influenced the decoration of churches and homes during the early 20th century However he is also considered an important Romantic writer and pioneer of the modern fantasy genre being a direct influence on authors such as J R R Tolkien As well as fiction Morris penned poetry and essays Hopes and Fears for Art* William Morris, 2023-02-11 Reproduction of the original Art and Fear Paul Virilio, 2010-07-15 Paul Virilio is one of contemporary Continental thought's most original and provocative critical voices His vision of the impact of modern technology on the contemporary global condition is powerful and disturbing ranging over art science politics and warfare In Art and Fear Paul Virilio traces the twin development of art and science over the twentieth century In his provocative and challenging vision art and science vie with each other for the destruction of the human form as we know it He traces the connections between the way early twentieth century avant garde artists twisted and tortured the human form before making it vanish in abstraction and the blasting to bits of men who were no more than cannon fodder in the trenches of the Great War and between the German Expressionists' hate filled portraits of the damned and the medical experiments of the Nazi eugenicists and between the mangled messages of global advertising and the organisation of global terrorism Now at the start of the twenty first century science has finally left art behind as genetic engineers prepare to turn themselves into the worst of expressionists with the human being the raw material for new and monstrous forms of life Art and Fear is essential reading for anyone wondering where art has gone and where science is taking us

Fear and Art in the Contemporary World Caterina Albano, 2012 This title provides an illustrated exploration of fear in contemporary art The book identifies many manifestations of fear in art from body terror and contagion to trauma and phobias feelings of dislocation displacement and alienation narratives of guilt and shame virtual fear and fear as entertainment

Civilisation and Fear Wojciech Kalaga, Agnieszka Kliś, 2012-03-15 Paradoxically if nature has always been a source of fear civilisation its other and at the same time the epitome of progress and order has not only doubled fear itself but also added its new sister anxiety In effect the notions of civilisation fear and anxiety can hardly be separated Fear either linked with anxiety or distinct from it lies at the foundation of civilisation which as much promises to shelter us from these afflictions as it does proliferate them Confronted no longer with the adversary powers of nature humans have to face now the adversary powers produced by their own endeavours and ideologies Each effort aimed at attaining an equilibrium results in new unexpected rifts and breaches into which fear and anxiety grow Out of the games played between fear and civilisation there emerge new versions of the human subject homo anxious homo civilis homo rationalis This volume represents a collection of papers devoted to the many various relations between fear and society culture and civilisation both Western and Eastern contemporary and past The articles collected here approach the relationship of civilisation fear anxiety and the subject from multiple perspectives Relating to modern critical thought including that of Kant Freud Derrida Kierkegaard and Heidegger they investigate the objects causes and effects of fear reality nature reason libidinal excess atheism critical discourse technological advances conspiracy terrorism capital punishment the diversity of cultures and the breakdown of civilisation as a whole most of all however they explore the various shades of fear itself

Against Value in the Arts and Education Sam Ladkin, Robert McKay, Emile Bojesen, 2016-05-18 Against Value in the Arts and Education proposes that it is often the staunchest defenders of art who do it the most harm by suppressing or mollifying its dissenting voice by neutralizing its painful truths and by instrumentalizing its ambivalence The result is that rather than expanding the autonomy of thought and feeling of the artist and the audience art's defenders make art self satisfied or otherwise an echo chamber for the limited and limiting self description of people's lives lived in an audit culture a culture pervaded by the direct and indirect excrescence of practices of accountability This book diagnoses the counter intuitive effects of the rhetoric of value It posits that the auditing of values pervades the fabric of people's work lives their education and increasingly their everyday experience The book uncovers figures of resentment disenchantment and alienation fostered by the dogma of value It argues instead that value judgments can behave insidiously and incorporate aesthetic ethical or ideological values fundamentally opposed to the value they purportedly name and describe The collection contains contributions from leading scholars in the UK and US with contributions from anthropology the history of art literature education musicology political science and philosophy
