Studies in Crime and Law Enforcement in Major Metropolitan Areas: Measurement of the nature and amount of crime. Public perceptions and recollections about crime, law enforcement, and criminal justice Albert J. Reiss, 1967 V 1 Section I

This report looks at the current systems of crime reporting contain some misconceptions about simple rates such as a crude crime rate. Proposals made for more specific measures of crime on the need to identify the exposed population for which crime rates are calculated, the desirability of obtaining specific rates for both victims and offenders and the need for developing statistical programs that provide information for the calculation of such rates are discussed. Statistics are given by way of illustration.

Criminals in the Making John Paul Wright, Stephen G. Tibbetts, Leah E. Daigle, 2008-05-16 This wide reaching text explores the origins and development of criminality from birth to adulthood.

Of Crime and Criminality Sally Simpson, 2000-02-15 This collection of original essays is an innovative effective way to teach crime theory to undergraduates. Each essay brings an important crime theory to life by applying that theory to a current crime event or topic of interest to students. An original introductory essay by Don Gibbons explains the origins of these different explanations for criminal behavior and how they are similar to and different from one another.
