Arquivos do Centro cultural Calouste Gulbenkian, 1998 Being Portuguese in Spanish Jonathan William

Wade, 2020-04-15 Among the many consequences of Spain's annexation of Portugal from 1580 to 1640 was an increase in the number of Portuguese authors writing in Spanish. One can trace this practice as far back as the medieval period although it was through Gil Vicente, Jorge de Montemayor and others that Spanish language texts entered the mainstream of literary expression in Portugal. Proficiency in both languages gave Portuguese authors increased mobility throughout the empire. For those with literary aspirations, Spanish offered more opportunities to publish and greater readership, which may be why it is nearly impossible to find a Portuguese author who did not participate in this trend during the dual monarchy. Over the centuries, these authors and their works have been erroneously defined in terms of economic opportunism, questions of language loyalty and other reductive categories. Within this large group, however, is a subcategory of authors who used their writings in Spanish to imagine, explore and celebrate their Portuguese heritage. Manuel de Faria e Sousa, ngela de Azevedo, Jacinto Cordeiro, Antnio de Sousa de Macedo and Violante do C u among many others offer a uniform yet complex answer to what it means to be from Portugal, constructing and claiming their Portuguese identity from within a Castilianized existence. Whereas all texts produced in Iberia during the early modern period reflect the distinct social, political and cultural realities sweeping across the peninsula, to some degree, Portuguese literature written in Spanish offers a unique vantage point from which to see these converging landscapes. Being Portuguese in Spanish explores the cultural cross-pollination that defined the era and reappraises a body of works that uniquely addresses the intersection of language, literature, politics and identity.

The First World Empire Hélder Carvalho, André Murteira, Roger Lee de Jesus, 2021-04-05 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the early modern military history of Portugal and its possessions in Africa, the Americas and Asia from the perspective of the military revolution historiographical debate. The existence of a military revolution in the early modern period has been much debated in international historiography and this volume fills a significant gap in its relation to the history of Portugal and its overseas empire. It examines different forms of military change in specifically Portuguese case studies but also adopts a global perspective through the analysis of different contexts and episodes in Africa, the Americas and Asia. Contributors explore whether there is evidence of what could be defined as aspects of a military revolution or whether other explanatory models are needed to account for different forms of military change. In this way, it offers the reader a variety of perspectives that contribute to the debate over the applicability of the military revolution concept to Portugal and its empire during the early modern period. Broken down into four thematic parts and broad in both chronological and geographical scope, the book deepens our understanding of the art of warfare in Portugal and its empire and demonstrates how the military revolution debate can be used to examine military change in a global perspective. This is an essential text for scholars and students of military history, military architecture, global history, Asian history and the history of Iberian empires Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula César Domínguez, Anxo Abuín González, Ellen Sapega, 2016-10-20 Volume 2 of A Comparative History of Literatures in the Iberian Peninsula brings to an end this collective work that aims at surveying the network of interliterary relations in the Iberian Peninsula. No attempt at such a comparative history of literatures in the Iberian Peninsula has been made until now. In this volume the focus is placed on images, Section 1; genres, Section 2; forms of mediation, Section 3; and cultural studies and literary repertoires, Section 4. To these four sections an epilogue is added in which specialists in literatures in the Iberian Peninsula as well as in the sub-disciplines of comparative history and comparative literary history search for links between Volumes 1 and 2 from the point of view of general contributions to the field of Iberian comparative studies and assess the entire project that now reaches completion with contributions from almost one hundred scholars.

Writing the Mughal World Muzaffar Alam, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, 2011-08-30 Between the mid-sixteenth and early nineteenth century the Mughal Empire was an Indo-Islamic dynasty that ruled as far as Bengal in the east and Kabul in the west as high as Kashmir in the north and the Kaveri basin in the south. The Mughals constructed a sophisticated complex system of government that facilitated an era of profound artistic and architectural achievement. They promoted the place of Persian culture in Indian society and set the groundwork for South Asia's future development. In this volume two leading historians of early modern South Asia present nine major joint essays on the Mughal Empire framed by an essential introductory reflection. Making creative use of materials written in Persian, Indian vernacular languages and a variety of European languages, their chapters accomplish the most significant innovations in Mughal historiography in decades, intertwining political, cultural and commercial themes while exploring diplomacy, state formation, history writing, religious debate and political thought. Muzaffar Alam and Sanjay Subrahmanyam center on confrontations between different source materials that they then reconcile, enabling readers to participate in both the debate and resolution of competing claims. Their introduction discusses the comparative and historiographical approach of their work and its place within the literature on Mughal rule. Interdisciplinary and cutting edge, this volume richly expands research on the Mughal state, early modern South Asia and the comparative history of the Mughal, Ottoman, Safavid and other early modern empires.

Dreams of Waking Vincent Barletta, Mark L. Bajus, Cici Malik, 2022-12-22 In this anthology Vincent Barletta, Mark L. Bajus and Cici Malik treat the Iberian lyric in the late Middle Ages and early modernity as a deeply multilingual transnational genre that needs to break away from the old essentialist ideas about language, geography and identity in order to be understood properly. More and more scholars and students are recognizing the limitations of single language, nationalist and period-bound canons and are looking for different ways to approach the study of literature. The Iberian Peninsula is an excellent site for this approach where the history and politics of the region along with its creative literature need to be read and studied.

together with the way the works were composed by poets and eventually consumed by readers With a generous selection of more than one hundred poems from thirty three poets Dreams of Waking is unique in its coverage of the three main languages Catalan Portuguese and Spanish and lyrical styles employed by peninsular poets It contains new translations of canonical poems but also translations of many poems that have never before been edited or translated Brief headnotes provide essential details of the poets lives and a general introduction by the volume editors shows how the poems and languages fruitfully intersect With helpful annotations to the poetry as well as a selected bibliography containing the most important editions and translations from all three of the main Iberian languages this volume will be an indispensable tool for both specialists and students in comparative literature

French Primitivism and the Ends of Empire, 1945-1975

Daniel J. Sherman, 2011-11-15 For over a century the idea of primitivism has motivated artistic modernism Focusing on the three decades after World War II known in France as les trentes glorieuses despite the loss of most of the country's colonial empire this probing and expansive book argues that primitivism played a key role in a French society marked by both economic growth and political turmoil In a series of chapters that consider significant aspects of French culture including the creation of new museums of French folklore and of African and Oceanic arts and the development of tourism against the backdrop of nuclear testing in French Polynesia Daniel J. Sherman shows how primitivism a collective fantasy born of the colonial encounter proved adaptable to a postcolonial inward looking age of mass consumption Following the likes of Claude L. vi Strauss Andr e Putman and Jean Dubuffet through decorating magazines museum galleries and Tahiti's pristine lagoons this interdisciplinary study provides a new perspective on primitivism as a cultural phenomenon and offers fresh insights into the eccentric edges of contemporary French history

The Ottoman Age of Exploration Giancarlo Casale, 2010-02-25

In 1517 the Ottoman Sultan Selim the Grim conquered Egypt and brought his empire for the first time in history into direct contact with the trading world of the Indian Ocean During the decades that followed the Ottomans became progressively more engaged in the affairs of this vast and previously unfamiliar region eventually to the point of launching a systematic ideological military and commercial challenge to the Portuguese Empire their main rival for control of the lucrative trade routes of maritime Asia The Ottoman Age of Exploration is the first comprehensive historical account of this century long struggle for global dominance a struggle that raged from the shores of the Mediterranean to the Straits of Malacca and from the interior of Africa to the steppes of Central Asia Based on extensive research in the archives of Turkey and Portugal as well as materials written on three continents and in a half dozen languages it presents an unprecedented picture of the global reach of the Ottoman state during the sixteenth century It does so through a dramatic recounting of the lives of sultans and viziers spies corsairs soldiers of fortune and women from the imperial harem Challenging traditional narratives of Western dominance it argues that the Ottomans were not only active participants in the Age of Exploration but ultimately bested the Portuguese in the game of global politics by using sea power dynastic prestige and commercial savoir faire to create their own imperial dominion throughout the Indian Ocean Strangers Within Francisco Bethencourt, 2024-03-26

The New Christians largely former Jews and Muslims who were forced to convert to Christianity in the 16th and 17th centuries were both a persecuted group as well as an international elite and their story argues Francisco Bethencourt offers a fascinating and indispensable view into the period and the making of a global economy In what is intended to be an authoritative and innovative book the author will recount how the New Christians were a major force in structuring the Atlantic economy and reconstruct their involvement in trading system which ran from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean Their hybrid religious allegiances situated as they were primarily between Judaism and Christianity provide a unique case of cosmopolitanism in various parts of the world New Christian business practices forms of organisation and codes of behaviour linked intercontinental networks to local agencies Their ability to resist religious persecution implied alliances at the highest levels of the Catholic Church and the Iberian monarchies This book will provide entirely new perspectives for our understanding of cosmopolitanism religious allegiances political alliances and business history The New Christian trading elite has been studied in a fragmentary way compartmentalised in time and space but it has never been the subject of comprehensive research over the long term from the forced conversion of the Jews in Portugal in 1497 to the abolition of the distinction between New Christians and Old Christians in Portugal in 1773 spanning connections between Europe Africa Asia and the New World Theorising the Ibero-American Atlantic , 2013-10-02

Theorising the Ibero American Atlantic offers a fresh look at the Atlantic turn in Ibero American Studies Taking the criticisms launched at Atlantic Studies as a starting point contributors query and explore the viability of the Ibero American Atlantic as a framework of research Their essays take stock of theories methodologies debates and trends in recent scholarship and set down pathways for future research As a result the contributions in this volume establish the historical reality of the Ibero American Atlantic as well as its tremendous value for scholarship Contributors are Vanda Anastasio Francisco Bethencourt Harald E Braun David Brookshaw Jorge Caizares Esguerra Daniela Flesler Andrew Ginger Eliga Gould David Graizbord Thomas Harrington Luis Mart n Cabrera Jos C Moya Mauricio Nieto Olarte Joan Ramon Resina N Michelle Shepherd Lisa Vollendorf and Grady C Wray
