Art History Its Use And Abuse:

Art History W. McAllister Johnson, 1990-01-01 These essays discuss major questions that should arise in courses in bibliography methodology and historiography once the survey courses are left behind Navigating World History P. Manning, 2003-05-15 World history has expanded dramatically in recent years primarily as a teaching field and increasingly as a research field Growing numbers of teachers and Ph Ds in history are required to teach the subject They must be current on topics from human evolution to industrial development in Song dynasty China to today s disease patterns and then link these disparate topics into a coherent course Numerous textbooks in print and in preparation summarize the field of world history at an introductory level But good teaching also requires advanced training for teachers and access to a stream of new research from scholars trained as world historians In this book Patrick Manning provides the first comprehensive overview of the academic field of world history He reviews patterns of research and debate and proposes guidelines for study by teachers and by researchers in world history Twelve Views of Manet's Bar Bradford Collins, 2021-01-12 Bradford Collins has assembled here a collection of twelve essays that demonstrates through the interpretation of a single work of art the abundance and complexity of methodological approaches now available to art historians Focusing on Manet s A Bar at the Folies Berg re each contributor applies to it a different methodology ranging from the more traditional to the newer including feminism Marxism Lacanian psychoanalysis and semiotics By demonstrating the ways that individual practitioners actually apply the various methodological insights that inform their research Twelve Views of Manet's Bar serves as an excellent introduction to critical methodology as well as a provocative overview for those already familiar with the current discourse of art history In the process of gaining new insight into Manet s work and into the discourse of methodology one discovers that it is not only the individual painting but art history itself that is under investigation An introduction by Richard Schiff sets the background with a brief history of Manet scholarship and suggestions as to why today s accounts have taken certain distinct directions The contributors selected to provide a broad and balanced range of methodological approaches include Carol Armstrong Albert Boime David Carrier Kermit Champa Bradford R Collins Michael Paul Driskel Jack Flam Tag Gronberg James D Herbert John House Steven Z Levine and Griselda Pollock Useful Knowledge Alexander G. Bearn, American Philosophical Society, 1999 Useful Knowledge What will it be for the next millennium In five symposia members of the American Philosophical Soc asked this question in April 1999 at the Society s Millennium Meet Contents 1 Math Our Concepts of the Cosmos Progress Prospects Math Global Warming Does Science Matter 2 Biological Sci Scientists Cancer The Revolution Wiring the Brain Dynamic Interplay between Nature 3 Social Sci Nat Sovereignty Econ Becomes a Science Or Does It 4 Humanities Art More Than One Millennium The Perennial Return of the History of Religions Race Health Care in a Democratic Soc Culture Democracy in America Illus Our Beautiful, Dry, and Distant Texts James Elkins, 2010-11-01 Elkins argues that writing is what art historians produce and whether such writing is a transparent vehicle for the transmission of facts or an embattled forum for the rehearsal of institutional relations and constructions of history it is an expressive medium with the capacity for emotion and reflection Therefore it needs to be taken seriously for its own sake it is the testament of art history and of individual historians and it is only weakened and slighted by versions of history that imagine it either as uncontrolled dissemination or as objective discovery and reporting

Reading Medieval Images Elizabeth Sears, Thelma K. Thomas, 2002 What is it that art historians do when they approach works of art What kind of language do they use to describe what they see How do they construct arguments using visual evidence What sorts of arguments do they make In this unusual anthology eighteen prominent art historians specializing in the medieval field European Byzantine and Islamic provide answers to these fundamental questions not directly but by way of example Each author responding to invitation has chosen for study a single image or object and has submitted it to sustained analysis The collection of essays accompanied by statements on methodology by the editors offers an accessible introduction to current art historical practice Elizabeth L. Sears is Associate Professor of the History of Art University of Michigan Thelma K. Thomas is Associate Professor of the History of Art and Associate Curator of the Kelsey Museum University of Michigan

Art History and Education Stephen Addiss, Mary Erickson, 1993 Guided by Stephen Addiss's grounding in art history scholarship and Mary Erickson's expertise in art education theory and practice this volume approaches the issue of teaching art history from theoretical and philosophical as well as practical and political standpoints In the first section Addiss raises issues about the discipline of art history In the second Erickson examines proposals about how art history can be incorporated into the general education of children and offers some curriculum guides and lesson plans for art educators

Why Are Our Pictures Puzzles? James Elkins, 2004-11-23 With bracing clarity James Elkins explores why images are taken to be more intricate and hard to describe in the twentieth century than they had been in any previous century Why Are Our Pictures Puzzles uses three models to understand the kinds of complex meaning that pictures are thought to possess the affinity between the meanings of paintings and jigsaw puzzles the contemporary interest in ambiguity and levels of meaning and the penchant many have to interpret pictures by finding images hidden within them Elkins explores a wide variety of examples from the figures hidden in Renaissance paintings to Salvador Dali's paranoiac meditations on Millet's Angelus from Persian miniature paintings to jigsaw puzzles He also examines some of the most vexed works in history including Watteau's meaningless paintings Michelangelo's Sistine Ceiling and Leonardo's Last Supper
